Annual Dinner Planned; Group Recalls Early Days

The annual St. Patrick's ham dinner will be given by St. Ann's Altar society of Sacred Heart parish Sunday afternoon, March 1.

The dinner, traditionally served the Sunday closest to St. Patrick's day, is being moved ahead this year because of the early date of Easter.

Mrs. Elmer Ness, president of the Altar society, has announced that co-chairmen for the affair are Mrs. John Mansfield and Mrs. I. P. Gonzales. Mrs. Sherman Feiss and Mrs. Clem Joyer, co-chairmen of last year's dinner, are assisting in an advisory capacity.

While the usual St. Patrick theme is being preserved throughout the planning for this year's event, according to committee members the Oregon Centennial celebration.

Some 40 years ago, before the present Sacred Heart church was built, it became the yearly custom for the Altar society to serve a ham dinner, with sweet potatoes and pumpkin pie, to the community on St. Patrick's day. After a few years the traditional date became the Sunday nearest the feast of St. Patrick.

Incidents Recalled

Many incidents have been recalled by the women who remember those early dinners, some humorous and some nearly disastrous. The green whipped cream on Mrs. Frank Applegate's pumpkin pie caused quite a sensation on one occasion. And cooking on one small stove in a too-small parish hall always presented problems. Much of the preparation was done in the kitchen of the rectory; or food was cooked in the homes of the parishioners, then warmed up in the rectory and finally transported, often through heavy rains, to the tables in the parish hall.

Attendance at these dinners steadily increased throughout the years as facilities improved and it became possible to handle the larger crowds. But the occasion was recalled when one zealous member of the society sold so many tickets that customers were lined up far along the street and finally it was necessary to refund their money with embarrassment because there was neither the room nor the food to serve them all.

Many present and former members of St. Ann's society have worked for many years on the traditional St. Patrick's dinner. Only a few of these are Mrs. Mary Weston, Mrs. Applegate, Mrs. Clara Fisher, Mrs. Sid Brown, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Frank DeSouza, Mrs. Rose Singler and Mrs. J. P. Naumes.

According to the committee everyone interested is invited to attend this year's event.

OSC Mothers Attend Session Of State Board

Five officers of Jackson College Mothers' club attended a state board meeting held in Roseburg February 20. Attending from Jackson county were Mrs. Charles Forrest, Ashland, state vice-president; Mrs. E. M. Stansfield, district representative; Mrs. John Carter, state scholarship committee; Mrs. C. B. Cordy, president, Jackson County unit; Mrs. Ben Greaser, secretary of thee county unit, all of Medford.

The state president, Mrs. Bertram Dicky, Portland, conducted the meeting. A report on the 19 tuition scholarships given last year by the club was presented by Mrs. Fred Shideler, Corvallis, state scholarship chairman. The student chairman for Mothers' week end, Miss Anne Baugher, announced the dates set for the week end in Corvallis as May 1-3.

Miss Helen S. Moore, dean of women, Oregon State college, will visit this area April 10.

The next meeting of the Jackson County unit will be planned to coincide with this date. All mothers of students attending OSC are invited to attend.

The activity planned to raise money for Jackson county's participation in the scholarship program is a rummage sale to be held Thursday and Friday, February 26 and 27 in the Fehl building, Medford. Anyone interested in donating rummage or helping on the sale may call any of the above officers.

Gold Hill Lodge To Hold Party

Gold Hill–Gold Hill Odd Fellow's lodge will hold a party Tuesday, February 24 at 8 p.m., in the IOOF hall. Their guests will be members of Amethyst Rebekah lodge, their husbands who are not members of the Odd Fellow's lodge, and wives of Odd Fellows who are not members of Amethyst Rebekah lodge, according to Robert McDaniel, noble grand.

Jerry Herrington has been named chairman for the entertainment that evening. The noble grand said a brief business session will be held by the Odd Fellows prior to the occasion.

The refreshment committee is made up of H. D. Force, Leonard Andrews, and Jerry Herrington.

H. D. Force, captain of the degree team and his associates, gave the first degree of the order at a meeting held here Tuesday, February 17. Candidates were Guy Forbes, Jacksonville; Jay Robinson, Carter Howell, Donald Whisenant, and Percery Wetherdoe all from Grants Pass. Visitors were present from Odd Fellow's lodges in Jacksonville, Grants Pass, and Alhambra, Calif.

