

Young Adults Parley Set at SOC on Saturday

Ashland-Junior and senior high school students from Southern Oregon and Northern California will attend the eighth annual Ashland Conference for Young Adults, Saturday, March 28, on the Southern Oregon college campus.

Sponsored by American Association of University Women and Rotary club, the conference will feature as its leader, Dr. Thomas Poffenberger, assistant professor of child development and family sociology at the University of California since 1954.

Dr. Poffenberger, who received his degree from Michigan State University, formerly served as human relations specialist at Oregon State college.

As a member of the American Psychological Association and a certified psychologist in California, he has performed research projects in the areas of youth and marriage; publications on attitudes of adolescent girls toward their parents; the family council; attitudes toward arithmetic and mathematics; father-child relations and attitude formation; and family life education in the scientific age.

General Assembly

Registration for the conference is 8-8:55 a.m., Saturday in the Britt Student Center, with a general assembly following from 9 until 10:30 in the Churchill hall auditorium. Presiding during the assembly will be Dr. Arthur S. Taylor, chairman of the SOC social science division. Short addresses of welcome will be given by the Rev. John Thompson, president of the Ashland Rotary club, and Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, SOC president.

Following roll call by Mrs. Mabel W. Winston, member of the Ashland branch of AAUW and SOC dean of women, Dr. Poffenberger will address the conferees on the subject, "Preparing for Marriage in This Atomic Age."

After a refreshment break in the lobby of the library, 10:30-10:45 a.m., six high school discussion groups will take up the remainder of the morning, with SOC students serving as chairmen and recorders.

Parents, teachers, and visitors will meet in Churchill hall at this time with Mrs. L. E. Gustison, Medford, first vice-president of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers, presiding, and Dr. Poffenberger as leader. The session topic will be, "Can We Teach These Things?"

During the luncheon meeting in Commons dining hall, Mrs. Bill Sampson, president of the Ashland AAUW branch, will preside over a question-answer period by Dr. Poffenberger.

At 2 p.m. student representatives from the morning sessions will present summaries, and Dr. Poffenberger will serve as moderator.

College students who will serve as chairman of the student discussion groups are: Robert Hansen, Oakland; Bob Mead, Ashland; Wesley Mon-

Dr. Thomas Poffenberger, assistant professor of child development and family sociology at the University of California, will speak at the annual Conference for Young Adults to be held Saturday, March 28, at Southern Oregon college. Dr. Poffenberger formerly was on the faculty of Oregon State college.

roe, Ashland; William Harbin, Grants Pass; Marion Jack, Ashland; and Bennett Kilpack, Portland.

Recorders are to be Sue Main, Ashland; Marjorie Samples, Lakeview; Marlene Addington, Central Point; Judy Paulsen, Ashland; Lynn Susee, Ashland; and Myrtle Converse, Ashland.

AAUW committee members include: Miss Seri Scanlon, Mrs. Archie Fries, Mrs. Leo Sohier, Mrs. Alvin Fellers, and Mrs. Mabel W. Winston, general chairman.

Lovely Model Back at Work After Two Cancer Operations

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

New York—Irma Austin is one of the nation's loveliest models and one of the world's luckiest women.

Last October, she found she had cancer of the breast.

Today after two trips through surgery and extensive post-operative treatments she again is walking in fashion runways, and flashing a smile that all who see her remember.

"I've got plenty to smile about," said the tall, vivacious brunette to a group of reporters recently in Dallas, which is Irma's home.

We were there to see spring clothes collections from the manufacturers in the Dallas fashion center.

"If my experience can be of help . . . can be a lesson to other women on early diagnosis and check ups, I'm happy to talk about it," she said later in an interview.

Takes Heavy Toll

The American Cancer society—ACS—said that cancer of the breast is the number one cancer killer among women; that 21,000 die each year.

Yet ACS says that 81 per cent of all breast cancer is curable if diagnosed early and treated properly. As is, 46 per cent of the cases diagnosed are cured.

Those of us who have covered the Dallas center collections since they began formal showings to the press in 1950 have grown to know Irma well. She and three other top-flight models—Zane Hays, Juanita Ransome and Ann Daniels—are "perennials" in the center's presentations.

The four also are close friends, and although all are married and have children ranging in age from 14 months to 13 years, are booked often for fashion, photographic and television work.

