

DEATH SUSPECT — John Neely, wanted by Los Angeles police in connection with the slaying of Ronald J. Caruna, Conga Park photographer, answers questions in the homicide bureau in Dallas, Tex. Arrested in Dallas, Neely told police there that he had been in Florida and was en route back to California.

'Do Not Patronize' Lists Held Legal

San Francisco—(UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals reversed a National Labor Relations Board ruling Wednesday and held that it is legal for a union to put out "do not patronize" lists with names of firms whose employees refuse to join the union.

The ruling reversed a NLRB decision in a dispute between Alloy Manufacturing Co., of Spokane, Wash., and Lodge 942 of the International Association of Machinists.

But the appeals tribunal upheld the NLRB in its prohibition against union picketing of Alloy.

The court, in denying that the lists constituted illegal coercion, said such lists were "no more than an expression of an opinion."

The Alloy case dates back to 1955 when the machinists picketed the firm although the majority of its employees voted against the union in an election.

Vanguard's Life Set at 2,000 Years

Washington — (UPI) — The Navy's 3.25-pound Vanguard satellite will spin around the earth for 2,000 years, instead of the some 200 years previously forecast.

Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, Navy research chief, predicted the greatly increased life span for the grapefruit-sized satellite in testimony Wednesday before the House Space Committee. He gave no reason for the increase.