Candidates will receive the second degree in Grants Pass on Wednesday evening, March 4, Mr. McDaniels said.

Women Drivers Vote For Smaller Cars

New York –(UPI)– Women drivers want to improve the safety and comfort of automobiles, a survey shows.

Suburban homemakers told Professional Research Associates that they want smaller cars, but with plenty of comfort and room. They also voted for such safety features as padded dashboards, collapsible steering wheels and safety belts.

Only seven per cent of women interviewed said they had no major driving complaint. The biggest problem–too few and too small parking places.

Dream Kitchens

Chicago – (UPI) – Researchers asked homemakers about their dream kitchens and got a surprise. The women are more interested in realistic space-saving devices and cooking units than in gadgets.

One and a half-million women in 19 cities participated in the study of examining nine advanced kitchen designs. And then, naturally, they spoke their minds.

Guardians Inspect Bethel 56

Shady Cove–Bethel 56, International Order of Jobs Daughters, held initiation and inspection Thursday, February 19, at the VFW hall in Shady Cove.

Initiated were the Misses Linda Weitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Weitman, and Sheri Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Watson, all Shady Cove.

Mrs. Edward Goodnough, Eugene, grand guardian for Oregon, and Harold McIsaac, Parkdale, associate grand guardian, inspected the bethel.

Honored guests were Mrs. Harold McIsaac, grand chaplain; Mrs. W. K. Sult, grand marshal; L. H. Manning, grand inner guard; Mrs. C. D. Elhart, guardian of Bethel 14, Medford, and past grand guardian of Oregon; Mrs. Melvin Harsh, worthy matron and Russel C. Fair, patron of Nevita chapter, Order of Eastern Star and Dad advisor to Crater chapter Order of DeMolay, and Jim Hopkins, worshipful master of Cascade lodge.

Visiting members of valley bethels were also present.

Miss Suzanne Rogers and Miss Eda Larson were elected delegates to the grand session in April. The date of March 14 was set for the bethel rummage and food sale to be held in the Eagles building in Medford.

Queen Linda expressed her gratitude, joined by her bethel associates, to the neighboring bethel officers who assisted her during her evening ceremonies. They were Miss Barbara Gordon, senior princess, Bethel 55, Medford, Miss Marva Sult, past queen, Bethel 37, Bandon and Miss Julie Yoakley, recorder, Bethel 14, Medford.

The hall was decorated in the theme of "hearts and flowers."

Immediately following the meeting, Mrs. Goodnough and Mr. McIsaac were honored with an addendum. The daughters participating appeared wearing spring bonnets decked with floral sprays, formed a semi-circle and sang "It Might as Well Be Spring," accompanied by Miss Julie Yoakley at the piano.

A cake, made by Mrs. Frank Hawks, was cut and served by the Misses Sandra Hawks and Loretta Rone, assisted by Mrs. Hawks and Mrs. Larson.

Prior to the meeting, Mrs. Goodnough and Mr. McIsaacs were honored at a banquet held at the Rogue River lodge, attended by guardians, bethel members and line officers.

Pastor to Speak For Guild Tonight

The Rev. John Power will speak on "Lent" at a meeting of St. Catherine's guild of St. Mark's Episcopal church to be held tonight.

It is stated that the Rev. Mr. Power will begin to speak promptly at 8:10 o'clock. Anyone interested is invited to hear him speak.

Newest Dishwasher Cleans Sticky Plates

Los Angeles–(UPI)–A new dishwasher automatically cleans sticky plates and crusted pots and pans.

A 17-minute cycle includes a pre-wash period which eliminates hand scrubbing and scouring of cooking ware and non-heat resistant plastics. If no pans are to be washed, a three-minute pre-wash cycle rinses dishes and glassware. Detergent is automaticlly released. Dishes go through two final fresh, hot-water rinses. The washer comes in a mobile convertible model and table model with a Formica drop-leaf top. Front panels are available in colors, copper, stainless steel, or natural wood and plastic.

