

In the Day's News
By FRANK JENKINS

Let's talk about women today. What do they want most? Especially, what do they want most out of the future?

THE national headquarters of the YWCA got interested in these questions a while back. So, as many another organization has done, it MADE A SURVEY. The survey covered 10,000 women, from teen-age to septuagenarians. They answered questionnaires on what would you like most to add to your life?

What led the list? You'd be surprised. Of the 10,000, ranging in age from 12 to 50-plus, 58 per cent named TRAVEL as their No. 1 desire. No. 2 will surprise you even more. Fifty-seven per cent of the respondents said they were chiefly interested in UNDERSTANDING OTHER PEOPLE!

HMMMMMMMM. That IS important, isn't it? In fact, it's VERY important. If you understand people, you can GET ALONG with other people.

If you can get along with other people, you'll be likely to lead a pleasant life. If you can't get along with other people, you'll be apt to be in hot water most of your days.

HERE are a few other preferences:

- Looks and grooming 53%
- More friends 49%
- Dancing 42%
- Cooking skill 41%
- Sewing 40%
- Reading books 35%
- Sports 34%
- Money management 33%
- Science 15%

Marriage didn't enter into the study, but one teen-ager, in answer to the question: "Any activity you would like to include which is not in the above listing?" gave a one word reply: "Boys."

IN CONCLUSION, let's get back to the No. 2 yearning—getting along with other people. Perhaps the best answer given to that, down through the long centuries was provided by Goethe, who said: "If you want to understand yourself, watch how other people act."

"If you want to understand other people, LOOK INTO YOUR OWN HEART."

Small Lumber Producers To Meet

Roseburg - The second in a series of meetings for independent lumber producers from Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine, Jackson, Klamath and Lake counties will be held at the Umpqua hotel here at 6:30 p.m. Friday, April 24.

Eliard L. Larkins, president of the recently formed Associated Independent Lumber Producers, Inc., said "we are convinced the small independent lumber producer does not have effective representation. The goal of AILP is obtaining relief from problems pressing the independent producer."

"Availability of timber, access roads, equitable taxation, maximum allowable cuts and smaller timber parcels bidding also are included on the agenda for the association," he said.

Labor Men Protest Two-Job Efforts

Portland -UPI- A labor delegation Tuesday asked the Portland City Council to halt the practice of municipal employees holding down two jobs.

The five-member CIO-AFL delegation complained that firemen and policemen in particular were holding down extra jobs, thereby competing with the regular labor market. The delegation said that county employees also were taking on other jobs.

gradec lass put up a display of "compass drawings" made in mathematics class during the past six weeks. They were exhibited at open house and spring concert April 16.

A close track meet was held with St. Mary's April 9. One Phoenix seventh grade boy vaulted 8 feet, 6 inches, in pole vault. The next meet will be April 24, with Griffin Creek and St. Mary's at Griffin Creek at 3 p.m.

Three student teachers from Southern Oregon college have recently come to practice teach in the Phoenix Grade school. Girl Scouts

Cooking Studied
Members of Girl Scout Troop 74 spent April 18 at Touvelle State park learning outdoor cooking methods. Despite illnesses, 23 girls participated and were aided by four Senior Scout program aides and six adults.

The girls worked in three patrols, with each group preparing a different main course. Buddy burners were also demonstrated with bacon and pancakes being cooked on these.

Patrol 1 prepared a one pot meal, hunter's stew, and had a fruit salad and s'mores for dessert; patrol 2 tried stick cookery with biscuit dough and frankfurters. They also had fruit salad and s'mores.

Patrol 3 cooked coffee can stew and made graham cracker cream pies and a fruit salad. The girls passed requirements for the outdoor cook badge and made preparations for an overnight to Camp Chinkapin May 8-9.

Patrol leaders for Troop 74 are Christine Bartels, Sandra Irving and Christine Finch. Senior Scouts who were program aides on the cook-out were Cassie Thompson, Ann Barker, Diane Lewis and Sherrie Pritchard. Leader of the troop is Mrs. Richard Finch and she is assisted by Mrs. Berwick Wood, Mrs. John McCann, and Mrs. Jerold Poulus. Mrs. Jerry Gastneau and Mrs. B. E. Budge also assisted with the cook-out.

Highway 42 Improvement Included In Columbia River Toll Bridge Bill

Salem -UPI- The Oregon House Tuesday concurred in Senate amendments to House bill 425 which would add $4 million for improvement of Highway 42 to a bond issue of $24 million for a new highway toll bridge across the Columbia river at Astoria.

Vote on the measure was 43-17. The bill now goes to the governor for signature.

Chief opposition came from Rep. George Annala (D-Hood River) who maintained that adding the Highway 42 improvement plan would disrupt plans for improving Oregon roads on a regional basis.

The Highway Department divides the state into five major regions and appropriate money for construction and improvement on that basis.

