

A recent recipe contest in New Bedford, Mass., brought out a number of mouth-watering ways to serve scallops. The one which was awarded first place by a panel of home economists is called Scallop Curry. It calls for 2 pounds of sea scallops, fresh or frozen; 1/4 cup honey, 1/4 cup prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons curry powder and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. If using frozen scallops, thaw before cooking.

Line broiler pan with aluminum foil. Arrange scallops in bottom of pan. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Brush scallops generously with curry mixture. Place broiler pan in lowest position under source of heat. Broil slowly 10 minutes. Turn scallops; brush with curry mixture; broil 10 minutes longer or until nicely browned. Makes four servings.

New Look Promised For Play

There'll be an entirely new look on the stage of the Footlighters theatre next Tuesday evening.

The Footlighters' first 1959 production, "The Tender Trap," is set in an ultra-luxurious bachelor apartment in New York. Duplicating such a set turned out to be a lot more difficult than set designers Bernard Roberts, Herbert Seitz and T. R. Eslinger thought it would.

"Everything was fine until we started looking for the furniture," said the play's director, Frank Buchter. "Bernie Roberts designed a beautiful apartment for the play, and they managed to get the multi-colored walls and ceiling up without too much trouble. But finding Turkish rugs and fur-upholstered sofas wasn't quite so easy."

The result is a setting a little less luxurious, but certainly more interesting than that called for by the play's authors, Max Shulman and Robert Paul Smith.

"The Tender Trap" will go on the stage at 8:30 o'clock each evening next Tuesday through Saturday. Featured in the cast are Charles and Shirley Tucker, Curtis and Shirlee Butterfield, Robbie Robbins, Audrey Reiss, Shirley Budreau, and Dave Havlick, with Grace Shaw as book holder. Tickets are being sold by the Medford Lions club, and at Swem's and Puruckers in Medford.

Metropolitan To Broadcast Modern Opera

The modern German tragic opera "Wozzeck" by Alban Berg will be the sixteenth performance of the Metropolitan Opera Company broadcast season on KYJC-CBS Radio Saturday, March 14 at 11:00 a.m. to approximately 2:30 p.m., PST. This performance, to be sung in English, will mark the first Metropolitan Opera broadcast of the opera. It is the second of two works which received their Metropolitan Opera premieres this season.

The work will be conducted by Carl Boehm and staged by Herbert Graf. The Metropolitan Opera orchestra, enlarged to 113 members, had an unprecedented total of 24 rehearsals before the opening. It will be sung in an English text by Vida Harford and Eric Blackall.

The title role of Wozzeck, a down-trodden private in a small town German garrison, will be sung by baritone Hermann Uhde. The role of Marie, his mistress, will be sung by soprano Eleanor Steber, Margaret, by mezzo-soprano Margaret Roggero, the drum major, with whom Marie falls in love, by Kurt Baum, tenor, the Captain, by Paul Franke, tenor, and the Doctor, by Karl Doench, baritone.

The plot of "Wozzeck" is based on an actual incident involving an ex-soldier named Wozzeck, who was tried and executed for murder in Leipzig in 1824. The late German dramatist, George Buechner, left an unfinished play based on the Leipzig court documents, and from this Alban Berg, the composer, fashioned his own text in three acts and fifteen scenes.

The work was composed between 1914 and 1922 and received its world premiere at the Berlin Staatsoper December 14, 1925, under the direction of Erich Kleiber.

"Wozzeck" was first given in America by the Philadelphia Grand Opera association in 1931, with Leopold Stokowski conducting. As an indication of its tremendous impact, records show that in the eleven years following its German premier, the Opera was performed 166 times in 29 different cities throughout the world.

Tuna salads take on glamour when roasted almonds become a part of the ingredients. Tuna sandwiches take on a new life when chopped roasted almonds are included. That's what the almond growers told us, and we found it deliciously, crunchily true.
