London—UPI—Radio Moscow cited editorials from American newspapers today to back up its charges that the U.S. State Department accused Soviet pilots of shooting down an unarmed American plane in order to head off a possible thaw in the cold war.

An English-language broadcast repeated earlier Soviet claims that the State Department's recording of Soviet pilots' conversations during the attack was a fake. It criticized the department for failing to make the recording public.

Soviet ambassador to Washington Mikhail Menshikov was invited by the State Department to hear the recording, but refused.

Quotes Washington Paper

The broadcast quoted the Washington Post and Times Herald as saying the State Department sought to stir up public and congressional indignation with its revelation. It said the New York Times thought the move was intended to aggravate Western-Soviet relations.

The New York Post was quoted as saying the U.S. government apparently took its action to drown out what Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan were saying about ending the cold war.

"What has been cited is enough to show that the State Department's maneuver was taken with malice aforethought," Moscow Radio added.

The broadcast also disputed State Department claims that it had the recording a long time before it was released. It quoted a United Press International interview with Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, in which Hays said committee members did not know of the recording until Tuesday but found the smoke had come from a smoldering log. It was determined later that a fire had been built in the log by a surveyor who had stopped to eat his lunch.

Ashland Pilot Still Missing

Madras—UPI—A report of smoke in the Abbot Butte area west of here turned out to be a false lead Tuesday in the continuing search for a single engine Stinson plane with three Oregon brothers aboard that vanished Friday on a flight from Prineville to Salem.

Ken Hepper, manager of the Madras airport, said eight fully-equipped volunteers from the Central Oregon Pilots Association hiked into the rugged area Tuesday but found the smoke had come from a smoldering log. It was determined later that a fire had been built in the log by a surveyor who had stopped to eat his lunch.

Snow, ice and low clouds have hindered the air search. Search officials said a few planes went up Monday but were forced down after a brief period by bad weather.

Aboard the missing plane were the pilot, Jim Miller, 24, Ashland, and his 14-year-old twin brothers, Roy and Coy Miller, of Turner.

Plan To Pay Off National Debt Told

Washington—UPI—Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex.) wants to pay off the national debt in 101 years.

Wright's resolution introduced Monday declares that the principal of the debt should be reduced by one percent per year, starting July 1, 1960. He said this would save $485 billion in interest payments over 100 years.

The debt now stands at $283 billion, with interest on it costing $8,100,000,000 in the coming fiscal year.

"If things go along exactly as they have been going, without any change in the total debt and with the government having to pay 3.5 percent interest on its borrowings, in 28 years we will have paid the total amount of the debt, but we will still owe all of it," he said.

SHADY COVE-TRAIL Alaskans Are Visitors

By EVALYN P. WATSON

Shady Cove-Trail—Mr. and Mrs. Don Yochem of Fairbanks, Alaska, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Yochem of McClelland, Iowa, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith of The Shack cafe, Shady Cove. Mrs. Da Yochem is a niece of Mr. Smith.

The Don Yochems had made a trip back to Iowa and stopped off to visit the Smiths while en route home to Alaska.

Mrs. Carroll Watson of The Treasure Trove, Shady Cove made a trip to Los Angeles where she attended the Los Angeles gift show and visited with her sister, Mrs. Eva Williams, in Studio City, Calif.

Word has been received by relatives and friends of Pfc. and Mrs. William D. Littlefield that the couple are now located in Chateaux, France. Carole Littlefield made the trip to join her husband by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Segesman of Shady Cove were hosts for a party at the Rogue River lodge Saturday evening celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary. A cake for the occasion was baked and decorated by Mrs. Jack Ross of Trail.

The Shady Cove 4-H club has now grown to such an extent that the 22 members are divided into two groups, with Mrs. Gene Weitman and Mrs. James Smith acting as leaders for the 5th graders sewing group and Mrs. Cecil Kee as leader for the 6th and 7th grade group.

The sewing groups are the Sew and Sew club and the cooking club has been named the Lucky Clover. This club, which has a total of 22 enrolled is under the leadership of Miss Bonnie Smith and Mrs. Ivan Hale.

The members of the cooking committee and officers of the club held an executive meeting at the home of Miss Bonnie Smith Thursday afternoon and the regular 4-H meeting was held after school Monday, Feb. 9th at the Smith home. Anyone interested in helping out with this project by acting as leader is asked to contact Mrs. Ivan Hale or Mrs. Cecil Kee.

