Medford High School

Edited by Barbara Nulton. Reporters: Connie Hinsley, Rosemary Eismann, Margie Good, Tanya Enders, Nora-lene Schell, Sandra Kline, De Russell and Peggy Fisch

Senior conferences began this week with senior girls making appointments with their dean, Mrs. Grace Berg. Senior boys will begin their interviews soon.

During the conferences, students go over all test scores which have accumulated during the last three years. These include tests in reading, mental aptitude, etc. As a result, each student can discover whether or not his aptitude equals his interest in a certain profession.

"You must go on to some form of higher education after high school" was the admonition of Frances Nickerson, to the three classes at the high school Wednesday in the auditorium.

"Whether you attend a trade school or a state or private college you must continue your education in some way," continued Mr. Nickerson. "Soon society will have no room for the unskilled worker and the possession of only a high school diploma will get you nowhere."

With this advice, he gave the warning that sophomores and juniors bring up their grade averages before they have slipped so low in grades that they will not be permitted to enter college.

After his speech, Mr. Nickerson answered questions from the floor. Questions ranged from the cost of college and the requirements of entering college to the advantages and disadvantages of sororities.

The seniors, after their meeting with Mr. Nickerson, went to various rooms where they talked with representatives from SOC, Oregon State college, the University of Oregon, and several other Oregon colleges.

The juniors and sophomores returned to their classes after their meeting with the representatives.

Francis B. Nickerson, executive secretary of the Oregon state system of higher education, was also the main speaker at the career night meeting Feb. 3. Nickerson spoke to the parents and students briefly on career planning. He then introduced the guest speakers who represented seven vocational areas. After the speeches, meetings were held for the seven vocational fields. Refreshments were served and the speakers answered individual questions.

Medford's Girls' Athletic association attended an all-around sports playday at Eagle Point Feb. 7. The girls left at 8:15 a.m. and returned in the late afternoon.

The GAA is sponsoring tournaments in ping-pong and shuffleboard. Practice for these events will begin this week.

Both the Pep club and the Order of the "M" are working on plans for assemblies to be put on individually by each group. The Pep club attended the Grants Pass game Friday.

George Ice, ASB vice president, conducted the Inter-club council meeting which was held in the auditorium Feb. 3 during registration week. Presidents of all school clubs and organizations attended, and were reminded that their club treasurers must make out a report each month to be given to the ASB treasurer, Sandy Hess. Several of the larger clubs, including the three classes and Pep club, were appointed to present an assembly in the near future.

Many students attended the "old fashioned" Pep assembly Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. In the agenda, Frank Roelandt talked and the rally squad led the group in yells and the school song. A funeral service for the Grants Pass Cavalry was held by Dave Havlick and Mike Hartley.

Monday after school a bowling meeting was held with Don Newman presiding. The purpose of the meeting was to find out why the attendance down at the bowling alley on Wednesday nights had fallen off. Also the rules and regulations for league bowling were discussed.

Senior Symphony is the new addition to the Medford varsity band. This new organization is made up of seniors and juniors from the main band. Its purpose is to play only symphony music. The new idea in the formation of bands is only the first in a series. It is hoped that a concert band and a marching band can soon be added to the regular varsity band.

Claudia Hoover has been selected to attend the Northwest Music conference band in Seattle. Some 1,000 applications were received from the six Northwest states, representing 220 schools.

Claudia is a senior and will represent the entire Medford band.

The Future Homemakers of America met Feb. 5 at school to show a movie on good grooming and to discuss the state convention. The members were told that if they wanted to attend the convention they were to write the answer to an essay question. According to the quality and content of the answer, the officers would pick those girls who would be allowed to go.

After well over a month's absence, Mrs. Juanita Anderson, home nursing teacher and Future Nurses of America advisor, was able to return to teaching last Monday. Mrs. Anderson had been in the hospital to have an operation on her knee.

Grange News

Phoenix Grange

A centennial program has been planned by Mrs. Bert Stancliffe and lecturer Dee Hendrickson, honoring the pioneers of southern Oregon, to be held Tuesday, Feb. 10, at 8 p.m. in Phoenix Grange hall and will be open to the public.

