Phoenix-Phoenix high overpowered the opposition Friday in a triangular track meet here.

The Pirates accumulated 78 points to 41 5-6 by Rogue River and 33 1-6 by Illinois Valley.

Phoenix capped 10 of the 14 events with Bill Dillree and Dan Lumley triple winners. Dillree won both the hurdles and the high jump and Lumley both dashes and the broad jump. They were members also of the winning relay team.

Doug Stewart was a double winner for Rogue River, taking the shot put and discus. Other Chief first was Dave Carter in the quarter-mile and Mike Hanby won the pole vault for IV with a good 11 feet 6 inches.

Don Korth broke his own school record for Phoenix with a 181-8 heave of the javelin. Nye Reese won the mile and freshman Vern Harris the half-mile for the Pirates.

The meet originally was slated as a Rogue River-Phoenix dual and was to have been at Rogue River. It was shifted to Phoenix because of poor RR track conditions. IV's meet previously slated with Glendale had been cancelled.

Phoenix will be Little Rogue relays host next Saturday.

Oregon had 60 and one-half points, Washington State was second with 49 and one-half points, Washington was third with 39, Oregon State had 36, and Idaho finished with nine.

Washington State's sprint relay team dominated the sprint relays, winning the 440 in :42.5 and setting a new mark in the 880 relay at 1:27.2. Perry Harper, Dave Rich, Lee Hall and Don Maw composed the Cougar short sprint team.

Mike Monroe led the Tornado in posting a team score of 313 to 403 by the California preppers. Monroe fired a 20 over par 36-34-70, playing even par on the second time around the nine-hole layout.

Parachute Jumps at Sportsfair

Parachute jumpers are expected to add color to the second annual Crater Lions Sportsfair to be held at the Medford armory next week end.

Members of the Drifters Parachute club, plan eight jumps a day, weather permitting.

Participating in his sportsfair event are Dee and Morton Gossett, Dick Wessell, Don Brennan and Bill Bowels. All are experienced jumpers and have made both delayed and static line falls.

They will maintain a booth at the Sportsfair to interest new members in the club. They are currently giving instruction to private pilots in this area.

One of the highlights of their planned Sportsfair activities is expected to be a delayed fall from a helicopter. A delay of at least ten seconds allows approximately a 1,000 foot fall before the chute opens.

Members of the Drifters will give demonstrations on packing parachutes and will answer questions at the Sportsfair booth.

Sugar Ray Must Sign By April 15

New York (UPI)—The New York State Boxing commission Friday ordered middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson to sign a contract for a defense of his title against Carmen Basilio by April 15 or face the loss of his crown.

Commission Chairman Melvin L. Krulwich said that after deliberation the commission decided that Basilio, from whom Robinson won the title 13 months ago, was the only logical contender for the 160-pound championship.

Basilio posted a $12,000 challenge with the commission 20 days ago backing up his bid for another shot at Robinson.

OSC Sweeps Twin Bill

Corvallis, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon State swept both games of a non-conference baseball doubleheader with Lewis and Clark here Saturday, winning the first contest 10-0 and the second 12-4.

Number of Senior Citizens Continues To Rise in Nation

(Editor's note: The following article was written by Rita M. Holmes, Oregon state director of Senior Citizens of America, to provide background material on the number of older citizens in the country, and the problems which are foreseen in the future. The article is in connection with Senior Citizens Month.)

The United States census bureau forecasts that the proportion of older people in our population will continue to increase for perhaps the next 50 years.

In 1900 the ratio of those 65 years of age and over in the total population was only 1 in 25. Today it is about 1 in 11, and steadily increasing.

There are now approximately 15 million people of this category in the country, and their number is growing at the rate of more than 1,100 per day.

Many scientific investigators believe that nothing short of a national catastrophe can reverse this trend; that perhaps by the year 2000 the life expectancy will be 100 years and the normal life span of civilized man about 150 years.

This promises a thrilling future for the race, only if we can succeed in adding meaning to the lengthening years. Routed in Disease.

According to medical authorities individuals rarely die of sheer old age but of factors rooted in some one of the diseases, all of which may be conquered by scientific research and community cooperation.

In view of the significant advance of medical science over the past two decades, it is not surprising to note that there has been a 36 per cent increase in the senior citizens (65 and over) category of the population of this country since 1940, and that an additional 48 per cent increase may be expected by 1975.

These factors present an urgent problem and opportunity for the communities, state and the nation. The churches, especially regarded as the traditional guardians and promoters of the spiritual welfare of all people, should become increasingly aware of the issues in our population, if, as seems likely within the next 50 years, men may expect to live 60 or 70 years after the 65 year arbitrary retirement age. Man may be retired before he has lived less than one-half of his life, what shall he do with those extra years?

Civilization has created more problems for the aged than it has solved. Now we insure more life with less and less in it. How are we going to meet the challenge of finding new ways of adding life to years? Tomorrow we shall be the aged for whom we plan today.

Vito Genovese, Drug Ring Head, May Be Deported

New York (UPI)—Vito Genovese today faces deportation from the United States where he has reputedly earned a lush living as a gangster for more than 40 years.

Genovese, alleged American boss of the underworld Mafia, was convicted by a federal jury Friday night, with 14 others, for a multi-million dollar narcotics conspiracy.

It was Genovese's first felony conviction and the government immediately notified the court that it may mean deportation for the Italian-born racketeer, who was stripped of his U.S. citizenship for fraud seven years ago.

Others Convicted
Convicted with Genovese were Natale Evola, who was present at the 1957 Apalachin, N. Y., gangland convention with the alleged Mafia boss, and Vincent I. (The Chin) Giggante, who was acquitted last year of the attempted assassination of elder racketeer Frank Costello.

The convicted narcotics operators also included one woman, Jean Capece, 29. One defendant, Louis Fiano, 48, was acquitted. He is already serving a federal prison term for narcotics conviction. Still Face Trial

A number of defendants still face trial for participation in the Genovese-led drug ring which the government charged was a major importer of illegal narcotics and a distributor to peddlers in New York, Las Vegas, Chicago, Miami, Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Federal Judge Alexander Bicks raised Genovese's bail from the $50,000 in which he has been free during trial to $150,000 pending sentencing, which was set for April 17. Genovese was given until Monday to post the additional sum. The other defendants were continued in their present bail, ranging up to $35,000.
