

Valentine Dance Announced

An event of mid-February will be the annual St. Valentine's formal dance at Rogue Valley Country club. It is scheduled for Saturday, February 14, at the club. Cocktails from 8 to 9 o'clock will be followed by dancing and a buffet dinner.

Co-chairmen in charge of arrangements are Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Olson. On the invitations committee are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Tod Tibbitt. Planning decorations are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blackstone, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barrell and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Orchestra And Choir To Perform

Portland—Theodore Bloomfield, conductor of the Portland Symphony orchestra, and C. Robert Zimmerman, director of the Portland Symphonic choir, will combine the talents of their musical organizations on February 9 to present the magnificent Brahms' "A German Requiem."

Gold Hill Man Chief Patriarch Of Odd Fellows

Gold Hill—Cecil Johnson, a past noble grand of Gold Hill Odd Fellows lodge, was installed chief patriarch for the ensuing year of the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows at ceremonies held in Grants Pass, Friday, January 23. The Grand Encampment is made up of members from the Odd Fellow lodges in Gold Hill, Grants Pass, Kerby and Glendale.

Leonard Andrews, district deputy chief patriarch, installed the officers. Other elective officers installed in the Grand Encampment included Waldo Perry, senior warden, Grants Pass; Lawson Thomas, high priest, Grants Pass; Robert Tribble, junior warden, Grants Pass; and Paul Thompson, past chief patriarch, Gold Hill.

Mr. Thompson is a long-time active member in the Gold Hill Odd Fellow's lodge of which he holds the office of treasurer. He is a past noble grand of the local lodge.

Robert McDaniels conducted the first meeting of his term of office as noble grand of Gold Hill Odd Fellow's lodge, January 20 during the regular session held in the local IOOF hall on Fourth avenue.

A social hour concluded the evening. Oyster stew prepared by Mrs. McDaniels was served by the noble grand, who was assisted by Wilbur Martin and Leonard Andrews.

The next meeting of the lodge will be held Tuesday, February 3 at 8 p.m.

Here's a new and delicious way to treat deep dish apple pie or cobbler. Spoon some sweet port wine over the apples before adjusting the top crust.

TODAY'S RUG BARGAIN MAY BE TOMORROW'S HEADACHE!

There are two kinds of bargains — good ones and bad ones! Too often folks buy on price alone with little regard for the seller's integrity. And too often neither the rug nor its seller lives up to promises. At Laurine's every piece of carpeting is priced according to its quality, and every carpet is the finest available in its price range. So when you buy at Laurine's you always get the very most for your money. Occasionally, Laurine's have discontinued colors or patterns, or ends of rolls which they sell at reduced prices. These are genuine money-saving bargains.

Senior Scouts Announce Plans For Conference

A recent meeting of the Senior Planning board of the Rogue Valley Area Girl Scouts was held at the Stephenson home in Grants Pass, with the president of the board, Bonnie Allingham in charge. Discussion and preliminary planning for a spring conference was begun with suggestions that the Seniors of the Rogue Valley Area invite the councils of Lakeview, Coos Bay, Klamath Falls and Eugene to participate. Tentative plans are for girls from the other councils to be guests of the local girls.

Individual Senior troops were assigned to be committees on planning the affair. Troop 151 will be in charge of date, place, and time; Troop 2 of speakers; the introductory and flag ceremony will be handled by Troop 131; panels and discussion groups are to be planned by Troop 123; and Troop 5 will be in charge of skills. These committees will furnish reports on progress at the February 13 meeting.

It was reported that the Senior troop of Medford and Ashland have been asked to help clean the Jackson County Centennial headquarters. The request was made by Ernest Hood, Centennial chairman.

Roberta Stephenson was elected treasurer of the Senior Planning board, to fill a vacancy. Plans also were made to hold a rummage sale to help finance the girls who are attending the Girl Scout Round-Up this summer. Sales will be held both in Medford and Grants Pass.

Following the business meeting a program aide training course was conducted by Mrs. Wilberta LeRoy, field director; plans are to hold a session on this training after each of the next two Senior Board meetings.

