Sawdust 'Chips' May Be Useful as Paper Ingredient

Atlanta, Ga. —(Science Service)—A new type of sawdust soon may be used in the manufacture of pulp and paper. It has been done already on a pilot scale in south Georgia.

There is about one ton of sawdust for every thousand board feet of lumber produced. No important or large use exists for it. A modified type of sawdust or "saw kerf chips," however, now comes from a new type of saw blade developed by J. T. Griffin, an Atkinson county lumberman, it was reported here.

Takes Larger Bite

This revolutionary saw blade has about one-fifth the number of teeth found in conventional saws. Each tooth takes a large bite. Hence chips of pine rather than "dust" is the result.

The fiber length of chips is long enough for utilization in the pulp and paper process. And in all the tests she has made, the lumberman reports, the new type of saw cuts no wider kerf or gap than conventional saws.

Rigid laboratory tests and evaluation in the next few months are expected to decide the feasibility of wider application of the process throughout the sawmill industry.

Tests Scheduled

All aspects, technical and economic, of the chip process at sawmill level are to undergo testing at the U.S. Forest Service's Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis. Rayonier, Inc., is making the first production run with the chips in its Fernandina Beach, Fla., mill.

An entire carload of pine logs, both peeled and unpeeled, has been shipped to the Madison laboratory. Mechanical limitations are to be tested as well as the physical character of the chips and net value of the product.

Texan Confesses To Slaying Girl

Los Angeles—UPI—A young dude cowboy Wednesday night was booked on murder charges in the strangling of a 17-year-old Omaha girl who came to the big city to find thrills.

Larry L. Vance, 20, a husky 200-pounder from Victoria, Tex., broke down after five hours questioning and admitted beating Durella Boyer on the head with an electric iron and then strangling her with the iron's cord as she lay on a bed in her one room apartment.

The Texan, a former airman who affects cowboy clothing and frequently carries a bull-whip around with him, told police Miss Boyer said something which made him angry and touched off the killing.

She was not sexually molested, police said.

Vance was traced by police through fingerprints he left in Miss Boyer's apartment.

Weather Outlook Below Normal

Washington—UPI—The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for April calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the southeastern quarter of the nation and over the Pacific Northwest.

Above normal temperatures were forecast for the northern plains, Great Lakes region and the far Southwest. In unspecified areas about normal temperatures were in prospect.

Rainfall is expected to exceed normal over the Southeast, the Pacific Northwest and the central plains. Subnormal amounts were predicted for the southwestern quarter of the country and the Great Lakes region. Elsewhere about normal precipitation is in prospect.

Visit by Stork Surprises Parents

Clarksdale, Miss.—UPI—The stork sneaked up on the Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Parker.

Mrs. Parker, 44, checked with a doctor Monday about strange abdominal pains and learned she was pregnant. An eight pound, seven ounce son was born four hours later.

"When the physician examined her Monday and told us she was in labor we were shocked and out of our wits," said the surprised father, pastor of the Tutwiler Methodist church.

Mrs. Parker, who weighs 155, had thought she was suffering from a hernia.

The Parkers have one other child, a 12-year-old boy.

Thornton Favors Elective Office

Salem—UPI—Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton said today he did not think his office should be made appointive rather than elective.

A bill now under consideration by the Legislature suggests that he be appointed.

Thornton said many of his duties were not connected with the executive department, even though he is the legal advisor to the governor.

