Hatfield Undecided On Additional Funds

Salem — Gov. Mark Hatfield said Thursday he has "not determined" exactly what method to use to seek any additional revenue he might need for his budget. The governor indicated his budget and recommendations would be forthcoming soon.

Sources here have estimated the budget might total about $310 million, including building programs for the Board of Control and the Board of Higher Education out of the general fund.

Hatfield said he was going over his plans again to try to determine definitely what added revenue might be recommended.

Hatfield said he had released nothing about what his recommendations might be.

Daily Newspapers Increase Prices

New York — The American Newspaper Publishers Association has reported that 403 of 1,477 surveyed daily newspapers increased circulation prices during 1958.

Of that number, only 121 reported losses in circulation and all but 45 have recovered that loss, the ANPA survey showed.

The newspapers included both English and foreign language dailies in the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The ANPA said 137 of the newspapers which increased prices showed increases in circulation revenue ranging from less than 10 per cent to 108 per cent.

Both Costa Rica and Nicaragua are predominately agricultural with a rich volcanic soil producing many crops. Among the most important are coffee and banana stems.

Of U. S. families with incomes of $7,500 or more per year, more than 70 per cent own their own homes.

The U. S. Capitol has 435 rooms making it one of the largest public buildings in the nation.
