

Cold War Thaw Seen by Ike's Talk

London (UPI)—Radio Moscow, in a broadcast beamed at British listeners, said Tuesday night President Eisenhower's speech Monday night indicated the possibility of a thaw in the cold war.

The Soviet commentator rebuked the President for "devoting a good half of his speech to a description of America's great war machine," but added that his tentative agreement to summit talks "can only be welcomed."

"The President dwelt on so-called Soviet threats which exist only in the private imagination of some U.S. journalists, but his qualified acceptance of summit talks this summer is a good step forward," the Moscow radio said.

"This is in line with the thawing ice and melting snow."

FORMER STAR KILLED

New York (UPI)—Silent film star Helen Olivetti, 66, was burned to death Tuesday in her apartment here when her clothing caught fire, apparently from a cigarette.