Annala said that about a

4-H Club News

Betsy Dunlevy and Joan Eslinger gave a demonstration on how to entertain for the Stitch in Time 4-H club. They showed ways of introducing guests and other things to do to have a good party. After the demonstration, the club got out material to make stuffed toys. Mrs. Miller had several different patterns, some fish, cats, horses, and the girls took their pick.

Several girls went on the tree planting project at Butte Falls. They planted about 200 ponderosa pine seedlings. They had a fire to roast marshmallows even though it did rain. One girl fell in the creek and got wet. On the way home a visit was made to the fish hatchery.

The last meeting of the Stitch in Time club was at Betsy Dunlevy's. Each girl displayed things she made, pin cushions, needle cases, scarves and stuffed toys. All the mothers were there to see the things, and we had a birthday party for Betsy. The girls watched the Pear Blossom Parade in the afternoon.

Reese Creek Renegades
A meeting of the Reese Creek Renegades was held April 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Walsh.

We had a general short quiz over the work done at the last few meetings.

A report was given on the planting of shrubs at the Eagle Point grade school.

Two assistant leaders were present. They were Bob Sroger, sheep leader, and Stan Holister, beef leader. They will assist Mr. Moore, the present leader, in each project.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Moore April 28. The meeting will be a joint meeting with the Eagle Point Cooking club. David Calloway, Reporter.

Charitable Business Tax Bill Approved

Salem -UPI- House bill 343 to tax business enterprises owned by charitable institutions which are now exempt from taxation was passed by the Senate and sent to the governor Tuesday.

Sen. Ward Cook (D-Portland) said a number of churches in the state operate mills, factories and other business enterprises which now escape taxation. Under the bill they would be subject to the corporate income tax.

Local Woman Wants Items Identified
Nellie Catherine Gibson, 246 Sunrise ave., Monday reported a strange object in her garden which she wished to have identified, according to Medford police.

Police said she thought it might be a bomb. But investigation revealed that it was a vacuum windshield washer and vacuum water tank control element. The investigating patrolman disposed of the items.

million dollars a year which would be spent on other projects would be lost through the bond issue for the two projects.

Rep. W. H. Holmstrom (D-Gearhart) moved that the House concur in the Senate amendments and re-pass the bill. He said that both projects were urgently needed and that a bond issue was the only way to get them.

Holmstrom explained that the Astoria bridge would not be built until Washington entered into contract with Oregon to share profits or losses from the proposed toll structure between Astoria and Megler, Wash.

Agreement in Bill
Highway 42 is not mentioned directly in the bill, but Holmstrom said there was an agreement with the Highway Department that the money would be used for improving the road between Roseburg and Coquille.

A Game Commission budget of $9 million caused quite a hassle in the House before it was passed and sent to the Senate.

Vote was 50 to 9.

Rep. Keith Skelton (D-Eugene) said the Game Commission should be combined with the Fish Commission.

Skelton said the budget for the Game Commission was up $2 million or 29 per cent over a year ago. No general fund monies are involved as the Commission gets its money from license fees on a state and federal level.

"They don't need this extra money, they just have it," Skelton said.

He said the Fish Commission budget which passed the House earlier contained a $1.5 million deficit and that if the two commissions were combined, this money could have been saved.

Rep. Katherine Musa (D-The Dalles) said she thought license fees should be reduced rather than giving the Commission extra money.

Rep. W. O. Kelsay (D-Roseburg) said that much progress had been made toward uniting the two Commissions but that sportsmen were not quite ready to do it now.

The budget was defended by Annala, who said that much of the increase was from federal funds so that the actual increase in the Game Commission budget was only 11 per cent - about the average of other budgets being considered.

A motion to re-refer the budget back to the Ways and Means committee failed.

Two bills raising legislators' salaries from $600 to $2,100 a year were approved by the House. One calls for an immediate increase and the other refers the issue to the people.

A state board of tax appeals would be set up under terms of a bill which passed the House and went to the Senate. The three-man review board would be appointed by the governor.

A director appointed by the governor is provided for in a bill which passed the House and went to the Senate setting up the office to replace the present three-man Unemployment Compensation Commission. The bill also changes the name of the UCC to Department of Employment.

A bill to fix the term of the chief justice of the Oregon Supreme Court at six years, instead of the present two, was passed by the House and sent to the governor.

Milnes Speaks at Washington Meet

Victor Milnes, Medford, president of Fortune Stations, spoke at the April meeting of the Independent Petroleum Marketers of Washington last week in Seattle.

He spoke on "the third dimension of competition" which concerned fair practices in gasoline marketing. Independent oil jobbers from throughout Washington discussed problems of the petroleum industry at the all-day meeting.

Milnes spent the early part of last week in Portland where he attended a meeting of the Oregon Independent Gasoline Jobbers association, of which he is president. He will represent the Oregon association at the national oil jobbers council in Des Moines, Iowa, late in May.
