

Giants Play Nemesis, Red Sox

Phoenix, Ariz. —(UPI)—The San Francisco Giants were to resume their Cactus league action today with a tussle against their spring nemesis, the Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox have found the Giants easy game so far, defeating them three straight times. The Giants planned to send their newly-acquired right-handed ace, Jack Sanford, to the hill today to try to turn the tables.

Sanford may be asked to pitch the full nine innings if the Sox do not waylay him along the route.

The Red Sox have won 10 out of 14 Cactus league tussles while the Giants are 6-7. Observers agree that lack of late-inning relief hurling has been the glaring weakness to date of the San Franciscans, but the club is known to be seeking another top hurler.

The Giants worked out in full force Monday, Willie Mays again put on a good show at the batting cage and appears to have recuperated completely from his cut leg.

Jackie Brandt said both he and his nose felt good. Brandt was sidelined a couple of weeks after doctors operated on his nose.

Al Worthington, who was an early season holdout and then injured his knee, reported that his knee did not bother him during a brief workout Monday. He may make his 1959 debut Thursday.

Manager Bill Rigney left the training camp for a couple of days. He flew to Walnut Creek, Calif., to visit his wife, Paula, who suffered a broken hip in their early-February auto accident.

Meantime, Vice President Chub Feeney said he is still not hopeful of a settlement with holdout pitcher Ramon Montant, still entrenched in Venezuela.

Phoenix-Ten lettermen are among 32 candidates out for track and field as Phoenix high prep for a season opener dual meet at Rogue River.

Coach Hap Consruck has three seniors, 11 juniors, seven sophomores and 11 freshmen on his squad.

The seniors all are lettermen. They are Bill Dillree, hurdler and high jumper; Don Korth, javelin and weight man, and David McClurg, half and quarter-miler. Junior lettermen are Gary Chris, hurdler; Rodney Fowler, half-miler; Mike Reese, miler, and Ron Baker, weight man.

Sophomore lettermen who monogrammed in 1958 are Dan Lumley, sprinter; Othar Richey, javelin and sprint man, and Glen Thompson, sprinter and vaulter.

Consruck lists nine others as promising material. Juniors are Jack Hoffhuhr, discus man; Leon Small, hurdler and sprinter; Don Learn, hurdler, and Norman Whisenant, vaulter. Gerald Sloper, hurdler and high jumper, and Ernie Bolz, miler, are the sophomore prospects. Stand-out frosh are Mike Consruck, vaulter, broad jumper and dash man; Vern Harris, half-miler, and Roy Lester, vaulter and high jumper.

Phoenix will be host on April 11 for the Little Rogue relays and will enter the April 17 action in the Hayward relays at Eugene.

Cuba Curtails Official Activity
Havana —(UPI)—Announcements by revolutionary authorities indicate that official activity in Cuba, including the execution of "war criminals"—will be held to a minimum during Holy Week.

Premier Fidel Castro cancelled a scheduled television appearance Monday night and announced that he will not appear in public until after Easter.

At the same time, authorities in Pinar Del Rio postponed the execution of 11 condemned men until after Easter.

Hammer Thrower Feels Reds Under More Pressure To Win

Los Angeles —(UPI)—One of America's greatest athletes, world's hammer throwing champion Hal Connolly, feels that Russian track and field performers are under greater pressure to win than are competitors in this country.

Connolly, who has his heart set on hanging up a new record of 70 meters—229 feet, 8½ inches—in his event, told the Southern California Track and Field Writers and coaches Monday that competing for fun could prove more of an incentive than the pressure on many Russian athletes.

Nationals are currently playing out a best of seven series for that title.

NBA rookie of the year Elgin Baylor of the Lakers has tossed 54 points through the hoop to lead his five. Thirty-three of the points came during his scoring spree at a game apiece, both quintets would like to move ahead one game.

For the Hawks, who have been led by Cliff Hagan with 67 points during the first two games, the return to the home floor presents an opportunity to duplicate its first game 106-98 romp. To the Lakers, who evened the series with a 124-90 win at Minneapolis, a win in St. Louis would give them an edge when the two teams return to the north.

Work to Meet Division Champ
The winner of the Hawks-Lakers series will meet the eastern division champ, the Boston Celtics and Syracuse

K. F. Cage Star To Enter OSC
Corvallis —(UPI)—Bob Peterson, all-tournament choice from Klamath Falls, will enter Oregon State College, it was announced here Monday.

Peterson, who stands 6-4, will join a teammate of a year ago, Bob Niles at Oregon State. Niles played freshman basketball at OSC this year.

SPORTS

That doesn't mean there are not fine athletes in Russia, Connolly said, "but the pressure seems so great that many of them tighten up and don't do as well as they might."

Connolly said he was hopeful that when the Russians come to this country to compete in a meet with the United States they are shown more than American athletes were allowed to see in Russia.

Connolly, a junior high school teacher, disclosed he hoped to set the 70-meter before his wife, the former Czechoslovakian discus champion Olga Fikotova, has a baby in a few weeks.

Connolly said, with a grin, that he might be under a different form of marital pressure after the baby arrives and not be fit to exceed his current world's record of 225 feet, 4 inches.

The former Boston weight event star said he had gotten off to a better and earlier start in his event this year than ever before.

"I've never had so many opportunities to throw so early in the season," he said. "And I've never trained so hard. I've been working at weight lifting with Parry O'Brien and Rink Babka and I think it will help me add distance."

RETURNS TO RING
New York —(UPI)—Tony DiBaise, 148, a New York City geology student, returned to the ring after a six-months absence Monday night and scored a split 10-round decision over Johnny Gorman, 146½, Brooklyn, in the non-television feature bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

Wall Street Chatter

New York —(UPI)—Most of the stock market advance has been justified by the early rapid recovery in general business and a still greater upturn in earnings, according to International Statistical Bureau.

Edmund W. Tabell, analyst for Walston and Co. advises the investor to cease worrying about the rapidity of the market rise and the possibility of a correction, and turn his attention to individual stock values where they exist.

Aubrey G. Lanston and Co. specialists in U. S. governments, expects Treasury bill yields and other short term interest rates to move more or less steadily higher through out the remainder of the year.

Van Alstyne, Noel and Co., finds no overhead resistance built up and until one develops it can visualize no substantial retracement of ground gained in the stock market.

Vale, Ore. —(UPI)—Mrs. Bertha Mae Pyles, 43, of Ontario, was found guilty of manslaughter by a Circuit Court jury early today. She was accused in the knifing death of Mrs. Dorothy Hylland, 43, at Ontario last fall.
