

Baseball Training Camp Reports Like Medical Bulletins

By TIM MORIARTY

Those daily reports from baseball's spring training camps are continuing to read like medical bulletins.

Five more players—including Billy O'Dell of the Baltimore Orioles and young Eddie Haas of the Milwaukee Braves—were added to today's casualty list.

O'Dell, the winning pitcher in last year's All-Star game, injured his back while warming up before Thursday night's Baltimore-Kansas City game at Miami.

Taking no chances, the Orioles announced O'Dell, who had a 14-11 record last year, will be flown to Baltimore today for a thorough examination.

Haas suffered a broken ankle in an exhibition game against the St. Louis Cardinals at Bradenton and will be sidelined for at least eight weeks.

The Braves have been hampered by a mounting injury list all spring. Second baseman Mel Roach is still hobbled by a 1958 leg injury; third baseman Eddie Mathews recently was sidelined with a groin injury, and first baseman Joe Adcock has been nursing a swollen knee.

Other clubs also are having their troubles. The Philadelphia Phillies announced that veteran southpaw Curt Simmons has bone chips in his left elbow that may require surgery, reserve catcher John Blanchard of the New York Yankees sustained a bruised right toe, and rookie Joe Schaffernoth of the Chicago Cubs was struck on the right elbow by a line drive while pitching batting practice.

Jacksonville Bolstered by Hurlers

Jacksonville—Pitching appears to be a strong point with the Jacksonville High school baseball squad this season. And, it could be a big factor in a bid by the Redskins to rise from second place in 1958 to the championship of the Jackson County B league this spring.

Lettermen pitchers on the Jacksonville roster of Coach Dea Cox are Wayne Cabler and Rickie Zimmerman. Other hurlers are Doyle Branson and Woody Wilson. Branson, a senior who has never played baseball before, has a strong arm and may be a starter. Wilson, a sophomore playing his first high school ball.

Easter Relays Saturday Event

Santa Barbara, Calif.—Four men who have put the shot better than 60 feet, including champion Larry O'Brien, will seek to better his world's record Saturday in the feature event of the 21st annual Santa Barbara Easter relays.

The Easter relays mark the first time this year that O'Brien goes up against sensational freshman Dallas Long; Lt. Bill Nieder, former Kansas star, and NCAA champion Dave Davis.

O'Brien unofficially has bettered his own mark of 63 feet, 2 inches this season. The Olympic champion is positive the mark will not stand long and he wants to be the one to break it.

Pilots Divide Seattle Games

Seattle—UPP—The University of Portland split two games in the Seattle baseball tournament Thursday.

The Pilots downed Washington 4-2 in their first game behind the six-hit pitching of Bill Love, but dropped a 6-1 decision to Seattle U. in their second game.

Seattle defeated Western Washington 3-6 and British Columbia 6-4 in Seattle-Pacific 7-6 in other games.

COWLES QUILTS

Minneapolis—UPP—Osborne "Ozzie" Cowles, head basketball coach at the University of Minnesota since 1948, has resigned.

SPORTS

Mt. Shasta Bills Vets Ski Races

Mt. Shasta, Calif.—The National Veterans Downhill and Slalom races at the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl on the Easter week end, will have contestants coming from all over the United States to participate.

From New York will be Erwin Frank and from Squaw Valley Hans Osterud. Al Peeters will come from Reno and Bob Anderson from San Francisco. Movie and TV star Aldo Ray will make the presentation of awards.

Special Skiers Easter sunrise services will be held at the lodge at 6:30 a.m.

For tiny tots on Easter day, there will be an Easter Egg hunt in the snow in the East bowl. A prize will go to the lucky hunter. This special event will take place at 10 a.m.

Skiers at the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl last week have enjoyed good spring corn snow with the fresh powder snow last week end, excellent skiing conditions for the entire Easter vacation are anticipated.

thing to cheer about when Robin Roberts turned in a route-going, 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators. The veteran right-hander yielded seven hits, including homers by Jim Lemon and Norm Zauchin.

