TRYOUTS

for MEDFORD FOOTLIGHTERS winter production "The Tender Trap," will be held at the Theatre behind the Armory, TONIGHT and Wednesday Night, Jan. 27 & 28, at 7:30 P.M. All interested are cordially invited.

FORCING 10,000 PERSONS TO FLEE their homes, flood waters inundate a broad expanse of Chillicothe, Ohio. Aerial cameraman snapped this dramatic shot of dwellings, public buildings, streets, all virtually deserted. Mt. Logan public school swamped by raging Scioto River shown near center; a drive-in theater was in lower left.

Pressure Slowly Stamping Out Moonshiners, Service Claims

Washington - (Science Service) - The Internal Revenue Service here has bad news for the nation's thousands of moonshiners. Continuing Federal pressure is slowly stamping out illegal whisky making.

Revenue agents in fiscal 1958 put 9,272 stills out of business. This compares with 11,820 in 1957, and 14,499 in 1956.

The drop in seizures reflects a drop in moonshining, reasons Thomas Bailey, chief of IRS's enforcement branch of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax division. Still-hunting "revenooers" are just as numerous and hard-working as ever, he said.

Should Beware - Bailey said the public should beware of moonshine for health reasons. "Frequently," he said, "we find dead skunks, possums and rats in the mash from which the whisky is made."

Illegal booze might also contain wood alcohol (methanol) which can blind and kill its victims. In 1958, there were 27 known deaths in New York City traced to the illegal making and sale of 30 gallons of whisky containing wood alcohol. Many others were seriously injured.

The worst case of poisoning on record occurred in Atlanta in the early 1950's when about 40 persons died from drinking whisky made with wood alcohol.

Bailey attributes the steady drop in still seizures to the work of his department in putting the "major" violators out of business.

Biggest Problem - Despite this, he said the seven southern states—North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida—still present the biggest problem.

It is roughly estimated that more than 10 per cent of the population in these states drink moonshine. He mentioned Virginia, Kentucky and southern West Virginia as posing other problem areas.

Around New York, New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania, IRS men are combating a "syndicated mob" which makes 180-to-190-proof alcohol for speakeasies. This is cut to about 80-proof for drinking.

Despite advanced technology, stills today are about the same as 20 years ago, Bailey said. East Coast mobsters favor column stills for alcohol making, but the old pot-type still retains its traditional role in the South.

Anyone can operate a still, provided it is registered with IRS. All stills must be registered, even water stills which IRS considers capable of making whisky.

White House Should Take Responsibility For Stimulating Engineering Manpower

Washington - (Science Service) - A Presidential committee has advised the White House to assume responsibility for coordinating and stimulating the development and utilization of the nation's scientific and engineering manpower.

In releasing its report, the President's committee on scientists and Engineers made two additional recommendations:

1. Key programs developed by the committee should be continued as being of vital importance to the further development of manpower potential.

2. A committee of Cabinet members should examine the problem and recommend to the President a suitable White House organization to assume the responsibility for the program.

The President's committee was organized in 1956 to stimulate non-federal activity and to develop an effective, integrated approach among the many organizations concerned with technological manpower.

'Unmistakable Evidence' - In a letter to President Eisenhower, Committee Chairman Howard L. Bevis cited the "unmistakable evidence" that the Soviet Union is "making an all-out effort to profit from the scientific revolution" as are the leaders of Communist China.

He emphasized that our scientific and technological manpower have been intensified rather than diminished in the two years. Dr. Bevis, president emeritus of Ohio State university, added that this is why the committee "strongly recommends" the Chief Executive's office to take action.

Some of the moves already undertaken by the committee are:

1. A program for the conservation and effective use of existing supplies of scientists and engineers in cooperation with industry, universities and professional societies.

2. The organization of local and state groups to work toward improvement of primary and secondary education with emphasis on science and mathematics.

3. A wider public understanding of the vital need for highly qualified scientists, engineers and supporting technicians and wider recognition of the fact that development of these skilled people depends largely on the effectiveness of the educational system.

Industrials Rally On Stock Market

New York - (UPI) - Industrial shares rallied on the stock market today while other major sections held within a short distance of the previous close.

Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube called off their merger plans because they did not want to go through prolonged litigation. Youngstown's first reaction was a drop of four points from its high. It rallied from the low late in the session. Bethlehem held just under Monday's close. Other steels balanced off small gains and losses.

Cerro de Pasco moved up and other coppers ruled firm on a rise in copper prices in London. The latter reflected fears of a strike in Anaconda Mines in Chile.

the Silver Hawk by STUDEBAKER

Sporting style - dinner jacket dash

None other like it in the world. Delightful dual personality. Lithe, lean, yet luxurious. Charming continental with an American accent. Loves to be driven just for the fun of it. Obligingly practical on shopping trips. Seats five in the lap of comfort and safety. Ready response to the twist of a wrist. Torrents of torque at the tap of a toe. Stops with alacrity, too; large brakes turn the trick. This is the Silver Hawk. It's Studebaker's wonderful way to make motoring a sport. It's Studebaker's daring design for persons who would rather not run with the crowd.

$2360 with "6". Only $2495 with V-8. Transportation, local taxes, and optional extras plainly labeled on every car.
