

Searchers Await Clue To Plane

Salem —(UPI)—Improvement in the weather permitted a wider air search Tuesday between Prineville and Salem in efforts to locate a missing single-engine white Stinson plane with three brothers aboard, but searchers found nothing.

Earl Snyder, director of the State Board of Aeronautics, said the active search will not be continued today but planes were placed on a standby status pending new leads.

Although searchers had no new leads to go on Tuesday, Snyder said at least 25 planes were up and about 95 per cent of an area marked for search was covered. The hunt centered in a 45-mile radius around the North Santiam area extending from Mill City to Mt. Jefferson.

The four-place Stinson vanished Friday after taking off from Prineville bound for Salem. Aboard were the pilot, Jim Miller, 24, Ashland and his twin brothers, Roy and Coy, 14, Turner. Until Tuesday most search planes were grounded by snow, ice and low clouds.

Cooking Class to Start at Hedrick

Husbands and wives may take the series of international foods classes being conducted by Julie Tummers, Central Point, at Hedrick Junior High school, Medford, each Wednesday night, school officials said today.

The first cooking class starts Wednesday, Feb. 18, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The course will emphasize cooking with herbs and wines, Mrs. Tummers said. Cooking from all countries, including succulent dishes involving fish, meats, vegetables and soups, is included in the course. Registration may be made during the first session, she added.

Mother of Singer Objects To Wedding

Hollywood —(UPI)—Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti, 22, announced Tuesday night she would wed composer-arranger Buddy Bregman in April despite strong protests voiced by her mother.

"Before when this came up," Mrs. Vittoria Alberghetti said, "I said I was going to be sick the day the marriage took place. I am still going to be sick."

"I will not attend the ceremony," Mrs. Alberghetti said, "I don't like a divorced man for my daughter. I was born in another country where we don't think at all to marry a man that is divorced."

Bregman was married once before and is of the Jewish faith while Anna has never been married and is a Roman Catholic.

Portland Housewife Cleared by Jury

Portland —(UPI)—A 25-year-old Portland housewife Mrs. Edna Peard Gordon, was cleared by a Multnomah county grand jury Tuesday in the fatal stabbing of her husband, Sam Gordon, Feb. 1.

At the same time, the jury returned an indictment of second degree murder against Leonard Lyle Anderson, 47, Portland, charging him with the shooting death of Joseph Sprier, 43, last Sunday. Sprier was killed by a shot through a closed door from a 30.06 rifle.

Grange News

Central Point Grange Eighty-two members and guests attended the regular meeting of Central Point Grange Feb. 6. Highlights of the lecturer's program, of which Mrs. Walt Mang was chairman for the K through R list of the membership, was a group of square dances presented by the Rogue Valley "Black Lighters," under the direction of their president, Criss Wolff.

Mrs. Otto Neidermeyer led all present in singing "Little Brown Jug" and "Daisy, Daisy." Facts of early Oregon history were read by Mrs. Cecil Keenan. An array of old articles used in the early days were on the display table.

The fact that all officers were present as well as the large attendance made Friday's meeting a record breaking one. The committee reports were informative, especially the report given by John Neidermeyer of the Legislative committee concerning the bills before the Oregon legislature affecting farmers.

Reports of the pre-ticket sale for the Centennial dinner being given by the Grange Feb. 14 indicated that about two-thirds of the tickets had been sold. However there are tickets still available from the chairman of sales, Delmar Smith, Mrs. Floux, or may be purchased at the door the night of the dinner. Final plans for the dinner and program were announced by Home Economics Chairman Mrs. Charles Jantzer, and Mrs. Scott Hamilton, writer and director of the pageant, "On the Oregon Trail."

A vote of thanks was given by the Grange to the men, who cleaned and refurnished the hall floor.

Mrs. O. T. Wilson will be chairman for the members group S through Z, on Feb. 20. This also will be the night of the first Grange visitation

Search for Hidden Radio Station Set

Radio operators from four organizations will participate in finding a hidden radio station within a five-mile radius of Medford in the near future.

Earl Casebolt, Medford, a representative of the American Radio Relay league, is in charge of the search and will announce the date, meeting place and rules. Casebolt is emergency coordinator for the amateur radio emergency corps.

Units participating will be the Military amateur radio system, the amateur radio emergency corps, the radio amateur civil emergency system (civil defense) and the Civil Air Patrol.

The hidden station will be permitted to use foreign languages, but must be identified in English every 10 minutes. It will operate in the two-meter band one of two frequencies: 145.26 or 147.06 megacycles.

Civil defense mobile stations, direction finding equipment, and other radio equipment will be used in the search.

REJECTS ALTERNATIVE

Atlanta —(UPI)—Travis B. Davis, accused of waving a "slow down" sign to warn motorists approaching a police radar zone, chose to pay a $50 fine rather than accept an alternative offered him by Judge Frank White. White said the fine would be waived if Davis agreed to display the sign eight hours a day for five days in the center of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Floux, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunn, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hammond were the serving committee for the evening.

Coos Bay Local Rejects Proposal

Coos Bay —(UPI)—Members of Coos Bay local 7-261 of the International Woodworkers of America voted unanimously Tuesday night to reject a proposal submitted by the Weyerhaeuser Timber company aimed at settling a dispute over the firing of a truck driver.

The dispute, which broke out in December, has periodically idled nearly all Weyerhaeuser operations in Oregon and Washington with the appearance of pickets from the Coos Bay local at plants in both states.

H. Kenneth Johnson, vice president and acting business manager of the local, said more than 500 union members voted. He announced, however, that pickets were recalled Tuesday night from all Weyerhaeuser operations except at Coos Bay as a "display of good will."

He also said the local's strike committee would meet today to discuss the matter of whether to continue the union's offer to arbitrate the firing of the truck driver.

Details of the company offer were not made known.

POSSIBLE CANCER CAUSE

London —(UPI)—Professor F. C. Pybus, a leading British surgeon, warned today that smoke from burning leaves and garden rubbish are possible causes of cancer. Pybus, professor emeritus of surgery at the University of Durham, wrote in the magazine The Medical Press that, "the smoke from these smoldering heaps is darker, more irritating, generally four smelling and, as might be expected, contains benzopyrene, a suspected cancer agent."

LONGER WORK WEEK

Washington —(UPI)—Rep. Glenn Cunningham (R-Neb.), says in his newsletter that Congress should be put on a five or six-day week to eliminate "Tuesday-to-Thursday's club members." Cunningham said congressmen from states near Washington stay in the capital only from Tuesday morning until Thursday afternoon.