Brooks Lawrence also went nine innings in hurling the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Lawrence spaced seven hits. Bob Lillis collected three singles for the Dodgers.

Shortstop Andre Rodgers, hit in the face by a pitched ball Wednesday, displayed that "old Oriole spirit" with a pair of homers that carried the San Francisco Giants to a 7-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Mantle Gets Homer

The game was enlivened by a beaming "rhubarb" in the eighth inning when Giant Pitcher Stu Miller hit Vic Power in the head with one of his "blazing" slow balls. Jim Bolger, running for Power, crashed into Rodgers while breaking up a double play and both benches emptied. No punches were thrown.

A 420-foot home run by Mickey Mantle sparked the Yankees to a 7-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bob Turley worked the first seven innings for the Yanks, allowing only four hits. Dick Stuart homered for the Pirates in the opening inning.

Elsewhere, the Detroit Tigers turned back the Chicago White Sox, 5-2, with the help of a three-run homer by Rocky Bridges, rookie Dick Ricketts helped pitch the Cardinals to a 6-3 victory over the Braves. Bill Renna's fourth hit of the game enabled the Boston Red Sox to edge the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 11 innings, and Al Pilarek's run-scoring single in the 10th inning carried the Orioles to a 4-3 triumph over the Athletics.

Upland Bird Hunters Had Whale of Season in 1958

Portland—Oregon upland bird gunners had a whale of a season last year which will be hard to beat in the coming years. Final tabulations by the game commission show that more than 1,200,000 upland birds of all species were taken by hunters during the 1958 season, exceeding the 1957 take by some 500,000 birds.

The pheasant kill was one of the best in years, and for quail, Hungarians, and grouse, hunters doubled the take of the previous year. Pheasant hunters found the going much to their liking and reported in with a take of just over 477,000 of the colorful ring-necked imports, exceeding last year's take by well over 100,000 birds. Success ran high with a reported take of 4.6 birds per man. Almost 103,000 scattergunners hunted pheasants, compared to about 89,000 the previous year.

Quail hunters took a whopping 280,000 birds which was more than double the 124,000 reported last year. Again success was high with a take of 7.2 birds per hunter, compared to 5.7 in 1957. About 38,000 hunters were in the fields for quail, compared to about 22,000 the previous year. The quail taken includes bobwhite, valley, and mountain.

More than 45,000 Hungarians were reported bagged by some 11,000 hunters, compared to close to 12,000 birds by more than 5,000 hunters in 1957. Sage grouse hunters out for the first time since 1953 reported in with a kill of just over 21,000 of these big grouse for a success of 2.9 birds per hunter. The 1953 season produced some 11,000 sage grouse.

Almost 16,000 upland bird hunters went for chukar partridge and reported bagging well over 91,000 of these colorful, red-legged rimrock dwellers. Success was 5.8 birds per man. Last year the take on chukars was just a little over 10,000 birds for a success of only 2.0 birds per hunter.

From the timbered sections of the state, hunters reported taking just over 73,500 blue and ruffed grouse for a success of 2.7 birds per hunter. Again the take was almost double the 39,000 grouse reported last year. More than 27,000 nimrods hunted blue and ruffed grouse compared to about 19,000 hunters the previous year.

To round out the upland bird season, more than 158,000 doves were taken by pigeons. Success on doves was around 17,000 hunters, and a high 9.4 birds per hunter about 20,000 hunters took and on pigeons 6.0 birds per close to 122,000 band-tailed hunter.

FRESNO PICKS COLEMAN
Fresno, Calif.—UPP—Fresno State College yesterday selected Cecil Coleman, 34, backfield coach at Arizona State University at Tempe, as head football coach. Coleman's selection was announced by President Arnold E. Joyal effective April 1. He will succeed Clark Van Galder.
