Halfield Seeks Interstate Swap Of Power Study

Eugene — (UPI) — Gov. Mark Hatfield has disclosed a possible intertie between Oregon and California whereby the two states might exchange electric power.

Hatfield told a meeting of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers association Friday night that he called together some 40 private and public power interests Thursday to determine whether the individual firms and organizations would back a fact-finding study of both groups.

Hatfield said, "The unanimous consensus of both groups" was that we should proceed to establish a fact-finding committee on which to base future action.

The governor said he planned to contact Gov. Edward G. Brown of California in regard to the wishes of the public power group and also Gov. Albert Rossellini of Washington. Brown and Rossellini are Democrats, while Hatfield is a Republican.

Hatfield said an intertie might mean "we would attract California's more enthusiastic backing for federal projects in the Northwest."

Local Oil Group Receives Award

Portland — (UPI) — Medford and Portland groups received awards at the annual Oregon Oil Information committee banquet here Friday night for "outstanding accomplishment in explaining the operation and aims of the petroleum industry."

Portland's 33-member committee was judged best in the metropolitan division. Eugene received honorable mention in that category. Medford won first place in the suburban classification with The Dalles winning honorable mention.

The banquet drew more than 150 representatives of the oil business from Oregon and southwest Washington.

Special awards went to George Klein, Portland group chairman, and Howard Lage, Medford chairman.

Beef, Inc. Drive Concludes March 1

March 1 is the end of the round-up dollar drive for Beef, Inc., according to E. E. Davis, North Powder, president.

The funds will be used to finance an exhibit at the Centennial exposition opening in Portland on June 10.

Pledges and donations have edged over the halfway mark and total nearly $35,000, according to a report from Davis recently. The planned exhibit would feature the historical aspects of Oregon's cattle industry plus a modern approach to feeding a beef-hungry public, Davis said. The exhibit would include an Old-West theatre for showing cattle ranching and beef industry movies.

First Oregon county to reach its Beef, Inc. fund-raising goal was Gilliam, where the drive went over the top early, the president said.

Gas Tax Increase Alternatives Are Aired at Hearing

Salem — (UPI) — An increase in automobile license fees and a one-cent per gallon gasoline tax boost were suggested Thursday night at a hearing of the House Highways committee.

Rep. Fred Meek (R-Portland) suggested the license plate fee hike as an alternative. Howard Merriam Eugene, former state representative, said a $5 plate fee would make the least disturbance in the automotive tax structure and that it would amount to about the same cost to motorists driving 9000 miles a year.

Strongly Against
Meek said his constituents were strongly against a gasoline tax increase.

Sid King of the Oregon State Motor association said he favored a bond issue over a gasoline tax if possible because a large part of a gasoline tax would go to cities and counties instead of to the federal highway system.

$20 Million
Highway engineer W. C. Williams said the one-cent gasoline tax would bring in about 20 million dollars in the next five years, to be matched by the 20 million, he said, the 70 million ultimately would revert to the federal fund and be allocated to other states.

Williams indicated no money would be lost if the one-cent boost were put off until the 1961 session but that the state would lose about 18 months in construction time.

Eleven Firemen Stricken by Gas

Portland — (UPI) — Eleven Portland firemen were hospitalized late Friday after becoming ill from phosgene gas fumes inhaled while extinguishing a one-alarm blaze at a duplex in Northeast Portland. Hospital attendants said the condition of all 11 was "satisfactory."

The firemen were exposed to the fumes after answering a fire call at the residence of Kenneth Bleasdel. A fire started in some hot grease on a stove. Fire department officials said carbon tetrachloride was poured on the flames before firemen arrived in an effort to put out the fire and the gas formed from the fluid. Fire and smoke damage was estimated at $50.

Hospitalized were Robert West, Charles Row and Robert Payne, all of engine company 14; Lt. Dean Kitto and Wynn Wittke of engine company 24; Lt. Wilson Butts, Jack Shafer, Ralph Gibson and William Ireland, all of truck 7, and Earl Ferris and Dave Rennie of engine company 34.

The population of the Union of South Africa is now more than 11 million persons. When the British came about 150 years ago it was only about 50,000.
