Among the new attractions which have been added to the Future Nurses of America program this year are a scholarship plan and a hospitality committee.

The $100 scholarship will be presented to a senior FNA member who is planning on going into the field of nursing. Mrs. Juanita Anderson and the scholarship committee will choose the girl from among other senior applicants on the basis of interest and club activity.

Funds providing for the scholarship come from club dues and various club projects of the year.
 Martha Casad, hospitality committee chairman, is presently making plans for tray decorations for the nursing homes. This committee has had previous projects of creating several articles for nursing home patients at Christmas and on Valentine's day. Gift projects featuring greeting card albums with plastic covers for Easter and May day will soon get under way.

Fourteen members of the class of 1959 received their class rings recently. This final order was sent in last fall and it gave seniors who didn't buy rings last year an opportunity to do so.

At a Future Homemakers of America meeting Feb. 26, plans were made for the forthcoming FHA week, which will be held in April. During this time, the club will pick a "Teacher of the Day" each day and present her a red rose. Cup cakes and candy sales are being planned, too, and the club hopes to be able to decorate the main trophy case.

Also on the agenda was discussion on the annual FHA scholarship which is given to one member of the club. All FHA'ers interested must submit an essay before March 9.

The FHA state convention is now only two weeks away, and the club's advisor, Miss C. Udine Kratzberg, will accompany two members, De Anne Taylor and Mickie Doras, to it.

Monday during registration room there was a senior class meeting, the purpose of which was to give a preview of the play, "The Dairy of Anne Frank." Larty Anderson, class president, stated that for the work that the drama department has done he thought a tape recorder should be donated to them.

Sissel Frogner and Tom Tittel, exchange students at MHS, were the guest speakers at the Spanish club meeting last week. An open discussion followed their talks when students asked about their different customs and languages.

Advanced senior English classes worked on essays for the National High School Essay contest last week. The
