Ashland Police Check Bird's Death

Ashland-Ashland city police this week end still were checking clues to the killing of a peahen in Lithia park zoo sometime Thursday night.

Police said the gate to the pen apparently had been kicked down, and scuff marks were found within the enclosure. A quantity of feathers were lying around the cage.

Officers believed the bird was kicked to death when cornered. They could offer no reason why the bird would be attacked and killed.

Lent Called Least Understood Season Of Christian Year

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Next Wednesday Feb. 11 marks the beginning of one of the least-understood seasons of the Christian year.

It is called Lent, a name derived from an old Anglo-Saxon word for springtime.

It is easy to say who observes Lent, and when, and how. The question that causes confusion, even in churches that place great emphasis on Lent, is why.

To take up the easy ones first, Lent is observed by all liturgical churches, including the Roman Catholic, Lutheran, Episcopal and Eastern Orthodox communions. These churches follow an ancient calendar of worship which divides the year into six great seasons - Advent, Christmas, Epiphany, Lent, Easter and Trinity. The idea is that this calendar provides an annual rhythm for worship, so that each major aspect of the Christian faith has its own appointed season for special emphasis.

See Values In Lent

Many Protestant bodies which formerly ignored the liturgical calendar have begun in recent years to see values in it. One result of this so-called liturgical revival is that Lent is now being observed in a number of Presbyterian, Methodist and other Protestant churches.

The date of Lent varies from year to year, because it is tied to the date of Easter. Specifically, Lent is a period of 40 weekdays and six Sundays preceding Easter. This period was fixed by Pope Felix II in 487 A.D., but his decree merely formalized a custom that was widespread in the Christian church as early as 200 A.D.

The Eastern Orthodox churches reckon the date of Easter by a method different from that used in Western churches. Hence their observance of Lent begins on a different date (March 16) this year.

Fast Rules Vary

Roman Catholics are enjoined to fast on all weekdays during Lent by foregoing meat at two of the three meals. In Eastern Orthodox churches, rules for fasting vary from one archdiocese to another. In some cases they prohibit meat or fish at any of the three meals, but those who are not physically able to stand this regime may confine their fasting to the first and last weeks of Lent.

Episcopal and Lutheran churches leave it up to the individual's conscience to determine how he will observe Lent. But both encourage systematic act of self-denial. As the Episcopal book of common prayer puts it, "each person should practice 'such a measure of abstinence' from food or other worldly pleasures as he finds necessary to discipline his appetites and 'bring the body into subjection' to the spirit.

In addition to fasting, Lent

Farm Bureau Man To Speak in Area

Donald E. Hirsch, assistant director of the commodity division of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will discuss the dairy marketing situation at a meeting at the Redwood Grange hall, south of Grants Pass, Feb. 11.

The meeting is one of several being arranged by the Oregon Farm Bureau, and representatives of the dairy industry in Jackson, Josephine and Douglas counties are invited.

The meeting will start at 10 a.m. and end at 3 p.m. Potluck lunch will be served at noon with the dairy organizations and Farm Bureau providing the main dish and dairy products.

Hirsch's discussion will include national legislation proposed concerning the dairy industry and a five-point program supported by the Farm Bureau Federation.

The five-point program includes increased consumption of dairy products, balance production and consumption of dairy products, increase marketing efficiency, increase production efficiency, and increase the dairyman's bargaining and power.

A Centennial Fashion show is scheduled by women who have costumes they wish to model.

Americans spend about $150 million a year for the care of the blind and the total is rising.
