Yanks Are Coming!

Nat Bradford

This lively game needs a big yard. Two lines of players stand up about 25 feet apart. IT stands between the two lines. Suddenly IT calls,

"Now's the time. Get ready—

Thanks!

Now's the time I try some

Yanks!"

Then both sides run across the space between the lines. Each tries to get to the other line without letting IT tag or yank him. The game goes on until the last player is tagged. The first one tagged is IT next game. The last one tagged wins.

Needling!

Maude E. Hallmer

Try this trick when your friends come to play. Ask them if they can make a needle float in a glass of water. After a few tries they will probably say it can't be done. Then it's up to you to show them how!

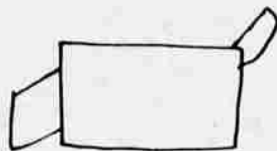

When doing this trick, there are two things to remember. First, the needle must be clean and it must be dry. Second, you must set it down very carefully on the surface of the water, so that the whole length of the needle touches the water at the same time. You will find it can be done after a little practice.

Let's Draw a Scotty

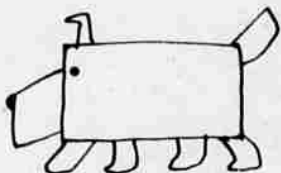

Ann Davidow

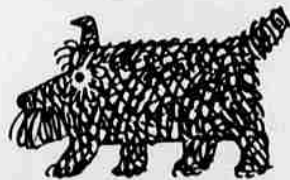

No dog was ever "squarier" Than this Scottish Terrier,

Short of leg and rather squatty, This playful pet we nickname "Scotty."

Who wags his tail (the little clown) Both side-to-side and up-and-down.

Seems a kind of blacky blur Beneath his wiry coat of fur.
