

"BUMPED" GI—Airman Robert Kindl, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., is shown at home with his wife and surviving son, Alan, Kindl and six other GIs leaving Tokyo on emergency furloughs were "bumped" by a vacationing colonel and his family, who wanted their space on the plane. Kindl's other son died before he arrived. Alan, 2½, is too young to realize the tragic reason for his father's presence at home.

Yakima Airman Presumed Drowned

Pacific City, Ore.—(UPI)—Dale Newell, a 21-year-old airman from Yakima, Wash., on leave from Oklahoma's Tinker Air Force Base, was missing and presumed drowned off the Oregon coast after he was washed over a 50-foot cliff by two large waves Saturday. Newell, was on Cape Kiwanda with two companions when he was swept away, ac-ording to Tillamook county sheriff's deputies. The companions, Malcolm Torrence, an airman from McChord Field, Tacoma, and Bob Ingman of Portland, told deputies the first wave knocked Newell down and washed him about two-thirds of the way toward the edge of the cliff. A second wave then crashed on the rock dragging him

HORN BROOK Easter Guests Listed

By KATHERINE CHAPMAN
Hornbrook — A guest at the Easter Sunday services at the Methodist church here was Dr. Arthur Becker of Martinez, Calif. Dr. Becker, now retired, is an uncle of Mrs. W. C. (Bill) Small, whose husband is pastor of the Hornbrook and Montague churches and was a week end visitor of the Smalls.

As a Methodist missionary in Korea for 38 years, Dr. Becker was one of the founders of the Chosen Christian college in Seoul, Korea. For two years during the war, he was stationed in India as a missionary. His career includes serving as a translator and as an advisor on Korean affairs at the Pentagon in Washington during the war, and as an advisor with the Army in building up the general education system in Korea. He later came out of retirement and returned to Korea to assist in rebuilding the bombed-out Chosen Christian college which is now known as the Chosen Christian university.

Others from out of town attending services at the local Methodist church on Easter were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wyatt and children and Mrs. Marge Snyder and children, all of Medford, who were in a family group with Mrs. Wyatt's and Mrs. Snyder's mother and brother, Mrs. Minnie Bloomingcamp and Charles. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves of Hills were joined by their daughters and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip York and children of Redding, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeAvilla and children of Yreka, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jorgenson and children of Willits, Calif.

Gordon Jacobs spent Easter Sunday in Chico with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Pinkham. The Pinkhams are sailing on the S.S. Matsonia Friday for a vacation in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watt and sons, Tommie and Ronnie, returned Easter Sunday from Portland where they were called by the death of Mrs. Watt's sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom Rubisch Jr.

Mrs. Bill Thomas and son, Mike, of Yreka, were visitors

Man, 92, Bound, Robbed by Thugs

Utica, N. Y.—(UPI)—A 92-year-old man was bound and gagged in his apartment by three gunmen Sunday night and robbed of $4,000—the purchase price of a farm he had sold to pay for the wedding of his 40-year-old daughter.

Police said the thugs apparently knew Peter Gentile had the cash in the apartment. The daughter, Jeannie, her fiancé, William Wiggan, and Gentile's son, Albert, also were tied up by the thieves, who took $250 from Albert and $20 from Wiggan.

long enough that the men in the family also were able to get in some golf on their practice course.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Fick of Canyonville, Ore., were week end guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman. On Saturday, the Ficks accompanied by Leonard and Ermin Bear and Miss Sharee Walsh drove to Mt. Shasta where they had lunch at the Ski Bowl lodge, and took a ride on the ski lift. On their return, they had a buffet supper at the Chapman's.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walsh drove to Salem, Ore., Saturday where they spent the week end at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Northelifer.

They were joined on Sunday by their daughter, Sharee, who flew up from Medford. On Monday, the family attended the wedding of the Northelifer's daughter, Miss Donna Northelifer, and Hugh Black. The ceremony took place at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist church in Salem.

Miss Walsh served as one of the candle-lighters at her cousin's wedding, and Mrs. Walsh poured at the reception which followed. The new Mr. and Mrs. Black met while both were students on the Oregon State campus. She later was a teacher in the Portland schools, and for the past 18 months has been a stewardess with United Airlines on the east coast. The young couple will make their home in Ithaca, N. Y., where he received his doctorate this year from Cornell college, and where he holds a professorship in conservation.

Dick Phillipi was in town last week visiting several friends. He is in the Air Force now and stationed in Kansas, but was home on leave and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Phillipi, now of Dorris, Calif.

The Bray family held their annual Easter egg hunt on Sunday at the Loren Cummin's place. Sixteen dozen colored eggs were hidden about the ranch, and all but 11 were found by the 37 members of the family taking part in the hunt. The rains held off

Estacada Youth's Trial Near Jury

Oregon City — (UPI) — The first degree murder trial of Estacada high school senior Duane Marvin Anders, 17, was nearing the jury today.

The youth is accused of fatally shooting his father, Hector Anders, with a rifle in the family barn last February and then burning the structure. The defense maintains the shooting was accidental and young Anders said he set fire to the barn afterward because he was afraid.

The defense rested its case Saturday afternoon and Circuit Judge P. K. Hammond called a recess until today after granting a motion by District Attorney Winston Bradshaw to subpoena five rebuttal witnesses.

The state rested its case Friday.

Fisherman Drowns In Lake Owyhee

Ontario — (UPI) — Frank Eisenhauer, about 35, Boise, was presumed drowned Sunday in Lake Owyhee in Malheur county, according to Sheriff John Elfering.

Elfering said the victim and two sons, Derrel, 11, and Eric, 9, were fishing on the lake and were beaching the boat when the father fell into the water. Eisenhauer had put the two boys safely ashore but as he reached to pull the boat in, it began to drift back toward the center of the lake.

Eisenhauer apparently slipped off a steep ledge while reaching for the craft and disappeared in the water. Elfering said deputies would begin dragging operations Sunday afternoon.

Western Australia's sea-coast extends a distance of about 5,200 miles.

Idaho Asked To Watch for Hunt

Boise, Idaho — (UPI) — The FBI today asked residents in southwestern Idaho and eastern Oregon to be on the lookout for Richard A. Hunt, 26, wanted for the wounding of the Brownsville, Ore., police chief last month.

Hunt has been the object of a widespread search since March 24 when E. G. McPhee, the Harrisburg, Ore., police chief, was abducted and then released, and Robert Kennon, the Brownsville police chief, was wounded.

The former Montana state penitentiary prisoner gave a large posse in the Brownsville area the slip. It was believed he later was in the Eugene area, but no trace of him has been reported for more than a week.

In Portland, an FBI spokesman had no further comment regarding the request for eastern Oregon and southwest Idaho residents to be on the lookout for Hunt.