Irma is a general favorite with retail stores, manufacturers, buyers and press alike, not only because of her good looks and clothes knack, but also her sparkle. She still has that, despite the fact that last October, physicians gave her "a 50-50 chance of survival." Just In Time

The model said her malignancy seemed to develop suddenly—"I went to bed one Saturday night feeling fine and woke up the next morning with the left breast swollen . . . arm aching. I called my doctor."

The physician told her the probable nature of her illness and "that," she said, "is the only time I ever cried."

"I went home and told Paul—her husband, a supervisor with Chance Vought Aircraft, I wanted to be alone for a while.

"And then I prayed." Within two weeks, the model who is 41 and the mother of a five-year-old daughter, went through her first surgery for removal of the affected breast. One month later, surgeons performed an hyster-

Junior Bethel Night Observed

Junior Bethel night was observed at the last meeting of Bethel 14, International Order of Job's Daughters, Miss Bernice Skoog, a past queen, presided.

Serving as junior bethel officers were Donna Johnson, recorder; Sharon Smeds, treasurer; Diane Everham, chaplain; Martha Sandborn, musician; Dru An Graff, librarian; Karen Christensen, Donna Marin, Caroline Denyer, Janet Kelly, Vicki Ann Ingram messengers; Jean Pleisch, Diane Bush, custodians; Lynn Peterson, Linda Nash, guards; Cynthia Hogan, lady of the lights; Monte Noble, assistant; Toni Spence, prompter.

Mrs. Dorothy Crump, a past grand guardian, showed a film taken on her tour of Europe and the Brussels World's Fair.

A slumber party followed, with 45 girls attending.

The next meeting will be April 1 at the Masonic temple.

Women to Serve Easter Breakfast

Scottish Rite Women's club will serve the annual Easter breakfast for all Scottish Rite Masons. Mrs. Marshall Day, chairman, announced final plans for the event at a meeting of the club held Monday evening.

Past presidents of the club were honored at the meeting, with 9 out of the 11 present. Mrs. E. C. Hoffman, club president, presented each of the women a corsage.

Cards were played, with prizes going to Mrs. Fred Graten, Mrs. W. O. Hughes and Mrs. E. P. Stone.

The next meeting of the club will be a luncheon April 13 at the Medford hotel for installation of officers.

Tuesday night our dinner host was Keegan Townsend, district commander of the American Legion. Although both of us work for The Tribune, we're in different departments and it was the first time the society editor had had a real conversation with Mr. T. He formerly lived in Texas, says it's a great state but he likes Oregon better except that he believes Texas is more efficiently operated—as a state, that is. Keegan says Texas considers its sales tax most successful and pointed out that Oregon, with sister states on both sides taking a sizeable hunk of money from Oregon visitors every year through the sales taxes, should turn the tables.

When the talk turned to food, Keegan admitted that he likes to cook and says he had something of a reputation among his Texas friends for his barbecue sauce. He uses honey in it, among other more traditional ingredients.

State and national officers of women's organizations acquire a great deal of "loot" during their comings and goings. Tuesday night Mrs. Cusick was presented a myrtlewood gift from the Medford auxiliary and she was carrying a tooled leather hand bag given to her by veterans at Camp White earlier in the day. She had also been presented an Oregon Centennial plate put out by the American Legion and auxiliary with a picture of Camp White, and orchids to wear for the dinner.

In her talk, Mrs. Cusick pointed out that while the American Legion and auxiliary work for adequate national defense, that not just missiles and planes are the country's best bulwark against threats to our freedom, but the loyalty of the people. She also added that "peace costs money."

At one point Mrs. Cusick said "Americanism is the best way of life." The next day at the BPWC Great Decisions' study group meeting there was discussion of the cold war and the struggle between the nations of the West and the Communist-controlled countries. At one point one of the group members said "I love America and I love the American way of life, but isn't it leaving us weak and soft? Are we really as strong as we think we are?"

This question always brings as many answers as there are individuals answering, but it brought to mind a quotation in a recent issue of Dateline, bulletin of the clergy-industry relations department of the National Association of Manufacturers. The quotation was about a new book, "In Every War But One" by Eugene Kinkead in which he analyzes the findings of the U.S. Army's penetrating five-year investigation of the reactions of American prisoners to the treatment which they received from their Communist captors during the Korean conflict.

