Take Your Pick

Ida M. Pardue

For two players, color ten toothpicks with one color crayon, and do ten more in another color. Put them in a sack and shake well.

One player starts by naming either of the colors out loud, then, without looking, takes one from the sack. If it's the color he named, he keeps it and reaches again. If it's the other color, it goes back in the sack and the other player takes a turn. The game goes on till the sack is empty, and the one with the most toothpicks wins! Use more colors if more are playing.
