

Accountant Lacks Reports From Beck

Tacoma, Wash. (UP)—Carl Houston, a certified public accountant who aided in making out Dave Beck's income tax returns, testified Monday he and his associates did not even yet have all the details on Beck's assets and liabilities.

Houston, who assisted Ludwig Lobe in computing Beck's returns from 1950-1954, made the statement at the former tax evader's trial here. Beck is charged with evading $240,000 in income taxes from 1950 to 1953.

Lobe testified earlier that Beck refused to give him information on loans and expense accounts while the returns were being made up. The trial continued today.

More than one-third of the nation's total lumber supply comes from the three Pacific coast states of Washington, Oregon and California.

The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic

More Mail Difficulties

Many persons say, "Send me an ointment for 'eczema.'"

In the first place, eczema can mean anything to a layman, and in the second place, the treatment of skin diseases is often a long and ticklish business.

The doctor needs first choosing a treatment and then in modifying it from week to week until the inflammation clears up.

Often he has to do much detective work before he can find the cause of an inflammation of the skin.

Many persons ask me, first, to guess if they have glaucoma, a disease which might, if present, cause blindness.

Then they want me to tell them how to treat it. Naturally, I say, "Run quickly to an ophthalmologist who can measure the tension of the globe of your eyes and can then tell you whether or not you have glaucoma. It would be criminal of me to treat eyes by mail.

I know, of course, how hard it is for a person on a lonely ranch or in a mountain village to find a competent specialist; I sympathize deeply with such people and it hurts me when I cannot even try to help them, but often I just cannot. Incidentally, I devoutly wish that all persons living in a small town, when they ask me to give them the name of a city specialist would tell me what their nearest big city is. Here, for instance, comes a letter from a nice woman in what is evidently a small town in California, asking for an eye specialist for her little boy who is holding his book a few inches from his eyes. Unless I go searching through my atlas, I can't guess whether to pick for the boy a doctor in Dunsmuir, Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles, or San Diego.

People whom I must fail to help are those many who write and say, "Send me everything known on hardening of the arteries, heart disease, anemia, indigestion, or bladder trouble." I once wrote a big thick book on just a few phases of indigestion, and it took me many years to do it.

Saddening are the many letters I get from people who say: "My doctor told me I have emphysema. I asked him to tell me all about it; how bad it is, what will it do to me; will it kill me; and if so, in how long a time?" But before I could get all my questions out of me, he showed me the door. He said he had no time in which to write me a book. Now you write and tell me all about emphysema."

Unfortunately, I am terribly busy too—so busy I cannot take much of my day off to answer all those questions. I hope, during the next year, to prepare a number of booklets on the commoner diseases which will be distributed through my column. Perhaps these will help.

President Slates Breakfast Meetings

Washington (UP)—President Eisenhower will make use of breakfast to improve cooperation between his administration and Republican congressmen.

The White House announced the President would hold a series of three breakfast meetings and ranking GOP committee members of both House and Senate and with the 19 new Republican members of the House.

These get-togethers will be in addition to a dinner Thursday night at which the House Republican Policy committee will discuss closer legislative cooperation with eight Cabinet officers and 10 top White House aides.

Oregon Guardsmen May Retain Beards

Salem (UP)—The beards of Oregon National Guardsmen may stay on after all.

The National Guard Bureau in Washington, D. C., indicated Monday it had no objections to Guardsmen growing beards for the Oregon Centennial.

Earlier, Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea had ordered guardsmen to keep clean shaven in line with general military policy. State Sen. Monroe Sweetland objected and went to Gov. Mark Hatfield Monday.

Hatfield asked Washington, D. C. for an opinion.

Hatfield was expected to confer today with Carl Cover, assistant Oregon adjutant general. Gen. Rilea is hospitalized in Portland.

A covered-dish supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. and those attending are to take a hot dish and salad or dessert, and their own table service.

The occasion is in keeping with the program of Methodism throughout the United States to make Methodists more aware of church extension needs in that area. Colored firms of Alaska will be shown after supper and an offering will be taken for Alaska Home Missions program.

The public is invited to attend.

Ashland Man Plans Suit Against County

Jack E. Malone, Crowson rd., Ashland, has notified the county court through his attorney, Bruce J. Manley, that he intends to file suit for $2,000 against the county as result of a water drainage problem in his area.

The complaint involves a water drain from a roadside ditch which the county reportedly cleaned December, 1958.

A suit also has been filed against the county by Robert T. Hutchison, Medford, who is seeking $750 in damages and $600 in attorney's fees and costs as a result of a car accident July 13, 1958, on the Dead Indian rd., about 12.3 miles east of Dead Indian and Highway 66 junction.

Hutchison charges that his car hit a ridge on the road about a foot high on the edge of a sunken portion of the blacktop road surfacing. He charges the county was negligent in allowing the bump and hole to remain, failing to give warning, and failing to repair the county road.

Hollywood (UP)—Private funeral services were pending today for Gilbert Martyn, 53, veteran newsman credited with being the first newscaster on television.