The quotation reads: "Most disturbing is the revelation that one out of every three G.I. prisoners was guilty of some form of collaboration with the enemy, ranging all the way from minor technicalities to some major cooperation. Equally discouraging is the evidence of brutality displayed by some of the captives toward their fellows. And it is disheartening to discover that some of the fatalities among the 38 per cent of the American prisoners who died while Communist captives were traced directly to the callous attitude displayed by some of the survivors toward their ill or wounded comrades. In contrast, largely because of their esprit de corps and mutual loyalty, none of the Red-held Turkish prisoners died in similar captivity."

"Captured Communist documents disclose that young enlisted U.S. prisoners of high mentality, ranging in age from 18 to 24, were found to be the most susceptible to psychological pressures. Among other weaknesses, Red intelligence reports evaluated American soldiers as lacking in loyalty to family, religion, community, country and their fellows—as opportunistic and insecure—and with hazy concepts of right and wrong! U.S. Army findings revealed that most of the prisoners had been unable to adjust to a primitive situation because of a lack of resourcefulness ascribed largely to a softening failure in their childhood and adolescent training. Their attitudes reflected no self-reliant spirit of 'What can I do to help myself' but rather the despairing plaint 'What can be done to help me?'—O.S."

New York—UPI—A chain of beauty salons gives corking good permanents. The hairdressers use corks to set curls in "champagne permanents" and "bubbly bobs." The corks give light, soft curls which pile high into controlled crested waves at the crown and cover the forehead in feathery bangs.

Red Cross Secretary At Eugene Meeting

Mrs. Helen A. Wilson, executive secretary for Jackson County chapter, American Red Cross, is attending a conference in Eugene composed of managers and secretaries for western and southern Oregon.

Arthur Kross, newly appointed field director, will address the group concerning Red Cross operations with the military. Mr. Kross is stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. Since the Red Cross is under congressional obligation to act as a liaison with all branches of the armed forces, such orientations are vital to directors and volunteers handling the case work, it is stated.

To Meet
Jolly Stitches will meet at the home of Mrs. Homer Bringle, 100 South Orange street, Friday, March 27, at 1:30 p.m.

Machines for making ballet dancers' tights are being imported from Holland by a nylon stocking factory in South Africa.

Don't try to get into Rogue Valley Country club from the south entrance. Not if you're starting from where we did, and wearing high heels. Tuesday night the society editor, en route to the American Legion auxiliary dinner about dusk, took a look at all the excavation, barriers, parked cars and what not and, since we were down stream from the pro shop, decided to detour around that building and go in the terrace door. Well, what's out front is as much of a mess as the north side of the building and we ended up by walking way out on the golf course and then struggling through the shrubbery at the end of the terrace.

It will be a great day when the additions are all finished and the entrances and driveways back in order again.

It would be wonderful, too, if functions in Medford started on time. But they almost never do—except sometimes when the society editor is late. Tuesday night, after a late start from the office, a delay at the service station while we hunted up someone to move a car parked in front of our Chevrolet, and the trek around the putting green and through the shrubbery, we panted into the dining room a half hour beyond the appointed hour of 6:30 p.m., expecting to find it crowded. About a dozen members and guests were on hand, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Arthur M. Cusick of Austin, Nev., didn't come for half an hour or so after that.

However, dinner was worth waiting for. The stuffed pork chops were excellent. So was the fried chicken served for the Lions' club dinner last Saturday evening after a considerable wait. But we've decided that if dinner is going to be late, it's better not to order lobster, as we did for the Junior Service League dinner the week before. We love lobster, but it doesn't wait very well.

Tuesday night our dinner host was Keegan Townsend, district commander of the American Legion. Although both of us work for The Tribune, we're in different departments and it was the first time the society editor had had a real conversation with Mr. T. He formerly lived in Texas, says it's a great state but he likes Oregon better except that he believes Texas is more efficiently operated—as a state, that is. Keegan says Texas considers its sales tax most successful and pointed out that Oregon, with sister states on both sides taking a sizeable hunk of money from Oregon visitors every year through the sales taxes, should turn the tables.

When the talk turned to food, Keegan admitted that he likes to cook and says he had something of a reputation among his Texas friends for his barbecue sauce. He uses honey in it, among other more traditional ingredients.

State and national officers of women's organizations acquire a great deal of "loot" during their comings and goings. Tuesday night Mrs. Cusick was presented a myrtlewood gift from the Medford auxiliary and she was carrying a tooled leather hand bag given to her by veterans at Camp White earlier in the day. She had also been presented an Oregon Centennial plate put out by the American Legion and auxiliary with a picture of Camp White, and orchids to wear for the dinner.

