Two Europeans On CBS Program

Two distinguished European conductors will make their American radio debuts with the Cleveland orchestra on the KYJC CBS Radio broadcast Sunday, April 5 at 11:05 a.m. They are Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, conductor of the Warsaw Philharmonic orchestra, and the internationally known Frenchman, Jean Fournet. Both will conduct works from their own countries.

Jean Fournet will open the broadcast program with "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by Paul Dukas, followed by the Debussy tone poem, "Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun." M. Fournet has served in his native France as conductor of the Opera Comique, of the Lamoureux and Conservatoire Orchestras of Paris, and of the French National Orchestra.

Stanislaw Skrowaczewski will conduct the American radio premiere of the "Concerto for Orchestra" by the contemporary Warsaw composer Witold Lutoslawski. Mr. Skrowaczewski has presented this concerto, which was written between 1950 and 1954, in Turin and in Brussels with great success. The young Polish conductor-composer comes to Cleveland at the invitation of George Szell, who met him in 1957 during the tour of the Cleveland Orchestra in Poland.

In fruits, there'll be choice selections and plentiful supplies of oranges, grapefruit, lemons, apples, and avocado pears.

At the fish counter, shoppers will find an abundance of shrimp, fish sticks, and canned tuna.

Supplies of poultry are ample and prices are slightly lower than a week ago.

Plenty Of Butter Among the red meats, pork is in liberal supply in most markets and beef supplies are moderate. Pork and beef are mostly unchanged to slightly higher in price this week.

Light to moderate supplies of calf, veal and lamb are mostly steady in price.