The program will open with the orchestra's performance of the sprightly "Symphony in C Major" by Bizet. Tickets for all symphony concerts are on sale at J. K. Gill box office beginning Thursday prior to each concert or may be placed in advance by writing the symphony office in the Park Building.

Van Gogh Show School Tours

Portland — The Portland Art Museum's schedule of closed hour tours of the van Gogh exhibition, given every weekday morning for school children, has had every available time filled for a week now. More than 100 schools, from as far away as Medford, will have classes visiting the museum, totaling more than 7,000 children. Schools are now being encouraged to bring their class groups during open hours.

The young people's "Introduction to van Gogh," an unusual feature of the museum's program, will be presented in the museum auditorium daily at 4 p.m. for after-school groups and at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. In this introduction, color slides of paintings in the exhibition are shown with a tape narrative which presents the life and work of the artist during the decade in which he produced more than 800 drawings and 800 paintings.

There is no additional charge for the auditorium program, but the regular gallery admission of 75c for adults and 25c for children under 14 accompanied by adults and for high school students with student body card will be charged.

St. Anne's Club To Meet Friday

St. Anne's Benefit Duplicate Bridge club will meet Friday, February 6, at the home of Mrs. Vincent Nicoletti, 31, Crater Lake avenue. Anyone wishing to learn duplicate bridge is invited to play with the group and may phone either Mrs. Nicoletti, Spring 3-1406 or Mrs. Robert Naumes, Spring 2-4273.

The club plays from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. to enable mothers with school age children to attend. High score winners for January were Mrs. Glen Brantlund and her partner, Mrs. Mullins.

Phoenix Neighbors To Hold Election

Phoenix — Neighbors of Woodcraft lodge will meet at the Grange hall Thursday, February 5 at 8 p.m. The presiding officer, Mrs. Delbert Cook states election of officers will be held. Refreshments will be served following the business meeting.

Thimble club of Oak circle will meet at the home of Mrs. James Overturf, 3196 Dark Hollow road, Friday, February 6, with Mrs. Mervin Hixson assisting.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. The newly elected officers will be installed by Mrs. Enid Caster.

When Electa Social club celebrated the 23rd anniversary of organization at a recent party at Girls Community club, prizes were given for the most interesting old-style hats worn by members. They were won by Mrs. Ellis Bean (at left) and Mrs. E. M. Lovell. Mrs. Bean's tiny black hat with long plume is an heirloom, while Mrs. Lovell had made the sunbonnet which she wore. Four charter members, Miss Anna Detweiler, Mrs. David Robertson, Mrs. Harris Olson and Mrs. John L. Gritsch, were honored during the party. They were presented corsages in Order of Eastern Star colors as a gift from the club, with Mrs. W. R. Duffy making the presentation. An anniversary cake baked by Mrs. Olson, club president, was served.

Parisian Styles Go Mail Order

By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris—Mail order buyers predict that 1959 Paris styles in suits and sportswear—but not evening dresses—will be available to American women in greater numbers and at lower prices than ever before.

The mail order investment in Paris high style means the American housewife can order by catalogue an adaptation of the latest Paris fashions for a little as $19.95.

The campaign started last summer when Montgomery Ward fashion coordinator Rita Perna hand-picked six models from the French collections. This year Miss Perna said she found the spring Paris styles so appealing that she doubled her order.

What Miss Perna liked in the collections she saw is a good indication of what the American woman can expect to find on the department store rack in the months to come.

She said she also liked the emphasis on shoulders, giving width to the top of the long, natural silhouette and the straight below-the-knee length of skirts.

In colors she praised the apricot, "pernod" green and off white and beige tones that have run through every collection.

Sportswear manager Henry E. Jaeger said that "there is a definite common denominator of good taste in America" but that geography comes into the business of merchandising.

"For instance, lighter colored coats are more preferred in California than in the Middle West or East," he said.

"Women in the Southwest tend to be smaller than those in the Minnesota area. And in Arizona and New Mexico women go crazy for colors like turquoise."

Balenciaga Suit Declared Winner

Paris (UPI)—American buyers reported today that dressmaker Balenciaga introduced a suit with fitted front and loose back that is sure to be a "winner" at his spring collection.