In her talk, Mrs. Cusick pointed out that while the American Legion and auxiliary work for adequate national defense, that not just missiles and planes are the country's best bulwark against threats to our freedom, but the loyalty of the people. She also added that "peace costs money."

At one point Mrs. Cusick said "Americanism is the best way of life." The next day at the BPWC Great Decisions' study group meeting there was discussion of the cold war and the struggle between the nations of the West and the Communist-controlled countries. At one point one of the group members said "I love America and I love the American way of life, but isn't it leaving us weak and soft? Are we really as strong as we think we are?"

This question always brings as many answers as there are individuals answering, but it brought to mind a quotation in a recent issue of Dateline, bulletin of the clergy-industry relations department of the National Association of Manufacturers. The quotation was about a new book, "In Every War But One" by Eugene Kinkead in which he analyzes the findings of the U.S. Army's penetrating five-year investigation of the reactions of American prisoners to the treatment which they received from their Communist captors during the Korean conflict.

The quotation reads: "Most disturbing is the revelation that one out of every three G.I. prisoners was guilty of some form of collaboration with the enemy, ranging all the way from minor technicalities to some major cooperation. Equally discouraging is the evidence of brutality displayed by some of the captives toward their fellows. And it is disheartening to discover that some of the fatalities among the 38 per cent of the American prisoners who died while Communist captives were traced directly to the callous attitude displayed by some of the survivors toward their ill or wounded comrades. In contrast, largely because of their esprit de corps and mutual loyalty, none of the Red-held Turkish prisoners died in similar captivity."

"Captured Communist documents disclose that young enlisted U.S. prisoners of high mentality, ranging in age from 18 to 24, were found to be the most susceptible to psychological pressures. Among other weaknesses, Red intelligence reports evaluated American soldiers as lacking in loyalty to family, religion, community, country and their fellows—as opportunistic and insecure—and with hazy concepts of right and wrong! U.S. Army findings revealed that most of the prisoners had been unable to adjust to a primitive situation because of a lack of resourcefulness ascribed largely to a softening failure in their childhood and adolescent training. Their attitudes reflected no self-reliant spirit of 'What can I do to help myself' but rather the despairing plaint 'What can be done to help me?'—O.S."

New York—UPI—A chain of beauty salons gives corking good permanents. The hairdressers use corks to set curls in "champagne permanents" and "bubbly bobs." The corks give light, soft curls which pile high into controlled crested waves at the crown and cover the forehead in feathery bangs.

New York—UPI—Rice pudding Espagnol can be made from your regular pudding recipe. Just after removing from stove, add 1 or 2 tablespoons oloroso sherry. Chill. Before serving, sprinkle cold pudding with sherry and brown sugar to cover top. Broil until sugar melts.

It required 12 years to build the Brooklyn Bridge.

Weight-Conscious
New York—UPI—Calorie-counting guests will appreciate mushroom-crabmeat snacks. Sauté drained contents of 1 (6½-ounce) can king crabmeat in small amount of garlic butter. Drain 1 (4-ounce) can mushroom caps. Arrange 6 mushrooms per serving on toast slices, and top each cap with 1 heaping tablespoon sautéed crabmeat.

Pudding Espagnol
New York—UPI—Rice pudding Espagnol can be made from your regular pudding recipe. Just after removing from stove, add 1 or 2 tablespoons oloroso sherry. Chill. Before serving, sprinkle cold pudding with sherry and brown sugar to cover top. Broil until sugar melts.

Zippy Dip
New York—UPI—Serve fresh fruit, fresh vegetables or potato chips with this avocado dip. Put ¾ cup (½ large) avocado through fine-mesh sieve. Add 1 tablespoon each fresh lemon juice and mayonnaise, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1/16 teaspoon each dry mustard and black pepper, and mix well. Makes ¾ cup.

It required 12 years to build the Brooklyn Bridge.

Weight-Conscious
New York—UPI—Calorie-counting guests will appreciate mushroom-crabmeat snacks. Sauté drained contents of 1 (6½-ounce) can king crabmeat in small amount of garlic butter. Drain 1 (4-ounce) can mushroom caps. Arrange 6 mushrooms per serving on toast slices, and top each cap with 1 heaping tablespoon sautéed crabmeat.

It required 12 years to build the Brooklyn Bridge.

