

Discoverer II May End Trip Tuesday

Vandenberg AFB, Calif.—(UPI)—Discoverer II, the satellite which made history by sending a space capsule back to earth, probably will die a fiery death sometime Tuesday, an Air Force spokesman said today.

The nearly 1,600-pound satellite was blasted aloft seven days ago into a polar orbit around the earth. Last Tuesday, during Discoverer II's 17th pass over the polar regions, it automatically ejected a 160-pound space capsule.

The capsule has not been found, but the Air Force launched an aerial search for it over the polar waste regions last week.

An Air Force spokesman said Discoverer II has gone into a less efficient orbit and was now circling the earth about every 80 to 90 minutes.
