Creative Cooks Give Uses For Leftover Easter Eggs

By JEANNE LESEM United Press International New York - (UPI) - Easter eggs, so welcome on Sunday, don't have to be an unwanted leftover Monday morning.

Creative cooks can use leftover hard-cooked eggs in new flavor combinations at breakfast, lunch, dinner and snack-time, says Margaret Spader, home service editor for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers association.

Eggs with cracked shells should be used promptly, she explained. But those with uncracked shells will keep several days under refrigeration. This gives you time to plan menus using eggs, unobtrusively or openly.

Here are some suggestions from GAMA's test kitchens: -Garnish fresh asparagus or other spring greens with sieved hard-cooked eggs. Separate yolks from whites. Using back of spoon, rub each through sieve for a soft, feathery texture.

-Garnish thick soups, such as black bean or spinach, borsch or chicken-corn chowder, with thin slices of hard-cooked egg. Or float a teaspoonful of finely chopped egg on top of each serving. Add finely chopped scallion tops to the chopped egg for extra tang.

-Dented Eggs -Add finely mashed sardines, crabmeat, tuna or shrimp to seasoned egg yolks when making deviled eggs. These do triple duty: as hors d'oeuvres; as a garnish for chicken, ham or other cold meat platters; or, heated in zippy cheese or Hollandaise sauce, as a topping for cooked spinach or broccoli.

-Sieved yolks may be added to salad dressing and sauces for extra-rich flavor and texture.

-For breakfast, lunch or brunch, try eggs in orange sauce. Mix 1 can undiluted, condensed cream of chicken soup with 1/4 cup each orange juice and milk. Heat over medium flame 15 to 20 minutes to blend flavors. Add 4 halved or sliced hard-cooked eggs and heat 10 minutes more, stirring occasionally. Serve on rice, toasted English muffins or corn bread. Leftover ham, or bacon, dried beef or chicken also may be added to this sauced-topped dish.

-Curried Eggs -Curried eggs are a lunch or supper classic, easily made with canned soup sauce. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine over low flame. Add 1 to 2 teaspoons curry powder and 1/4 cup finely minced onion.

-Cook slowly 5 minutes to develop curry flavor. Add 1 can undiluted condensed cream of chicken soup, 1/3 cup orange juice and 1 tablespoon grated orange rind. Heat a few minutes over medium flame, add 4 halved or sliced hard-cooked eggs. Heat thoroughly and serve over rice with warm salted peanuts, crisp crumbled bacon and chutney as accompaniments.

-Mixed chopped hard-cooked eggs into ingredients for croquettes. -Add sliced or quartered hard-cooked eggs to casserole dishes or use for garnish.

Dinner-Dance Planned at Inn

The building fund of Our Lady of the Mountain Catholic church, Ashland, will be benefited by a dinner to be given at Mon Desir inn Monday, March 30.

Dinner will be served from 7 to 9 p.m. and will be followed by dancing. Music will be furnished by Glomb's Thunderbirds, with the musicians donating their services. Dancing will continue until 1 a.m.

Reservations for the event must be made in advance, by calling the inn, Normandy 4-2513.

The rectory of the new church has been completed, it is stated, and work has begun on the church edifice.

Francescatti To Play Sunday

French violinist Zino Francescatti will be soloist for the Cleveland orchestra broadcast, under the direction of George Szell, on KYJC-CBS Radio Sunday, March 29 at 11:05-12 noon, PST. Mr. Francescatti, "among the greatest performers on the instrument now before the public," according to the New York Times, will be heard in Sir William Walton's "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra."

Dr. Szell will open the broadcast program with the Beethoven overture to "Coriolanus." Next, Dr. Szell and the Ensemble will play the Bach "Brendenburg Concerto No. 3 in G major for String Orchestra." Bach was commissioned by the Margrave of Brandenburg in May, 1718 to write a set of six compositions for solo instruments with string orchestra. He finished them on March 24, 1721, sent them to the Margrave's house, where they were stored away. It is probably that they were never played. Following the Margrave's death Bach's concertos were auctioned off for the equivalent of eight cents apiece and were not printed until 1850, 100 years after Bach's death. Today they are the most performed and popular works of the series.

The Violin Concerto is the first of two Walton works to be given their world premieres by the Cleveland Orchestra. The other was the Walton "Partita for Orchestra," commissioned for the orchestra's 40th anniversary and broadcast on CBS Radio last year.

New Touches to Old Hats

New York - (UPI) - Millinery designers have added new touches to classical hat styles for spring.

Cloches come with wedges cut away at sides or front. Cartwheels have brims trimmed with ostrich feathers. Pillboxes are covered with flowers. Coolie hats have higher crowns and oversize brims and often are piled high with flowers or fruit. The swagger hat, a favorite of 1920 movie queens, also comes with a higher crown and deeper brim.

Fruit-biscuit fanciers will go for pitted pumped prunes baked in a casing of biscuit dough.