FOR AFTERNOONS—Make it with short sleeves or sleeveless, the cape collar is becoming. Here, made in an Orlon and rayon fabric, crisp and with a stay-fresh quality. Marian Martin Printed Pattern 9270: Half Size 14½ to 24½. The little girl's frock is Printed Pattern 9095, sizes 2 to 8 and is made of a waffle weave Dacron and cotton. Both these are drip-dry-ers and need little if any smoothing with the iron. To order, send Fifty Cents (50c) in coins (and 10 cents for first-class mailing) for Pattern 9270, and Thirty-Five Cents for Pattern 9095, care of Medford Mail Tribune, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

FOR AFTERNOONS—Make it with short sleeves or sleeveless, the cape collar is becoming. Here, made in an Orlon and rayon fabric, crisp and with a stay-fresh quality. Marian Martin Printed Pattern 9270: Half Size 14½ to 24½. The little girl's frock is Printed Pattern 9095, sizes 2 to 8 and is made of a waffle weave Dacron and cotton. Both these are drip-dry-ers and need little if any smoothing with the iron. To order, send Fifty Cents (50c) in coins (and 10 cents for first-class mailing) for Pattern 9270, and Thirty-Five Cents for Pattern 9095, care of Medford Mail Tribune, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

Meeting Slated By Talent PTA

Talent—A panel discussion on methods of teaching arithmetic will be held at the Talent Parent-Teachers association meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Talent High school.

PTA officers for the next school year will be elected at this meeting.

Following the business meeting refreshments will be served by mothers of children in the sixth grade. Child care will be provided.

New York—UPI—Pep up breakfast menus with Spanish scrambled eggs. To serve 4 persons, peel and chop 1 medium tomato; seed and chop ½ green pepper; slice 1 small onion. Sauté vegetables in 3 tablespoons olive oil in heavy skillet until tender and soft. Sprinkle with ½ teaspoon salt. Beat 8 eggs until light, add to vegetables in skillet, stirring until eggs are cooked. Mix in 3 tablespoons grated cheese and serve.

That Spring Taste
New York—UPI—Rhubarb-pineapple compote is a good spring dessert.

Mix 4 cups diced fresh rhubarb with 1 cup sugar in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water about 35 to 40 minutes, or until rhubarb is tender. Remove from heat, stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cool. Stir in 2 cups fresh pineapple wedges and serve chilled. Serves 6.

Alva, Wash., is the westernmost town in the United States.

SHADY COVE-TRAIL Easter Services Set

BY EVALYN P. WATSON
Shady Cove - Trail - Services at various local churches in the area will be held on Easter.

Elder Don Wilson of Medford will deliver the message at the Seventh Day Adventist services Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Eagle Point Grange hall.

Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Sunday at Our Lady of Fatima Catholic church in Shady Cove.

Special Easter services will be held at the Reese Creek Community church on the Butte Falls road with Sunday school starting at 9:45 a.m. and church services at 11 a.m. The Rev. Gerald Smith is pastor.

St. Martin's Episcopal church will hold a special Easter service at 9:15 a.m. Sunday in the band room of the Shady Cove school. The church school program will be included in the services.

Trail Community church will have a special Easter service with Easter music starting at 11 a.m. A half-hour Easter program will be given between 10:30 and 11, preceding the regular service. The regular evening service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Trail Community church.

The Latter Day Saints will not hold their regular Sunday service in the Shady Cove schoolhouse on Easter, but will have services at the church in Medford.

On Friday evening, March 27, at the Eagle Point Community church, a Union Good Friday service will be held through the cooperation of several community churches in the area. The Rev. Paul Kroon of the Central Point Community Bible church will be in charge.

