'Ding Dong Daddy' Again Object of Wife's Search

Sacramento, Calif.—(UPI)—A 73-year-old woman filed a divorce suit against her missing husband Thursday, and then nearly swooned when she learned he was San Francisco's famed "Ding Dong Daddy of the D Car Line."

Mrs. June Puckett Van Wie, of nearby Del Paso Heights, was speechless for a moment when informed she was at least the 17th wife of Francis Van Wie—one-time carburn Casanova.

"Why, I had no idea," she spluttered. "He led me to believe he had married only once before."

Van Wie, now 72, came into prominence in 1946 when it was discovered that the street car motorman on San Francisco's D line had been married 11... or 12... or 13 times—but had never been divorced.

Market Strengthens Late in Session

New York—(UPI)—Stocks rose to new bull market highs today in active trading. The market strengthened late in the session as demand developed for the rails. Individual gains ran past three and four points in some of industrial leaders.

The electronics industry helped to set the pace. Zenith, after being off more than 13 points at its low, soared back to rule more than eight points higher at its best.

RCA was active and strong, adding around four points at its best. IBM, Hoffman, Raytheon, Minneapolis Honeywell, and International Telephone all stood out in this group.

Bell & Howell and Polaroid were very strong in the cameras. Goodyear was the feature in the tires. Motors were generally easier on production cutbacks.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Desert Pegasus
There were 14 members present at the regular meeting of the Desert Pegasus 4-H club which was at the home of J. Dunn, the leader, March 7. Dunn gave a report on the new American Horse Show rules. We are to abide by these rules for all our horse shows.

Jim Ackerman gave a report on how to make our club more interesting. Bill Morgan and Laura Noble will make a report on ways to be of service to the community. They are to give this report at the next meeting.

We planned a swimming party for Saturday, March 7. We met at Phyllis Perry's home at 6:30 p.m. and went to the Twin Plunges in Ashland.

We welcomed a new member, David Sheppard, to the club. All members and their horses are to meet at the Dunn ranch March 21.
