By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Washington—Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command, on placing a fleet of bombers in the air constantly to retaliate against possible enemy attack:
"I'd like to put one up there. I'd like to see one as soon as possible."

Newark, N.J.—A 14-year-old boy, on why he set fire to a 1,600-pupil grammar school:
"I did it to get even with teachers who have been picking on me."

Chicago—Free-lance diver Frank Hefling, 55, on being trapped more than 5½ hours in a water tunnel 70 feet underwater:
"I was wet up to my neck from water inside my suit. I could have drowned in my own suit."

Jacksonville, Fla.—Disc jockey Dave Hunter, after 225 consecutive hours without sleep:
"I'm glad to get this thing over with. It has really been a horrible experience. It was just a nine-day period of wanting desperately to get some sleep."

House Bill Repeals Act for Trustees Of McLoughlin House

Salem—(UPI)—A bill was introduced in the Oregon House Thursday to repeal a long-forgotten 1911 act under which the governor is instructed to appoint three trustees for the home of Dr. John McLoughlin in Oregon City.

Rep. Juanita Orr (D-Lake Grove) said:

"This act has not been followed for more than 25 years and during that time McLoughlin House has been restored and care for by the dedicated efforts of private citizens on grounds furnished by the city of Oregon City."

Stream of Calls
Members of the Clackamas county delegation said they had been receiving a constant stream of calls and letters since Gov. Mark Hatfield recommended in his inaugural address that the McLoughlin home board of trustees be abolished and its duties transferred to the Oregon Historical Society.

Rep. Orr said that her constituents cannot understand why the recommendation was made and say they were not consulted about the governor's decision.

The bill would make it possible for the McLoughlin home to continue to be supported by private citizens.

Contest in Schools
The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill providing for a contest in public schools to select and appropriate slogan for use on Oregon license plates.

Rep. George Annala (D-Hood River) moved that the word "public" be deleted so that parochial schools would be included, but the motion lost when Rep. Keith Skelton (D-Eugene) objected.

The bill provides for a com-
