

Installation Ceremonies Held by Rose Societies

Carl W. Norris was elected president of the Medford Rose Society at their meeting January 26 at the courthouse auditorium.

Other officers elected were Dr. Louis G. Gentner, first vice president; V. L. Quackenbush, second vice president; Mrs. R. H. Travis, secretary; Mrs. Elton Waldron, treasurer; Mrs. H. E. Peyton, librarian; Mrs. Sam Harbison, historian; and Mrs. Wallace Peabody, parliamentarian.

Committees appointed by the president included Dr. Gentner, program; Mrs. Waldron, refreshments; Mrs. George Renaker, editor; Mr. Peyton and Mrs. Travis, rose show; Mrs. Harbison, Mrs. Ben Huggadahl, and Mrs. Edith Updike, membership; Mr. Waldron and Mr. Quackenbush, auditing; and Mrs. J. Edwin Harper, awards.

New members of the society are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thompson. Seven guests attended.

The officers were installed January 28 at a joint installation of Rose Societies of Medford, Roseburg, and Grants Pass at the junior high school building in Grants Pass. Mrs. Nat Schoen, vice president of the American Rose Society, installed the officers of the Future. She mentioned in her talk three new roses that would thrive in the Pacific Northwest. They are Margaret, a hybrid tea rose in warm pink with a golden tint that is disease resistant; Pinaflore, a floribunda of pink ivory that stands about 1 1/2 feet high with blooms 1 1/2 inches in diameter that is good for landscaping or in rock gardens; and White Queen, which is mildew resistant.

Approximately 100 rose gardeners attended the installation. Roses were received by Mr. Peyton, Mrs. Grace Fiero, Mrs. George Hartley, Roy Arthur and Mr. Waldron.

Dr. Irwin Betzel, Eugene, invited the members to attend the convention and rose show of the Pacific Northwest district that is planned in Eugene June 5 and 6.

Other speakers at the meeting were Mrs. Daniel Heffner, district director, who spoke on "Rose Exhibiting and Judging," and Fred Edmunds Jr., who told of his roses at his River Ranch Nursery in Wilsonville, Ore.

Prior to the installation Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Vehrs, Grants Pass, entertained out-of-town visitors attending the event at the home. They included Mr. and Mrs. Schoen, Vancouver, Wash.; Mrs. Heffner, Portland; Dr. Betzel, Eugene; Mr. Edmunds Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bird, Roseburg; Mrs. Florence Talbot, Vancouver, Wash.; and Dr. and Mrs. Gentner, Medford.

Oregon History Program Theme

Oregon History in a stamp collection, will be the main theme of the Centennial observance of the Southern Oregon Stamp club, at the meeting to be held in the Girls' Community club, Thursday, February 5, starting at 8 p.m.

Clyde Smith, a past president of the club, will display and speak on his collection of early Oregon covers and other postal objects, that he plans to enter in the exhibition of Stamp clubs to be held in June at Portland. Mr. Smith has many early day express covers of Oregon Territory and has made a long study of Oregon postal history.

Refreshments for the evening will be in the Centennial theme also; with Mrs. Mamie Bloomfield as refreshment chairman for the evening.

Townsend Auxiliary To Meet Wednesday

An old-fashioned "cake walk" will be held during the weekly meeting of Medford Townsend Harmony auxiliary set for Wednesday, February 4, at 11 a.m. in Carpenters' hall.

Two projects will be planned. One is an Oregon Centennial program, and the other a valentine party to be held Wednesday, February 11, at Carpenters' hall.

At last week's meeting, six members were honored at a birthday celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thorsen, Boise, Ida., were visitors. Other visitors were from this vicinity.

Mrs. Rene Grosh, Ashland, gave oboe and piano selections. Readings and dancing completed the program.

Visitors are welcome at all Townsend meetings, it is stated.

St. Mary's Club To Meet Tuesday

Members of St. Mary's Grade School Parents' club are reminded that the regular February meeting has been moved forward one night to Tuesday, February 3, at 8 p.m. in the school activities room.

While a special invitation is always extended to new members, President John Rossi has pointed out that the continuing interest of all parents is also necessary. He stated that attendance at meetings of the current season has been very encouraging to the officers.

Reports given at the executive board meeting indicated activity in several areas. Coach Neil Murphy and volunteer assistants are holding Saturday and Sunday basketball sessions for boys of the third through the sixth grades.

A tree planting ceremony will be held as soon as the trees for the parking strips and the Sisters' yard arrive. According to Mrs. Darrell Leavens, a March date has been set for the rummage sale.

Mrs. George Davy, chairman of the library maintenance committee, reported that the cook book is now in the hands of the printer and will soon be ready for sale. She suggested that there will be great interest in the publication once it is seen.

The custom of giving a surprise award will be continued at Tuesday's meeting. The January award winner was David E. Walsh. Room count was won by Sister Theresa Jean's third grade room.

Mrs. Clifford Metz and Mrs. Jack Van Dyck will be greeters for the evening. Mrs. Lee Pendergast, assisted by Mrs. George Holtzinger and Mrs. James Pullman and the mothers of Mrs. Devers' second grade, will furnish refreshments.