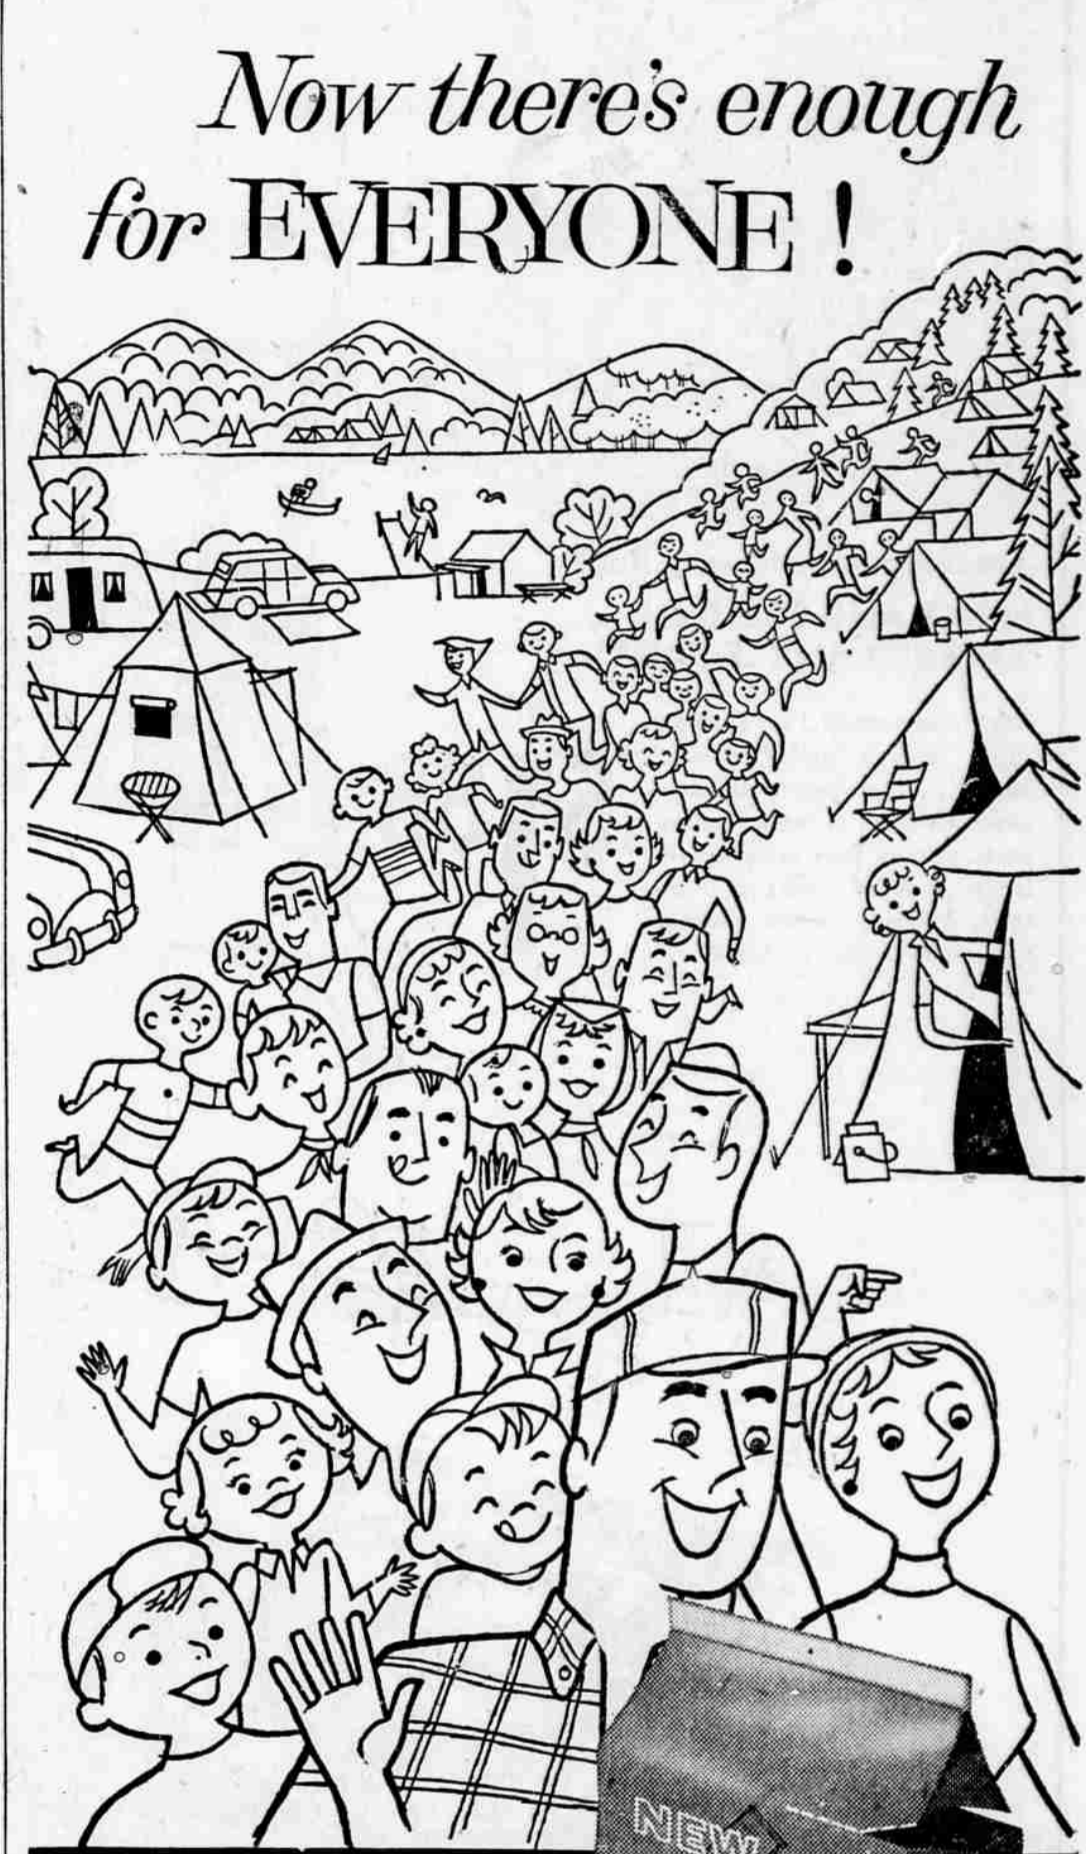

"He is, in the true sense of the word, the people's lawyer, and the people should have the right to choose him," Thornton said.