Perk Up Peas

New York–(UPI)–Canned peas and water chestnuts are good flavor-mates. To serve 4, melt ¼ cup butter or margarine. Add 1 (1 pound) can peas, drained, 1 (5¼-ounce) can water chestnuts, drained and chopped, 1 teaspoon onion salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Gold Hill Lodge Observes Sixty - First Anniversary

Gold Hill – The Centennial theme was used for the observance of Amethyst Rebekah lodge's 61st anniversary celebration at a meeting of the order held Wednesday, February 18 in the Odd Fellow's hall here. Tribute was paid to charter members that evening. Mrs. Carrie Puhl, Garden Row, Gold Hill, was present to receive her honors and a letter was read from another charter member, William Carter, a retired Portland attorney, who stated his regrets at not being able to attend.

Mrs. Puhl and Mr. Carter are the only living charter members of the lodge, which was instituted by Hope Rebekah lodge at Ashland February 14, 1898. About 50 candidates became members at that time.

Mrs. Paul Molloy and Mrs. C. Norman Gail sang a vocal selection, especially arranged for "Carrie" and Mrs. George Dorman presented the gift.

Outstanding authentic costumes of the 1859 era were worn by Mrs. Delos Walker, Mrs. Roy Bornoman, Mrs. Thomas Z. Smith, Mrs. James Clement, and Mrs. C. Norman Gail.

Mrs. Jerry Herrington, noble grand conducted the business session. Those named to serve on the March refreshment and program committee were Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. Harry Quinn and Mrs. William Fields.

Members accepted an invitation from the Odd Fellow's lodge to join the group for a social evening, Tuesday, February 24 at 8 p.m. at the IOOF hall. It was stressed that all Rebekahs and their husbands who are not members of the Odd Fellows and wives of Odd Fellows who are not members of Amethyst Rebekah lodge, are invited to attend this social affair which will be the first of many planned by the Odd Fellows.

Unique old fashioned dolls appropriately dressed were used for the table arrangements, and a pancake supper was served during the social hour in the lodge dining-room. Those in charge of the refreshments and decorations in keeping with the Oregon Centennial theme were Mrs. C. Norman Gail, Mrs. Delos Walker, Mrs. Wilmer Bailey, and Mrs. James Clement.

The next meeting of the lodge will be held Wednesday, March 4 at 8 p.m.

Past Noble Grand's club of Amethyst Rebekah lodge will meet at the home of Mrs. Lester Parker, Lampman road, Thursday, February 26 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Daniel Stewart, president of the group said that election of officers for the ensuing year will be held. A valentine party will be held.

Plans for the annual club dinner will be made.

Doctor's Fees Increase Like Other Living Costs

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

New York – (UPI) – Doctors' fees like other living costs, have soared.

New Jersey physicians charged only $7.50 to deliver a baby – in 1784.

About the same time, a doctor would dress a wound and "take one stitch" for a dollar in New Hampshire. Additional stitches cost 25 cents apiece.

A pioneer doctor in Bangor, Maine, would call at your home for $1. But if you lived more than one mile from his office, he'd charge extra at the rate of 50 cents a mile.

The bargain rates didn't last, according to accounts in "Medical America," published by a drug firm, Shering. The reason: Doctors faced "increased living costs and depreciation of currency value."

Education Was Cheap

The cost of seeing a doctor hit an all-time high in California during the gold rush. Office cails were $32, up from $5 before the gold fever. When the rush was going full tilt, a doctor called to a patient's home at night expected $100.

Medical education, according to the historians, was dirt cheap in the good old days.

Buffalo Medical college, for example, charged $150 for a "medical education ticket" in 1885. It was good for as many courses as the student desired to attend or needed for graduation.

Tuition at a medical school operated by a Paul Micheau in New Jersey in 1790 was even cheaper. He gave one lecture a day for two months, charging $25 for the full course.

Different, too, were "remedies" in the pioneer days. Around 1840, according to historians of the Oregon Medical society, "bleeding checked itself when cobwebs were applied." Other remedies:

Praise Pioneer Doctors

"Poultices concocted of wheat, flour and salt. Whiskey was universally used. Sunflower seed soaked in spirits for 12 hours and taken internally was used for rheumatism.

"For insect bites and stings, mud was applied. Onion syrup was used for children's colds."

Historians sing the praises of pioneer doctors, too.

One of the heroes, Dr. Edmund Strudwick, of North Carolina, performed a complicated life-saving operation on an acutely ill patient during the 1800's. At the time, Dr. Strudwick's leg was broken – and unset.

In Danville, Kl., around the same time, Dr. Ephriam McDowell surgically removed an ailing ovary from a woman. It took him 25 minutes and he had to operate without an anesthetic. The patient, a Mrs. Jane Crawford, lived to 78, when she died of old age.

