Medford Receives Walker Award

Medford is one of four Oregon cities to receive the 1958 Walker Safety Award certificate for police departments which materially reduced traffic fatalities and injuries, Frank J. Schira, Chicago, president of the National Police Officers association of America, has announced.

Other cities in Oregon to receive the award are Astoria, Dalles and Portland.

The Walker Safety Award program was designed to recognize efforts of law enforcement officers in the fair but strict enforcement of traffic regulations, Schira said.

"Where traffic violations are met with arrests the results save lives and pain to the injured," he said. The Walker award is named after the Walker Manufacturing company, Racine, Wis., which sponsors the program along with the National Police Officers association.
