Oregon Mother of Year On Television Programs

Mrs. Harlan P. Bosworth Jr., returned from Portland Friday night where she appeared on two programs which were taped and filmed for presentation today on Television Channel 8. The programs were arranged by Dr. Karlin Capper-Johnson, president of the Oregon United Nations' association.

Mrs. Bosworth, who was last week named 1959 Oregon Mother of the Year, is a member of the OUNA board.

The first film, made in the KGW studios, was for the program Community Workshop which will be shown at 10:30 a.m. today. Several members of the OUNA board, including Mrs. Bosworth and Dr. Capper-Johnson, and the consul from Panama stationed in Portland, discussed disarmament problems and the United Nations police force.

On the second film Mrs. Bosworth was interviewed by Dr. Capper-Johnson for his continuing program, "World Report," and this will be seen and heard on Channel 8 today at 2 p.m. Mrs. Bosworth shares the program time with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who was in Oregon last week for lecture appearances at the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Bosworth also spent a hour in conference with R. E. Hatchard, chief engineer of the Oregon Air Pollution authority.

While away Mrs. Bosworth spent a night in Salem as a guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes, and their four children.

Name Chairmen For Annual Tea

Committee chairmen for the annual cancer tea given by the Medford committee, American Cancer society, are being assigned now by the co-chairmen of the 1959 event, Mrs. Fred Spiegelberg and Mrs. N. James Wilson. Oregon's Centennial will provide the theme this year, with antique and old objects on display. The floral exhibit contest of previous years will be a feature of this year's tea also.

The planning of the tea was discussed at the March meeting of the Medford committee. Much of the meeting was occupied by the details necessary for the door-to-door crusade which is planned in April. The Medford committee is one of several groups that are helping with this projected educational campaign, and has been meeting monthly to work out a plan for reaching every home within the city limits.
