

Office Resignation Bill Clears House

Salem - (UPI) - The Oregon House has passed a bill to extend the term of office of a state or county official who is elected to another office in midterm.

The bill would apply to both county and state officials. It says that if an official is elected to another office more than 90 days before expiration of the term of office he is holding, the office he is holding will become vacant on Dec. 31 or 90 days after the election, whichever is sooner.

The measure goes to the governor.

The House also sent to the governor a bill providing that if the governor wants to resign the resignation be submitted to the secretary of state. At present there is no provision in the law saying to whom the governor must submit a resignation.

The bills were an outgrowth of the dispute which developed last January on whether or not Mark Hatfield should have resigned as secretary of state before taking the oath of office as governor.