WINNER—Delores Ann Krenek won high score in the cotton division of the 1958 State 4-H Dress Revue at the Texas State Fair in Dallas. Her smart navy cotton is a double-duty dress. The jacket may be removed for party wear.

Faculty Member Talks for Group

Dr. Arthur Taylor of Southern Oregon college gave an informative talk on early Oregon schools of higher education at the last meeting of Jackson County Retired Teachers' association. It was held in the Ashland library.

Mrs. Mamie Bloomfield told of her work with retarded children in a private school recently opened.

Dinner Given By Boy Scouts At Lodge Hall

A gathering of some 80 parents, friends and Boy Scouts shared a dinner and program given by Troop 16, Boy Scouts of America in the Pythian building last Wednesday evening. Scout officer Harry Barneburg gave the invocation at the dinner. Mrs. Paul Fullmer was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Treavell Turpin and Mrs. Wallace Martin.

Talisman lodge, Knights of Pythias, sponsored Troop 16 and the new Explorer Post, of which Emil O. Johnson, Jr. is Institutional representative.

Six tenderfoot boys were made scouts at the investiture ceremony which followed. Harry Barneburg, member of the district committee of Crater Lake council, was the investing officer.

The six new scouts are Mike Minnis, Gene Kadin, Darrell Wells, Donald Hale, Joe Puzzo and A. T. Highland. James O'Duane was a transfer from Troop 8 into Troop 16. A second class award was given to Gary Christensen; star award to Bobby Jones, and merit badges to Bobby Jones for fingerprinting and scholarship; Grant Maysfield for home repairs and fingerprinting; Tommy Martin for pigeon raising.

Committeemen Treavell Turpin and Calvin Hansen, Daniel Kadin, Ted Christensen, Wallace Martin, Emil O. Johnson, Bob Hiatt, Lew Conger, James P. O'Duane, J. V. Stephenson, Richard Schuchard, and Joseph W. Fritsch.

Retiring Scoutmaster John E. Schroeder was presented a gift as a token of appreciation for the "fine work and devoted attention given Troop 16, during his years of service for Talisman lodge." Dan Kadin, chancellor commander of the lodge, made the presentation. Mike Hayes has assumed the duties as new scoutmaster, with Larry LaFever as his assistant. Mr. Barneburg gave a brief account of scouting and the requirements of the new Explorer group being formed.

Part of the food for the meal was contributed by Mayor John W. Snider, member of the lodge.

Guardians Visit Junction Bethel

Cave Junction – Mrs. Edward Goodnough, grand guardian of International Order of Job's Daughters, inspected Bethel 36 at the last meeting. Also present for the meeting were Harold McIsaac, Parkdale, Ore., associate grand guardian; Mrs. McIsaac, grand musician; Mrs. W. K. Sult, Talent, grand marshal; Mrs. June Mackie, Grants Pass, grand chaplain.

Glenda Stava, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tona Stava, Cave Junction, was initiated.

Plans were made for a rummage sale March 7 in the building adjacent to the city hall, and as a Centennial project, the girls will maintain a booth where potted fir tree seedlings will be sold.

Mrs. Goodnough presented Queen Carmel White with a Jobie doll. An addendum was given in honor of Mrs. Goodnough by six members under the direction of Mrs. William Weingart.

The unusual table decorations were arrangements of cones with ceramic figurines of little forest creatures made by Mrs. Robert Breckenridge.

Nylon Hose Celebrates Twentieth Anniversary

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

New York – (UPI) – This month marks the 20th birthday of the greatest boon to feminine legs since skirts moved off the floor.

Nylon stocks first went on sales in February, 1939.

Today, we take the synthetic fiber for granted, not only for our stockings, but for lingerie, other apparel for the whole family, and an infinite variety of uses from toothbrushes to tires.

It has not always been so. Some of us are ancient enough to remembering owning our first pair of nylon hose around 1940, and also to recall that just as we were getting used to them on our gams, the fiber went to war. The result was hardly panic; we just reverted to stockings from an even older synthetic fiber – rayon. Silk had become a casualty too; and embargo on its import went into effect in August, 1941.

They Were Precious

But we repaired and coddled any nylons we owned. Remember those stories of rewards offered for the lost half of a pair? Or, the stories of long queues of women, and sometimes men, which formed when a store got a precious supply?

