

Helicopter From Medford Firm to Be at Exposition

The role of the helicopter in modern-day transportation will be demonstrated at the Oregon Centennial Exposition starting in June when Janrick of Oregon Inc., Medford, will have one of its 47-J Bell Rangers at the Centennial grounds.

The company's helicopter will take visitors and tourists on flights over the Columbia river and other picturesque Oregon scenery.

In addition, Janrick has announced it is sponsoring a model contest for youngsters aged 8 to 18. First prize is a helicopter flight course which will give the winner 40 hours instruction and a private pilot's rating.

The contest, which was launched at the Sportsfair last week here, will be continued through the first weeks of the Centennial and models must be completed by August 1 for showing and judging at the exposition grounds.

Second prize is an Italian Fiat 600 automobile; third prize, use of a helicopter at no expense for an entire week end; fourth, use of a helicopter for four hours; and fifth, two days at the Centennial with expenses paid.

Five runners-up will receive portable television sets or radios.

Chicago - (UPI) - U. S. Customs officials Wednesday auctioned off unclaimed and rejected items collected over the past year. Among the items was a 1958 calendar, which an unidentified man bought for a nickel.

News About Books From the Library

At the conclusion of National Library Week we are grateful indeed to the many warm friends and supporters of the Jackson County Library who did so much to help us celebrate. In every community served by the county library response was quick and enthusiastic to invitations to participate.

Bob Mead is SOC Student President

Ashland - Bob Mead, Klamath Falls, was elected student body president of Southern Oregon college last Wednesday. More than 500 students cast ballots in the student body election for next year's officers.

Jim Ocha, editor of the college newspaper, reported that the election race between incumbent Richard Clark, Medford, and Mead, was hotly contested, with Mead defeating Clark's second-term bid by a vote of 294 to 221.

Ron Legget, Bonanza, was elected second vice president; Maureen McCurdy, Medford, treasurer; Janet Meyer, Klamath Falls, secretary; Larry Hall, Medford, yell king; and Ona Liles, Roseburg, Larry Barleen, Klamath Falls, Alvin Born, Henley district, Klamath Falls, and Ron Fader, Ashland, representatives-at-large.

A run-off election to determine the first vice-president will take place Wednesday between Rick Pastega and George Olson, both of Klamath Falls.

space to name the many persons to whom we should like to express our appreciation, but we cannot let the week close without mentioning our special thanks to Dunbar Carpenter, chairman of the National Library Week committee; Mrs. Harry Fuller, Mrs. Harold Cook, Mrs. Edwin Gebhardt, Miss Mary Pat Lucy, and John Williams.

Article Tells Of Wagon Train Routes

"Wagons Head Westward," an article on Oregon and the early wagon train route from Missouri, appears in the current issue of Life magazine. It is accompanied by numerous paintings and drawings of the early west.

The article tells of the arrival of the American ship, Columbia, to the Oregon coast from Boston, and the establishment of trading posts.

The article is part of a series of Life articles on the west.

HERB KENAGA
Traveler-Photographer

Alaskan Traveler To Give Programs Servicemen

Herb Kenaga, Alaskan traveler and photographer, will show slides of Alaska and the Yukon territory at programs April 23, 24 and 25 at the Girls Community club, 229 North Bartlett st. The local chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America will sponsor the shows.

Kenaga will present stereoscopic animal-sound recordings at 7 p.m. preceding the 8 p.m. slide collection and talk.

His pictures include scenery of highway travel from the United States through Canada to Alaska by two routes, old ghost towns of the 1898 gold rush in northern British Columbia, more of the Yukon territory including the 550-mile gold stampede trail from Skagway to the Klondike and Dawson City.

Other topics include Eskimo life, whale, walrus, seal and polar bear hunting, ice fishing and northern scenery.

Local Sheep Raisers Plan Monday Meet

A meeting of Jackson county sheep raisers will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Jackson county extension agent's office in the courthouse, according to Earle Jossy, county agent.

A pool shipment of lambs to market may be arranged as a result of the meeting, he said.

It's felt by some of the raisers that the buyers would prefer to pick up a truckload at a time. However, most of the raisers are not large enough to form their own truckload," Jossy explained.

Majority of the sheep raisers in the county have from 50 to 100 head, he said. The informal meeting will consider various problems facing the sheep owners.

PROGRESS REPORT
Smuteye, Ala. - (UPI) - Dial telephones are coming to Smuteye. The Union Springs Telephone company has announced it will convert its entire system to dial phones by summer, including service in Smuteye, Blue, Old Stand, Simsville and other small Alabama towns.

In the three centuries from 1650 to 1950 the total population of the world has more than quadrupled.

Dry Land Crops Hurt By Lack of Rainfall

Yreka - Crop on dry land farms in Siskiyou county will suffer unless rain is received within the next few weeks, county farm advisors in the area reported last week.

M. V. Maxwell, farm advisor, reported that only 72 per cent of the average amount of rainfall is expected this year.

Dry land farms will be particularly hurt by the lack of rain since fall planted grain crops are now at the critical period when the number of heads of grain per plant is determined according to available moisture.

All irrigation districts in the county are reported to have an adequate supply of water.

TO RECREATE HISTORY

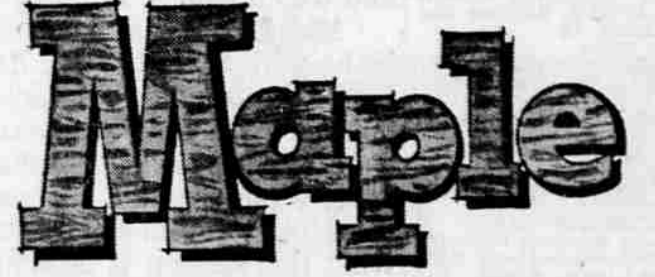

Amherst, Mass. - (UPI) - Amherst and Williams will recreate the game of baseball as it was played in 1859 to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the first intercollegiate baseball game. Amherst defeated Williams in that struggle which went 26 innings and took three and a half hours with a final score of 33 to 32. Thirteen-man teams from the two colleges, using the old rules and the old equipment, will play an abbreviated version of the game during a two-day celebration

May 15-16. There'll also be a replay of the chess match held in conjunction with the 1859 baseball game.