Friends in the area have received word of the death of Mrs. Gertrude Lewin of Cutler City, Ore., who died suddenly on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at her home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewin were former residents of Shady Cove, living here for several years in the old Strowbridge house on the River road, before moving to Medford.

Mrs. Lewin was a charter member of the Shady Cove Grange, serving in the offices of chaplain and HEC chairman. The Lewins entered the Phoenix Grange by demit after moving to Medford and then this past year they moved to Cutler City.

Mrs. Lewin had been in ill health for some time.

Travis Littlefield of Shady Cove made a trip to Santa Cruz, Calif., where he attended the funeral of his youngest brother, Erlberg G. Littlefield.

Newcomers to Shady Cove are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Monical and baby daughter, Lisa, who have moved into the Hutchinson house next to the Shady Cove motel.

Gary is the music and band teacher for the Shady Cove-Trail schools and they have been living in the Stafford house at Trail.

Phil Nevins of Shady Cove will attend a bull sale and cattle auction in Red Bluff, Calif., over the week end of Feb. 7 and 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bartus of Shady Cove have been vacationing in California, where they have been visiting with Mrs. Bartus's mother, Mrs. Lola Joyner, and other friends and relatives.

James Lowery of Rogue River drive, Shady Cove, was hurt in a logging accident last week, suffering a concussion. He is confined to bed at home but is progressing satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Harper of Shady Cove have purchased a home on Mallory Lane from Mr. and Mrs. Gene House. They have been renting a house from O. L. Williams next to the Al Andre family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sagaser of Brookings, Ore., were house guests at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bergren of Shady Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis M. Littlefield have received word of the marriage of their granddaughter, Miss Ula Mae Hostetter, of Gales Creek, Ore., to Mr. Don Rounds of Seattle, in a sunrise ceremony on the beach near Rockaway. Rounds is a graduate of Oregon State college and Mrs. Rounds is attending the University of Oregon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Shady Cove PTA will be held Tuesday, Feb. 10, at the Shady Cove school. On the agenda for the evening will be the election of the nominating committee and the Founder's Day program.

There will be a baked and unbaked food sale on Valentine's day, Saturday, Feb. 14, meaning that either donations of food or cash contributions will be accepted. For pick-up Chicago—UPI—Dentists, appropriately enough, have come up with a jawbreaker of a new word to describe a new instrument. Dr. Harry C. Peake of Parkhill, Ont., told a meeting of dentists Monday about the psychostethokytograph-anometer, an instrument to measure changes in respiration which occur in a patient as he reacts to sound.

Infected teeth or sinus may cause damage to the eyes, and eye trouble may affect the digestion.

The Rev. Peterson of Shady Cove gave a talk at the last regular meeting of the PTA on the moral and spiritual value of education, which was followed by a round table discussion of the question "Is Discipline Strong Enough?" Refreshments were served by the 5th grade mothers.

Mrs. Claude Goodwin of Big Butte creek, Trail expects to have the cast taken off her foot and ankle this week. She made a trip recently to Portland to consult a bone specialist, as she has now had three casts on her foot and the bone does not seem to be healing properly.

The Shady Cove-Trail fire department now has a new fire truck, which has been obtained on a yearly lease basis. The fire truck, as well as the old one, will be manned entirely by volunteers and it is hoped that more people interested in this work will turn out to the meetings which are held at the fire hall on the first and third Monday evenings of the month. The board of directors will meet Monday, Feb. 9.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Levulett of Shady Cove were Art's sister, Mrs. Sabra George, of Klamath Falls and his nephew, Bud George, of Medford.

The Jackson County Motor Court assn. held a luncheon and meeting at Ping's restaurant, Medford, last week, with a number of local business people attending.

Those present were Mrs. Wyles Berry of Rogue Woods Vacation Lane, Trail, president of the association; Mrs. John Sprague of Rogue River lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Eastin of Eastin's resort, Trail, Pete Karner of California-on-the-Rogue and Art Hutcheson of the Shady Cove motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mitchell of Chula Vista, Calif., were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clark of Big Butte creek, Trail, recently.

They were called here by the disappearance and supposed drowning of Mitchell's father, Robert Mitchell, of Eagle Point. The accident happened when Mr. Mitchell was out in a boat fishing near Galice.