The Balenciaga showing and the Givenchy preview Monday were not open to the press. Dates of the press showings have not yet been announced.

Macy's Marjorie Reich, said the new Balenciaga suit had sleeves and a "stand-out."

She also heaped praise upon Givenchy's short strapless evening formal and a cardigan neckline suit that the young designer showed.

She said that the Givenchy suit had an interesting waistline with two brass buttons.

Gardeners Meet At Reames Home

Central Point—Mrs. E. E. Reames was hostess for the January meeting of Central Point Garden club, at her home on Crater Lake highway. Dessert was served, with Mrs. Gertrude Stanley and Mrs. Ivan Skyrman assisting.

Three new members were welcomed, Mrs. Frank C. Roberts, Mrs. Matt Madsen and Mrs. Fred Warden. Mrs. E. A. Willingham was introduced as a guest.

The Rev. Thomas McCamant gave an illustrated lecture on birds of the area, using Audubon society colored slide pictures. Mrs. Ralph Hixson spoke concerning the oleander.

It was decided that the general theme of the annual flower show will be birds. Arrangements were furnished by Mrs. L. C. Gordon. One was of red pyracantha and pine and another of treated chincapin foliage with a madonna, on cherry-wood base, all in shades of brown.

A third arrangement was of lodgepole pine sprayed with gold, brought by Mrs. Arnold Bohnert.

Corsages were won by Mrs. Bohnert and Mrs. Charles Janzner, and prizes by Mrs. E. P. Stone and Mrs. J. E. Vincent.

The next meeting will be February 4, at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Ghelardi.

School Is Topic Of Club Speaker

Mrs. Carl Whitman was speaker for the last meeting of Mistletoe club, held at Girls Community club. Mrs. Whitman explained the new School of Hope for children which began operation Monday at First Methodist church.

Mrs. Thomas Mee conducted a business meeting. The club assembled in the morning for quilting, and luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. Carl Pearson headed the committee in charge.

SOC Announces Cast of Comedy

Ashland — Casting for the Southern Oregon college winter drama production, "Bell, Book, and Candle" has now been completed, it was announced by George H. Bell, director and humanities staff member.

In the cast of the sophisticated comedy about a witch who falls in love are Ellen Frost as Gillian Holroyd; Mike Forbes as Shep Henderson; Johnnie Johnson as Nicky Holroyd; Colleen Lewis as "Queenie" Holroyd; and James Cunningham as Sidney Redlitch.

Bob Ebert is stage manager for the production.

Designer Features New Belts

By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris — Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses carried the "back to nature" silhouette to its logical conclusion today by belting nearly every one of his daytime models.

Desses, who is designing a new habit for an order of nuns in Greece, showed one of the handsomest collections seen yet this season.

When he did not actually use belts he used shirring, pleating and draping — every trick in the designing trade — to emphasize the return of the waistline.

Belting of every variety was everywhere. Some coats featured side belts, back belts and belts that peeked out from under pockets. They were shown in a profusion of soft colors—lemon, beige and off-white.

They were also shown in pastel-checks and bold black and white square patterns.

Curiously, the "new" spring silhouette that has emerged from the showings that would up today is one that a trio of lady designers has been turning out for years. They are Chanel, Madeleine de Traval and Alex Gris.

The spectator-sports look that has figured in every collection from Dior down has been keeping customers at De Rauch's satisfied for seasons.

The casual suit, middy overblouse and ropes of pearls worn throughout the collections were trademarks of "Coco" Chanel long before the House of Dior opened its doors.

The "discovery" that busts and waists and hips look pretty well as nature designed them has meant bread and butter to Gris for longer than many male dressmakers have been in business.

These leading ladies of the fashion world have always gone their own independent way. They have neither been influenced by Paris fashion fads nor designing artifices that distort the female form.

They're not called pace-setters because they refuse to raise or lower hemlines just to increase sales. They dedicate themselves to smartly dressing women who enjoy looking like women, and the customers always come back for more. So now that the more flamboyant male dressmakers have returned to a natural silhouette the ladies are setting the pace.

