St. Mary's Students Back from Audition

The Shadows, six students from St. Mary's school who sing popular music to guitar accompaniment, were in Portland over the week end for auditions at the Northwest Recording studio. The boys also sang on Uncle Nat Cohn's "Stars of Tomorrow" television show on KPTV Sunday afternoon.

The group, which won a statewide amateur contest at the Oregon State Fair last September, is made up of Dave Mansfield, Tom Newcomb, Paul and Bill Smith, Rick Carrara and Mike Feiss. The Smith brothers play guitars. Dick Lamont accompanied the six singers to Portland, and reports that the audition went well. Tapes were sent to Los Angeles where a decision will be made on further recordings.

Tonight the six will rehearse and play tapes of the audition made for their use. Mrs. A. Carrara, mother of Rick, manages the group. The audition was arranged and sponsored by the Earl Heims and Associates, Portland advertising agency. The Star Furniture company of Portland sponsors the "Stars of Tomorrow" show.

Neuberger Seeks College Student

Portland – The yearly search for an outstanding young man or woman to serve for one year, beginning Sept. 1, in the Washington office of Sen. Richard L. Neuberger is now going on in the colleges of Oregon. The search is made because Neuberger wishes to encourage superior students to enter the field of government. He offers each year to an Oregon graduate who has demonstrated high ability and a sincere interest in the problems of government an appointment as research intern for one year to his staff at a salary of $4,160.38.

Neuberger has appointed a selection committee of which Dr. John Swarthout, Dean of Portland State College, is chairman. Other members are J. W. Forrester Jr., editor, Pendleton East Oregonian; Miss May Darling, member of the state board of education; and Father David H. Fosselman, University of Portland.

Candidates for the position are nominated by the political science departments of Oregon colleges and universities. Application to them should be made by interested students who are of senior rating or in graduate study in those schools, or by recent graduates.

Group Organizing Awaits Legal Study

Establishing a county parks and recreation commission is pending a study of legal problems involved by the district attorney's office, according to County Judge Earl Miller.

The Jackson county planning commission on Jan. 14 recommended to the county court that a separate parks and recreation commission be established. The recommendation followed a suggestion by the county judge who said such a group is needed to handle the rapidly expanding parks and recreation program expected in the county. The planning commission now has a subcommittee for parks and recreation.

If established the parks and recreation commission would have its proposed parks and recreation sites screened by the county planning commission and final approval would be given by the county court.

Two Injured in Auto Accidents, One Driver Held

Two persons were injured in auto accidents during the week end, state police reported today.

Leon Small, 16, of route 3, box 240, Medford, suffered a head cut and bitten tongue when his car apparently missed the turn near the intersection of Payne and Fern Valley rds. and went into a ditch, state police said.

Small was taken to Rogue Valley hospital by Medford ambulance following the Sunday accident. It was reported that he was treated and released.

Ivan Harold Elder, 19, of route 2, box 245, Central Point, was taken to Sacred Heart hospital by Medford ambulance Sunday following a head-on collision at the intersection of Table Rock and Kirtland rds., police said. Elder, who is reported in fair condition, is being treated for a possible slight concussion, hospital attendants said.

Drivers Lodged

The driver of the other car, Robert Stanley Chase, 32, of route 2, box 668B, Central Point, is being held in the county jail on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, state police said.

The car driven by Chase was apparently east bound on Kirtland rd. and made a right turn onto Table Rock rd., police said, when it struck the Elder car head-on. Both cars were damaged beyond repair. Chase was not injured, officers said.

Saturday, Arnold Ray Petersen, 16, of Trail, escaped injury when the car he was driving went off a bridge over Flat creek and landed on its wheels in hood-deep water. Petersen was cited for violation of the basic rule, state police said.

The Petersen car was apparently travelling on Elk Creek rd. when it struck the Flat creek bridge railing, taking out 20 feet of railing, state police said.

Stock Leaders Move In Narrow Field

New York – (UPI) – Leading stocks moved narrowly today while issues outside the group used to calculate the averages registered gains running above four points.

There were some wide losers too, but a majority of shares apeared to favor the upside. The autos held in a narrow rut beset by diverse reports on automobile production which found Ford boosting its output, Buick cutting back, and Chrysler still bogged down by a strike which was cutting off its supply of glass.

The oils presented a good showing for a time but turned irregular later when Richfield plunged six points on declaration of only the usual dividend when something better was anticipated.