The sons and daughters of the early pioneers are invited to attend and wear, if possible, any early day clothing they have saved through the years. Grange members are asked to wear pioneer-type costumes. A fashion show will be presented by Mrs. Stancliffe as part of the entertainment. Other numbers will include square dancing by Chris Wolff and the "Blacklighters" quartet singing with Vaughn Quackenbush and members of his group. Featured will be sketches of Oregon history and introduction of guests.

A display table with Mrs. Olin Poe in charge will take care of historical articles. Members and guests are asked to bring their keepsakes pertaining to pioneer days. Please use cards with name and date attached.

Pioneer refreshments will be served. Chairman in charge will be Mrs. Mervin Hixson.

Two teams from the Hunter safety program met Thursday after school in rifle team competition. Norm Olson, Bill Corbin, Scott Carpenter, Bill Thompson, and Gretchen Stein of team one defeated Dick Swan, Jim Douglas, Bob Reichers, John Gilbertson, and Larry Berg of team two 426 to 418. Bill Thompson of team one was high man with a score of 91 in 10 shots. Team two member, Jim Douglas, fired a score of 48 in five shots.

Jim Henson, a ninth grade Hedrick student, was his district's Boy Scout representative and guest at Gov. Mark Hatfield's lunch given in honor of Boy Scout week. Jim, along with a Cub Scout and an Explorer Scout, attended the lunch Friday.

Report cards covering the second nine weeks of school were given out Wednesday, Feb. 4.

The second Hedrick Junior High PTA meeting of the year will be held Monday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m. Teachers will be in their rooms to welcome interested parents. A business meeting later in the evening will be followed by refreshments. Entertainment will be presented several student groups.

A number of Hedrick students and parents attended career night at the high school Tuesday, Feb. 3. Students and parents could choose a career area which most interested them. Speakers in such fields as engineering, science, humanities, education, and nursing were present from several Oregon colleges.

Pioneers from the middle 1800s seemed to return to Hedrick Saturday night when students attending the Future Homemakers' dance arrived in Centennial costumes. The girl date boy dance was given a Centennial theme by the FHA girls who wished to help honor the state's month, February, and 100th year of statehood.

McLoughlin Junior High

By Joel Gregory, Donna Marin and Lois Stedman

Sonny Leffler and Sheryl Martin reigned as the King and Queen of Hearts at the FHA Cupid's Follies Friday night in the girls' gym. The princesses and princes chosen for the royal court were Sue Nelson and Johnny Gates, eighth grade and Leslie Stanley and Mike Barnes, seventh grade.

Entertainment during the intermission featured Jodel Hertager and Donna Johnson doing a jazz tap dance and Billy Heyerman and Norman Renner doing a pantomime called "Little Spang Girls." Devonne Prough was the general chairman for the affair.

Student teachers for this nine weeks are Han Sang Keun from Korea, teaching geography in Mrs. Marvel Yung's room; Bill Harbin, geography, under the supervision of Mrs. Louise Davis; Larry Maurer, arithmetic, with Mrs. Eula Foley; and Bob Oden working with John Reed's science classes. All are from Southern Oregon college.

The freshmen wrestling team were found to be the defending Southern Oregon Conference champions in the wrestling tournament scheduled in Grants Pass Saturday. Coaches John Reed and Ed Doran reported that the Bulldogs were in good shape and should retain their title.

The Library club met Wednesday to nominate new officers for the second semester. It was also decided to award club members a book of their choice for the year's work. Library members do bulletin board work, both in the library and in the various classrooms.

The Junior Quill will publish its third issue next Friday, Joel Gregory and Lois Stedman are coeditors.

"Gypsy Troubadour" is the title of this year's operetta to be produced by the music department later this year. Ray Lewis has announced. Don Darnelle, speech instructor, works with Ray Lewis on casting and directing. Casting will take place later this month.

The oldest building in America is the 817-year-old Spanish Monastery just north of Miami. It was brought from Spain stone by stone by agents of the late William Randolph Hearst.
