Dulles Decries Double Standard In United Nations

Secretary to Fly To Europe Tuesday

New York — (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said last night that Soviet pressure on Berlin showed the Communists "never honestly accepted" rules of justice and law and that this eventually might wreck the United Nations.

Dulles renewed condemnation of Soviet actions with regard to Berlin and Germany came in an address to the New York state bar association which presented him its gold medal award.

The speech followed a State Department announcement in Washington that Dulles would fly to Europe Tuesday amid reliable reports of Western differences on the timing of a Big-Four conference on the Berlin crisis and European security.

The announcement said the trip did "not reflect any emergency." But officials reported that France and West Germany were urging a go-slow approach to a four-power conference.

In his speech here Dulles laid down a three-point program which he said would "promote a fuller recognition of the rule of justice and law in international affairs."

He said there was a need for more condemnation and less tolerance of the double standard in the United Nations "which has been created by the actions and activities of the nations of the Soviet bloc."

"I say in all seriousness that the United Nations and the world can, perhaps, survive a limited phase of the double standard," he said. "But they cannot survive a permanent double standard."

Hearing Slated On Highway Land Acquisition Policy

Duncan's Complaint To Result in Study

Salem — The House committee on highways has scheduled a hearing at 3 p.m. Tuesday Feb. 10, here on right-of-way problems in relation to the state highway commission, according to Verne N. Cady, representative from Grant county, and chairman of the committee.

The hearing was called after Robert B. Duncan, Medford, speaker of the house, recommended and requested a hearing on policies of the highway commission in acquiring land rights-of-way for highways.

Duncan, in a letter to Cady last month, said citizens "of Jackson and Josephine counties have expressed to me considerable dissatisfaction with the land acquisition policy of the state highway commission, and particularly their techniques and tactics in acquiring land for the relocated Highway 99 in the area near Rogue River."

He asked for a hearing "to determine the extent of the problem and whether legislation is needed to solve it."

Cady said the committee would appreciate a hearing from those desiring to be heard on the subject. Interested persons may contact the committee clerk, Ellen Scheidel, room 325, State Capitol building, Salem, concerning the specific topic on which they wish to speak and the time which they will need to present their subject.

Negro Students to Be 'Strictly on Their Own'

McElroy Admits ICBM Statement Was Incorrect

Cincinnati, Ohio — (UP) — Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said here yesterday that the United States' intermediate range missile bases on allied territory overseas plus its tactical and strategic aircraft make needless a race with Russia to produce intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Washington — (UP) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy admitted yesterday he was wrong when he told a senate inquiry the United States would have a squadron of intercontinental ballistic missiles ready for action on the West coast in July.

His ICBM claim, made in testimony Thursday, had been challenged as incorrect by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), a member of the special committee investigating U.S. progress in the space-missile race with Russia.

McElroy's acknowledgment of error came as it was learned that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is convinced the missile investigation will prove to be a political dud for the Democrats.

Nixon, it can be reported on highest authority, believes the inquiry being conducted by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson will show that under President Eisenhower the United States has maintained its military strength instead of falling far behind Russia.

The McElroy - Symington dispute centered on the defense secretary's reply to a question at the hearing. He said it was correct that the first operational squadron of ICBMs would be ready at Camp Cooke, Calif., in July.

Yesterday, in Cincinnati, McElroy said in an interview: "In my prepared statement, I said that we would have a few ICBM missiles ready by July and a squadron by January. If I said something else in the give and take of the committee hearing, that was incorrect."

Proceeds from the Jubilee have been earmarked for the restoration of the U.S. Hotel, and a committee is being assigned to work out details of the project, Blew said.

He added that the Lions club will work with other organizations including the Jacksonville city council in planning Centennial events.

Seattle, Wash. — (UP) — Alaska's Gov. William A. Egan was taken off the critical list yesterday at Virginia Mason hospital, but his physician said the governor's condition is still serious.

"I Was Just Telling Ike The Other Day, We've Got To Keep Watching That Budget"

Mikoyan Denounces 'Anti-Party' Group, Denies 'Dumping'

Moscow — (UP) — Anastas I. Mikoyan, adding his voice to a rising chorus, yesterday denounced the ousted "anti-party" group and boasted that its members failed to win a "single recruit" since their downfall.

In an address to the 21st Communist Party Congress, the First Deputy Premier said the reason for the charges against the Bulganin-Molotov-Malenkov group and its backers were aimed was to "prove the absolute incorrectness" of the group's actions and the "correctness" of the party.

"As for the anti-party group," Mikoyan said, "it did not win a single recruit since the time it was exposed" in July, 1957.

During his speech, he reiterated that there was to be no repression of Soviet citizens for political reasons.

Mikoyan, who recently returned from a 17-day tour of the United States, also reported that Russia was prepared to enter long-term trade agreements with America. He pledged that Russia would not "dump" goods on world markets at low prices and said the new seven-year plan had great world trade possibilities.

He denied as "groundless" the assertions of U. S. officials that trade agreements with the Soviet Union were unreliable.

He said Western powers feared that as the Russian economy swelled the Soviet Union would throw goods on the world market at low prices.

"We have never engaged in dumping and we shall not do so," Mikoyan said.

(The West has accused the Russians most recently of flooding world markets with low priced tin. Before that it was cotton.)

Mikoyan said U.S. Deputy Under Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon called trade agreements with the U.S.S.R. "unreliable."

Mikoyan said Russia maintained trade agreements with Great Britain, France and other countries, and that the Soviet foreign trade turnover during 1958 was several times higher than in 1950.

He said Russia was willing to conclude trade agreements of three, five or seven years with the United States if U.S. officials would go along with it.

Blaine originally sought $100,000 in damages from Ross Lumber company as a result of an accident at the company's Prospect mill when he was helping to unload logs, according to the complaint. A log fell off the truck, severely injuring Blaine and killing Jean Charles Smith, also of Prospect. Blaine was working for Lewis Biden, Prospect, at the time of the accident and Smith for Charles Skeeters, Prospect.

Seventeen Plan To Enter Norfolk Schools Monday

Churches Pray for Peaceful Integration

Norfolk, Va. — (UP) — Seventeen Negro students entering previously all-white schools here Monday will do so individually and without escort in the hope Virginia's first integration will go off quietly, it was revealed yesterday.

Victor Ashe, local representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said parents of the Negro children probably would accompany them to the three high schools and three junior high schools Monday morning.

"Other than that," he said, "the children will be strictly on their own — just like any students transferred from one school to another."

Utmost to Soft-Pedal

Norfolk was doing its utmost to soft-pedal integration of the schools, closed since September by order of Gov. J. Lindsay Almond.

Police Chief Harold Anderson will have plain clothes men on hand at the six schools but uniformed officers will not be present unless there is a disturbance. Pro-segregation groups have made no announcement of plans to protest. Norfolk churches will say prayers today that integration is peaceful.

No trouble was expected at Arlington, Va., where four Negro pupils will enter previously all-white Stratford Junior high just across the Potomac from Washington, D. C.

Warren Refuses

Chief Justice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court refuses yesterday to grant a stay of integration in Arlington, Va. There had been no school closings in Arlington, and pupils at Stratford have been attending classes regularly.

In Richmond yesterday, the legislature finished work on Gov. J. Lindsay Almond's private school tuition grants program which will not prevent Monday's integration. The lawmakers killed several hasty stop-any-integration plans, but there was feeling that the legislators should stay in their special emergency session Monday to see what develops.

Almond's program will pay $250-a-year private school tuition grants to parents who choose not to send their children to integrated public school classrooms.
