Fish Over Dams Prospects Brighter

Portland—Director Albert M. Day of the Oregon Fish Commission says prospects are looking brighter towards research into the problem of how to get fish over dams.

Day, who returned from a trip to Washington, D.C., over the week end, said Tuesday he is optimistic that efforts now being made will result in appropriation of money needed to carry out fisheries research projects.

A sum of $700,000 is being sought for the fiscal year starting July 1.