Cheese Club Sandwich

Melt 1/2 pound sharp cheddar cheese over a low gas flame. Add 1/3 cup of milk and stir until smooth. Season with 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard. Remove the sauce from the flame and serve over slices of toast. Garnish with crisp pieces of bacon. Served with fresh fruit, coffee and milk, this makes a good luncheon dish.

Couple Returns From California

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Bray, 317 Lozier lane, have returned to Medford following a vacation in southern California.

Mrs. Bray visited a sister, Mrs. Martha Reimer, Redwood Valley. Dr. Bray first spent some time in Los Angeles with his daughter, Mrs. Dean Lundy, and went on a deep sea fishing trip with his son-in-law. Later he visited a son, Max R. Bray. The latter recently sold his business, the Bray Optical company, and will leave soon for Puerto Rico where he will supervise installation of a similar plant. Eventually he plans to retire in Oregon.

Dr. Bray also spent some time with his brother, Dr. Ulrich B. Bray, who recently returned to this country after a trip abroad. He is a member of the Los Angeles Smog Control board, and the Medford visitor learned that the board has investigated a device which it is said will do away with 70 per cent of the exhaust fumes from automobiles using it.

Leader Training Announced

The first session of the basic leadership course for Girl Scout leaders will be held Wednesday, February 4, at the Red Cross building. Registration will begin at 9:15 a.m., followed by a Girl Scout song and singing games session led by Mrs. Robert Kagy, with Mrs. Thomas McFadden as accompanist.

A flag ceremony will be demonstrated; the Girl Scout Trail will be shown; and a humorous skit "How Not to Plan a Meeting" will introduce program-planning and the role of the leaders and troop committee. A "living" Girl Scout calendar will present ideas for international month (February). Thinking day, Girl Scout week (March 8-14), cookie sales, yepsters, window displays, May festival, fly-ups and courts of awards. A new movie, "You're It!" and "Leading Lady" will be shown, and special ceremonies.

The basic training course is for all new leaders, assistant leaders, and troop committee members, as well as neighborhood chairmen, organizers and consultants, in Medford and surrounding territory from Phoenix to Rogue River. Basic leadership courses will also be given in the Ashland district on February 6, and in the Grants Pass district on February 10, according to Mrs. Jerry Gastineau, Rogue Valley Girl Scout council training chairman.

Those attending are asked to bring Girl Scout leader's guide books, song books, and a sack lunch.

Helping with the Medford district training will be Mrs. B. E. Culy, south Medford district chairman, Mrs. Thomas Eslinger, north Medford district chairman; Mrs. Walter Higgins, Roosevelt chairman; Mrs. Bruce Stuart, Central Point; Mrs. Al Carrara; Mrs. Wilmer Warren; Mrs. J. Club Announces Speak-Off Plans

Topics on "Laughter" were presented by the topicmistress, Mrs. Jack Cummings, at the Medford Toastmistress club meeting Wednesday evening at the Girls community club. Mrs. Clarence Rolls presented a past president's pin to Mrs. Pat Redmond, retiring president.

Mrs. Wallace Haskins, lexicologist, explained the use of vowel markings; Mrs. John Schroeder gave the educational talk for the evening, and Mrs. James Vander Steen spoke on "Ancient America," a resume of the Mesa Verde, Colorado, area Indians. Mrs. Arnold Bohnert reviewed a magazine article on "awareness."

Plans for the speak-off of the speech contest to be held February 25 at the Girls Community club were discussed and committees named. The contest speeches will conclude February 11 at which time there will be balloting to determine the winners who will compete.

The meeting opened with invocation and flag salute led by Mrs. Effie Kurtz. Speech and program evaluators were Mrs. Harry Marshall and Mrs. C. A. Thatcher. Mrs. Clarence Wilson was timer and Mrs. Earl Sands served as grammarian.

Save the frame from an old lampshade, cover it with cotton muslin, and use it to cover platters of food when eating outdoors. For better protection, put a draw string in the muslin across the top of the frame and tack the material lightly along the bottom.
