

Target Range, Forest Display Planned at Fair

The Southern Oregon Conservation and Tree Farm association and the Medford Gun club will combine their interests in the Sportsfair this week end.

The gun club will sponsor a target range, and SOCTFA will stimulate an outdoor atmosphere in much the same manner as they did last year. Much comment was made during the 1958 Crater Lions Sportsfair on the "real" look which was achieved with tree samples and stuffed animals, placed in the target range as to give the effect of a forest glade.

The Medford Gun club, organized in 1906, promotes general good sportsmanship and safety, plus a youth firearms educational program. Some members load their own ammunition, and a few even make their own guns, according to Jim Bolton, spokesman for the club.

Urged to Compete
Visitors to the Sportsfair are urged to compete for target marksmanship with the valley's own version of Annie Oakley. Bolton also expressed the hope that there would be competition between the archers and the pistol shooters.

The Southern Oregon Conservation and Tree Farm association was established in 1947 and has 65 member companies in Jackson and Jose-

Retriever Club To Have Exhibit

The Rogue Valley Retriever club is planning an outdoor exhibition of obedience and performance at the Crater Lions Sportsfair this week end.

Kenneth Denman, president of the club which has more than 70 members, said that both mark falls and hidden tests will be demonstrated. A mark fall is one in which the dog sees the object to be retrieved. A hidden test is one in which the dog has no previous knowledge of the fall and is guided to it by means of hand signals and whistles. No spoken commands are used.

Most of the dogs belonging to members of the club are Black Labradors. There are a few Golden Retrievers represented and they may be on hand at the Sportsfair.

The Rogue Valley Retriever club holds field trials nearly every month of the year. The American Kennel club license trials have been completed and had 154 entries from owners all over the West Coast. A permit from the State Game Commission is necessary before a trial can be held on certain lands in order that there is no disturbance of nesting

Law Prohibits Toxic Vapor Extinguishers

Toxic vaporizing liquid-type fire extinguishers, including carbon tetrachloride and chlorobromomethane units, have been removed from the United States Coast Guard's approved list for use aboard recreational boats and certain commercial vessels.

Approval for use of these extinguishers by the Coast Guard ended Dec. 6, 1958. However, such extinguishers manufactured prior to that date, and in service at that time, may be used by boat owners until Jan. 1, 1962. After that date their use on most small craft will be prohibited.

Similar changes will be proposed in the spring of 1959 by the Merchant Marine

Council for tank vessels and small boats carrying more than six passengers for hire.

Neckties Are Bright Colored

Many of the new neckties are flaunting bright Spring-like colors, bolder patterns and lighter shades. Among the top neckwear choices are shantung, in both bright and dull silk surfaces. Stripes and plaids predominate.

The under-knot pattern or design is headed for quite a comeback this season. These are the ties that show a distinctive pattern under the knot, and go well with striped, checked or plaided shirt fabrics.

Popular as ever are the repeats in both stripes and some new motifs. Along with the classic regimentals and club colors, there are some new off-shades that are particularly striking. Also important for spring are bright and cheerful white background ties with color splash designs.