The young couple repeated their vows before the Rev. Andrew A. Jarvis in Mt. Laki Community church. The bride, wearing an aquamarine wool suit, was given in marriage by her father. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of pink roses. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Henley High school in 1955 and is a senior at Oregon State college. She received her early education at the Kerby grade school before the family left their ranch on the Dick George road here. She is a descendant of one of the early Valley families for whom the Dick George road was named.

The bridegroom is a 1950 graduate of Sweet Home High school and after serving two years with the Army, was graduated in December from OSC. He is now employed as a production technologist.

Miss Wanda Fisk became the bride of Wayne Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hawkins, Kerby, in a recent ceremony. The Rev. Harold Mackey officiating. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cogburn, O'Brien, was attended by Miss Janice Ether-ton. Best man was Dick Saunders.

The newlyweds are both students at Illinois Valley high school.

Miss Carmel Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis, Kerby, became the

Associates Name New Officers

Miss Anna Streed was elected president of the Natural Foods Associates at their first meeting. Other officers elected were Mrs. Harlan Bosworth Jr., vice president; Mrs. Charles W. Carter, secretary. Program committeemen include Mrs. Bosworth, chairman; Mrs. Verne Shangle and Mrs. E. M. Wallin.

Mrs. Dewey Penrod reported on detergents at the meeting and Mrs. Carter spoke on aerosol sprays.

Mrs. Bosworth announced that Dr. William L. Searles of the state department of agriculture who is in charge of red meat inspection will be in the valley.

Dr. Searles will discuss with interested persons the possibility of having the inspection of poultry and sausage production added to the red meat inspection program. Members of the foods group who will attend the meeting will be Mrs. Bosworth, Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Terrill, Mrs. John Mahaffey, Mrs. Verne Shangle and Mrs. Glen Guiley.

Miss Streed reported on the book "Your Heart and Vitamin E" by Drs. Evan and Wilfrid Shute. She explained that it is a composite of seven different factors of which Alpha-Tocopherol is used in the treatment of heart ailment. Also mentioned was the fact that Vitamin E is one of the most versatile of the vitamins having a curative effect in 26 known ailments. Good sources of this vitamin were said to be wheat germ and other grains and natural seed oils.

The next meeting of the group will be February 24.

Camp Fire Leader Writes National Magazine Article

Mrs. Rufus Younger, an active Camp Fire leader in Medford for six years, is the author of an article published recently in the national Camp Fire Magazine. The article, entitled "How About an Autumn Pack Trip?" tells the experiences of her group, the Ayuzuta Camp Fire Girls, when they spent a week camping and hiking in Lassen National park.

The six girls were veterans of numerous overnight hikes and camping trips, but had never tried anything as adventurous as a pack trip. Much planning went into it—letters were written to the park ranger, maps were studied, and camping gear and outdoor menus were pondered over. Into a miniature pup tent bank went money saved for the trip. Parents were included in the planning sessions. A national park was chosen since it has the advantage that other wilderness areas don't—solitude with protection.

In June the girls took a practice overnight hike on the Mt. McLoughlin trail. This was to test pack boards, boots, other gear, and dehydrated foods. It also gave any girl an opportunity to change her mind about making the trip, but not one did.

The following Saturday Mrs. Younger and her husband and two other parents, took the girls and their gear to Lassen park. The other couple returned and Mr. and Mrs. Younger accompanied the girls on their trip.

There were few set rules in camp, but these were strict. Each girl was expected to do her share of all camp work without being asked. After the work was done and tents were put in order for the day, the girls were free to relax in the sun, or hike to nearby lakes to fish. The campsite was near Lower Twin lake, a day's hike from the Ranger station, and visitors were few except for deer.

"It was a very successful camping trip," wrote Mrs. Younger. "It is true the packs were heavy and at times the going was rough, but a few mosquito bites and mild sunburns were our only mishaps. There were inconveniences, of course, but the girls will remember longest the little things that were fun and the nightly sings around the campfire with the deer listening to our harmony just outside the circle of firelight. My girls are a joy to camp with; they are independent, self-reliant, and each is capable of camping by herself. They are not the super-athletic type, just average junior high school girls with a wide variety of interests, but they share a common bond—their love of nature as God created it."

Illinois Valley Families Announce Recent Weddings

Cave Junction - Several recent weddings are of interest in the Illinois valley.

Miss Ruth Alice George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren W. George, formerly of the Illinois valley and now Klamath Falls, was married to David Francis Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Boyd, Toledo, Ore., on January 2.

The young couple repeated their vows before the Rev. Andrew A. Jarvis in Mt. Laki Community church. The bride, wearing an aquamarine wool suit, was given in marriage by her father. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of pink roses. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

Girl Scouts Visit Station

Brownie Troop 22 of Hoover neighborhood recently visited the city police station, and was given a conducted tour through the department. Their guide showed the Brownies where the records are kept, the teletype machine, and how fingerprints are taken. It is reported that the girls thought it one of the most interesting field trips they have taken.

Girls participating in the trip were Kathy Bartels, Bonnie Holmes, Cindy Konschot, Jane Santorn, Claudia Lewis, Sherry Jewett, Ruth Wilcox, Jeanne Wilson, Sally Gastineau, and Holly Thompson. Adults making the trip were Mrs. Jack Sanborn, Mrs. Gerald Gastineau, and the troop leader, Mrs. Alan Jewett.

Low ceilings will seem higher if painted white. Add to the illusion by painting baseboards the same color as the walls. Too-high ceilings will appear lower if covered with dark paint.