People nearby saw him stand up and fall from the boat into the water but at last reports his body had not been located.

Mrs. C. R. Cooper of Trail has been ill at home for two weeks with influenza and a bad cold.

A barn belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Burt Ragsdale of Trail burned to the ground early last Saturday morning. The barn was filled with hay and farming and logging equipment valued at about $1,500 and it was a total loss.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whipple of Los Angeles have been visiting with the Whipples' daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Shady Cove. Other house guests of the Smiths have been their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Minto and sons, David, Don, Jim and Ralph of Eagleville, Calif.

By coincidence, the Minto's ranch in Eagleville adjoins one owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Groves, cousins of Carroll Watson, of Shady Cove.

Miss Bonnie Smith has returned home from South Carolina, where she was attending Bob Jones university, and is staying with her parents now. She plans to enroll in Southern Oregon college soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turner of Trail have returned home after taking care of the Scotts Gift and Baby shop in Ashland for two weeks for friends. While there they also had an opportunity to visit many old friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Walter Sattler of the Busy Beaver motel has just returned from a combined business and pleasure trip to California. She accompanied her son, Dale Sattler, and mother, Mrs. Myrtle Jones, back. They had spent several days visiting in Shady Cove.

Market Analyst Offers Advice On What Stocks To Purchase

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

New York—UPI—What should one buy in the way of common stocks at this time—prestige perennials, light blue chips, escapist equities, speculative cats and dogs, limbo stocks, or the authentic special situations?

B. K. Thurlow, analyst for J. R. Williston & Beane, has coined those designations, and he offers advice on all of them.

The prestige perennials—the blue chips—probably will continue to rise until the bubble is finally pricked, Thurlow admits, but he lists them as dangerous and unattractive speculations.

He finds recent market action of the light blue chips—those semi-investment stocks just outside the pale—more encouraging.

Here's his formula for selecting a good light chip:

—The company's capitalization should be big enough so that a single buyer can pick up a million dollars' worth without upsetting the market.

—The stock should have been regarded as cyclical during some part of 1957-1958 and should have undertaken definite projects to cut costs and diversify.

—Earnings must begin to show a substantial improvement.

Other Reason Minor

—Other reasons that appear should be regarded as frosting on the cake.

And here's a good tip from Thurlow—a trade secret, he calls it:

Pick something the institutions might like.

Here's the best bet: The authentic special situation which everyone seems to be looking for—a stock which appeals to few people when it is really cheap.

"Recognizing that a situation is strikingly undervalued," Thurlow says, "they are content to let someone else hold it until it is ready to move."

"The irrational nature of such a decision becomes apparent only when the situation works out exactly as predicted and the over-clever investors, waiting for the right time to buy, has missed the entire move."

Thurlow's escapist equities include both defensive and speculative issues. Collective buying of these in 1957, he says, put them up to a point where they have ceased to be defensive against a market decline.

Theory Rarely Substantiated

So far as the speculative cats and dogs are concerned, Thurlow says the theory is they are supposed to rise and make a quick killing. In practice, he notes, they are usually bought hastily on inadequate, meaningless or false information on the naive belief others will be willing to pay higher prices when the good news spreads. Here someone inevitably is left holding the bag.

The limbo stocks of the Thurlow group are those between outright speculations and special situations. They are the hot tips of yesterday or special situations which never quite turned out.

"After the excitement died down, they more than likely came to rest to be forgotten until one day they drift low enough in price to attract buying or until they are brought to life in some future bull market by the hot breath of rumor or the red blood of new management."

Thurlow doesn't think the

Japanese Firm Blamed for Sinking

Tokyo—UPI—The Higher Marine Disaster Inquiry Board Monday upheld a lower board ruling that the Japanese National Railway Corp. was responsible for the sinking of the ferry boat Toya Maru with the loss of 1,172 lives, including 59 Americans.

The 4,337-ton ferryboat, plying between Honshu and Hokkaido Islands, sank in a typhoon, Sept. 26, 1954, in Japan's worst marine disaster. The decision placed the major blame on the ship's captain, Heichi Kondo, who went down with the vessel, for putting out to sea in such bad weather.

time is near when government bonds regain their acceptance as "the safest investment in the world."

Hence, he concludes, common stocks still appear to be the best investment vehicle.

The problem, of course, is to choose the right ones.