E. I. DuPont de Nemours and company, which developed the fiber, leafed through some of its scrapbooks from those war years and uncovered one plaintive letter from a lovesick youth who asked for just one pair of nylons to cinch his engagement. "The value of the nylons will be equal to, and perhaps cherished more, than any diamond I could obtain for her now," he wrote. DuPont doesn't recall whether it helped Dan Cupid's cause by supplying a pair of hose.

The company's researcers first announced development of the test-tube fiber in October, 1938. The first full-fashioned hosiery from it went on sale to DuPont employees, February 20, 1939, with a girl's purchase limited to two pairs.

Much Sheerer Today

The hose first were shown to the public at the San Francisco World's Fair in February of the same year; but the first public sale was in October, 1939, to shoppers of Wilmington, Del., headquarters for DuPont. By May 15, 1940, nylons were selling nationally.

Today, DuPont and hosiery manufacturers both battle another "myth" – that nylons nowadays don't wear as well as the pre-war ones. But they explain that most of today's nylons are much more sheered than the early ones. The customer who demands gossamer weight even for general wear, they say, can't expect the same "life" she would get from heavier stockings.

The DuPont files include a story on how a nylon rush clogged telephone lines in the nation's capital in January, 1946. A radio announcer said that a chain of shoe stores had 1,900 pairs of nylons and the first 1,000 telephone callers would get them.

The result: Complete disruption of the capital's telephone service for an hour.

Fellowship Circles To Hold Meetings Monday and Tuesday

White Cross circles of Women's fellowship, First Baptist church, will meet Monday and Tuesday, February 23 and 24. Hannah circle will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Neeley home, 1037 West Eleventh street.

The meetings Tuesday of the day-time circles will start at 10:30 a.m. and those attending are to bring sack lunches. Those attending any circle should bring scissors, thimbles, needles, and if they have them, cotton and wool pieces for quilt blocks, old sheets for bandages, commemorative postage stamps, and plastic bags.

Mrs. Neeley will also be hostess for a meeting of Esther circle, with Mrs. N. A. Mead as chairman. Martha circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Chris Zink, 19 South Lewis street and Ruth circle at the Don Paulsen home, 508 Hamilton street. Mrs. Frank Stinson, 311 Vancouver avenue, will be hostess to the Nell Grubbs circle.

Three evening circles will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Carl Whitmore will be hostess to Mary circle at her home, 3250 North Pacific highway. Lois Circle will meet at the Marvin Kautz's home, 910 Grant street, and Mrs. Doyle Franklin will be hostess to Lydia circle at her home, 401 King street.

Birthday Party Planned by Club

Townsend club and auxiliary will honor members having February birthdays at a meeting Wednesday, February 25, at Carpenters' hall. A birthday cake will be served.

Bliss Heine, the club's program chairman, will arrange entertainment.

At last Wednesday's auxiliary meeting, two visitors were present. The club made arrangements to send flowers to Ray Ahart, who is a patient at the Veterans' hospital in Portland where he recently underwent surgery.

The meeting concluded with humorous stories and dancing.

Visitors are welcome at all times.

Founders' Day Marked by PTA

Jackson Parent-Teacher association observed Founders' day with a special program arranged by Mrs. John Russell. Brownie Troop 60 presented the colors, after which the fourth grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Edith Baker and Mrs. Norene French, sang a group of songs.

A square dance unit composed of fourth grade students taught by Mrs. Baker, appeared in a short number. A group of Mrs. Precia Medley's sixth grade students presented a skit depicting foreign countries and showing the scope of PTA.

The meeting closed with a candle-lighting ceremony. Refreshments were served by mothers of children in the third grade, with Mrs. Wilson Smith as chairman.

Former Member Speaker for Club

Rogue River – Mrs. C. Wolford, a former member of Rogue River Garden club, talked for a meeting of Rogue River Garden club held at the home of Mrs. Guy Hanley on Savage Creek road. Her topic was "Wings on Your Window Sill."

Mrs. Claude Close gave the tree study of the month on the madrone tree, and Mrs. Guy Hanley talked on the pansy and violet.

A valentine exchange was held.

Mrs. Julia Grove, a visitor in Rogue River from Iowa, was a guest.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Weed, Highway 99 south, March 17.