A number of new families still continue to move into Shady Cove and Trail. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pennington and family from Coos Bay who are renting the Langston house next to the Don Cattanchis in Shady Cove. The Penningtons have five children. Pennington is employed by the Double D Lumber company.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Logan and children from Puyallup, Wash., who are renting the Hutchinson house in the Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Governor from Prospect who are living in one side of the duplex across from Our Lady of Fatima church in Shady Cove. Mrs. Governor is a high school teacher at Prospect. Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nelson from Etna, Calif., who have their trailer at the Shady Cove motel. Nelson is employed by Ross Lumber company in Prospect.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Logan and children from Puyallup, Wash., who are renting the Hutchinson house in the Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Governor from Prospect who are living in one side of the duplex across from Our Lady of Fatima church in Shady Cove. Mrs. Governor is a high school teacher at Prospect. Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nelson from Etna, Calif., who have their trailer at the Shady Cove motel. Nelson is employed by Ross Lumber company in Prospect.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Logan and children from Puyallup, Wash., who are renting the Hutchinson house in the Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Governor from Prospect who are living in one side of the duplex across from Our Lady of Fatima church in Shady Cove. Mrs. Governor is a high school teacher at Prospect. Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nelson from Etna, Calif., who have their trailer at the Shady Cove motel. Nelson is employed by Ross Lumber company in Prospect.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Logan and children from Puyallup, Wash., who are renting the Hutchinson house in the Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Governor from Prospect who are living in one side of the duplex across from Our Lady of Fatima church in Shady Cove. Mrs. Governor is a high school teacher at Prospect. Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nelson from Etna, Calif., who have their trailer at the Shady Cove motel. Nelson is employed by Ross Lumber company in Prospect.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Logan and children from Puyallup, Wash., who are renting the Hutchinson house in the Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Governor from Prospect who are living in one side of the duplex across from Our Lady of Fatima church in Shady Cove. Mrs. Governor is a high school teacher at Prospect. Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nelson from Etna, Calif., who have their trailer at the Shady Cove motel. Nelson is employed by Ross Lumber company in Prospect.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Logan and children from Puyallup, Wash., who are renting the Hutchinson house in the Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Governor from Prospect who are living in one side of the duplex across from Our Lady of Fatima church in Shady Cove. Mrs. Governor is a high school teacher at Prospect. Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nelson from Etna, Calif., who have their trailer at the Shady Cove motel. Nelson is employed by Ross Lumber company in Prospect.

RELIGIOUS EASTER CARDS

The joyous spirit of Easter is best expressed in the beautiful Easter Cards we now have on display

STAINER'S CRUCIFIXION

St. Mark's Episcopal Church

7:30 p.m.
GOOD FRIDAY

Presenting
St. Mark's Senior Choir

with
Marguerite Conrad Organist
John Drysdale, James Mowrey Jr., John Gregory
Soloists

THE PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED
George R. V. Bolster, Rector

KARL'S EASTER VALUES

Every Day Is Bargain Day at Karl's Shoe Stores. Check These Sample Values. 1300 Styles for the Whole Family From Which to Choose.

LITTLE GIRLS' SWIVEL STRAP CONVERTIBLE
Wear it with the strap back as a pump or with strap forward as a one-strap. In Black Patent Leather or White Smooth leather, sizes 8½ to 3.

LITTLE GIRLS' "T" STRAP
Just the thing for Spring! In Black Patent leather or White Smooth leather, sizes 8½ to 3.

LITTLE BOYS' OXFORDS
Good looking and long wearing. In Black or Brown leather, sizes 8½ to 3.

$2.99

230 E. Main St.
Medford
Open 9:30 to 5:30

SHORTHAND IN 6 WEEKS

NO SYMBOLS
NO MACHINES
USES ABC's

120 WORDS PER MINUTE

Speedwriting

New Classes Monday, March 30
ROBERTSON SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
40-42 N. Riverside • SP 3-4264 • Medford, Ore.

Medford Student Concert Soloist

Corvallis—Douglas Cummings, Medford, engineering sophomore at Oregon State college, was solo pianist at a concert Tuesday, March 10, of the Corvallis-OSC symphony orchestra. Young Cummings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings, 1900 Cherry heights.

The pianist played a movement from Rubinstein's "Concerto No. 14 in D minor." Mr. Cummings and Miss Betty Perrine, soprano soloist, were chosen through competitive audition.

Calendar

Calendar notices and news for the society section of The Mail Tribune must be submitted in writing and deadline for the Sunday edition is 1 p.m. Friday. Deadline for the weekly calendar is 9 a.m. of the day for publication and for week day news is 5 p.m. the day before publication.

Thursday:

7 p.m.—Kappa Delta Alumnae, home of Mrs. E. Hale Greenman, 2223 Aloha ave.

8 p.m.—Reames chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Medford Masonic temple.

8 p.m.—Phoenix Thursday club, home of Mrs. George Bourne, 3825 Calhoun road, Medford.

8 p.m.—Hammond Organ club, Purucker's Music house.

8 p.m.—Auxiliary to Fraternal Order of Eagles, lodge hall.

8 p.m.—Howard PTA, at school.

8 p.m.—Writers' Session, home of Mrs. Jack Wheeler, 3570 Calhoun road.

Friday:

1 p.m.—Electa Social club, Girls Community club.