APPLEGATE VALLEY School Presents Pageant

By MAUDE ZIEGLER
Applegate Valley — David Webb, Lois Griffin, and Stanley Schlosser portrayed a pioneer family coming to Oregon when Ruch school presented their Centennial pageant Friday evening.

A choral group and square dancers, dressed in their Centennial best, provided old time atmosphere narrated by Boyd Gibson, principal. The chorus was directed by Mrs. George Redhead, and the dancing was directed by Bruce Matheny. A school room scene and the gunny-sacked characters of 100 years ago provided much amusement to the audience. Robert Sorber, local Centennial chairman, welcomed those attending.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Christean spent the week end at Four Mile near Bandon, where they were guests of Mrs. Christean's sister, Mrs. Floyd Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dunshee and a party of friends spent Sunday at Hiatt Lake.

All manner of exhibits are being collected for the Applegate valley Centennial festival to be held at Applegate school gym Saturday, April 25, which is being sponsored by extension units of the community.

Industries of the valley will be represented, and 4-H groups will present a skit. The festival will open at 7 p.m. and there will be refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosemus of Alwale, Calif., is spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kubli.

Ruch Community church and at residences here were supplied by Charley Hoover through the Eagle Point program.

H. W. Jones of Spokane was a recent guest at the home of his mother, Mrs. Claud Williams.

Mrs. Ed Ramsey and daughter, Mary Beth, spent the week end at Pacific University at Forest Grove, where Mary Beth and other Medford students participated in a high school dramatics workshop.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester McDonough and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Winningham made a week end trip to Redding and Eureka recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Lance Offenhacher drove to Cave Junction recently, where they were hosts at dinner to Mrs. Offenhacher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Layton of Grants Pass. The trip was in honor of Mr. Layton's birthday.

Robert Straube was honored with a surprise birthday party Saturday at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Straube. Guests attending were Carol Deter, Lonna Buffington, Lois Griffin, Mary Anne, Madge, and Winnifred Barker, Mary Anne Cantrell, Linka Bettencourt, Ronnie Tames, Floyd Griffin, Richard Bottinger and Louis Barker.

Wayne Meads escaped injuries Tuesday when his Kaiser sedan turned over on a turn on Hamilton rd. near Ruch. A broken steering wheel was given as the cause of the accident.

Thursday, April 23, has been set as work day for mulching Logtown rose bushes with sawdust by Applegate valley garden club members. All except three of the 66 plants are growing, which were set across the front of the cemetery in December as a Centennial project. The plants received their first watering last week by use of 400 feet of hose, the hand pump in the cemetery and a bucket.

Mr. and Mrs. Verl Walker of Medford visited friends here Monday. They were accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Stephens, who were enroute to their home in Portland from Santa Ana, Calif. Mrs. Stephens is a sister-in-law of Mr. Walker.

Mrs. Chester Kubli accepted a position recently with the Medford Realty company.

Gail Buffington will undergo surgery Thursday at Sacred Heart hospital.

Mrs. Frank Mitchell accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reimister of Jacksonville, on a business trip to Roseburg Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DeVos of Sterling, who recently completed a new house, were surprised with a "house-warming" Wednesday evening by 21 people from Ruch Community church. Mr. and Mrs. DeVos were presented with a Bible concordance.

Quentin Convicts Rap Officials Over Punishment

San Quentin, Calif. — (UPI) — Two young convicts have bit-prison officials because they criticized San Quentin were punished for holding a terrified woman at knife-point for six hours in an escape attempt.

Billy Joe Wright, 26-year-old burglar, was transferred to Folsom Prison—the state's maximum security institution. He threatened that he might try to "go over the wall" again.

William D. Werner, 24, also a convicted burglar, was ordered to the California medical facility at Vacaville for psychiatric examination. He said he couldn't understand why he has been sent to a "nut house."

Interviewed After Hearing

Both men spoke to newsmen after hour-long hearings before the prison disciplinary board Wednesday.

"These people (prison officials) can drive you to a point where you will do anything," Wright gumbled. "I won't say yes or no on the question of whether I will try to escape again."

But he warned that if he decided to go, the walls wouldn't stop him.

"I'd just as soon get shot on the walls as anywhere else," he said.

Werner told newsmen he didn't think he would ever try another escape, but he was bitter about his transfer to Vacaville.

"I'd like to know the reason for sending me there to a nut house," he said. "I'm not a nut. If you place a man where nuts run the yard, you don't know I might end up a nut."

Both Escape Solitary

However, each man escaped a sentence of 29 days in solitary confinement for their escape attempt.

Warden Fred R. Dickson said isolation punishment could not be transferred from one prison to another.

Wright and Werner escaped Tuesday and kidnaped Mrs. Louise Gschwend, 45, and a fishing companion, Douglas Harrison, 62. They held Mrs. Gschwend at the end of a pier under threat of death until Marin County District Attorney William O. Weissich promised he would not prosecute them for kidnap.

State Attorney General Stanley Mosk had the power to override Weissich's promise—but said he would not.

Wagon Riders Meet Indians

Lawrence, Kans. — (UPI) — Seven covered wagons rumbled west to Oregon stopped for a rest period here Wednesday afternoon and held an informal pow-wow with the Indians.

Indians from the Haskell school here, dressed in full costume, met the Centennial caravan entering the city. They clamored about the Conestogas and did a w dance while thousands of persons lined the streets to welcome the train.

The Lawrence Chamber of Commerce presented the caravan with a birthday cake topped with four candles, signifying the four days the wagons have been on the trail.

History was met four miles west of the city, where wagon riders saw original ruts of the first wagons to cross the trail over a hundred years ago. The field has been unplowed in that time and the ruts have been preserved.

Union Postpones Mediation Session

Portland — (UPI) — A meeting scheduled for Wednesday between the Associated General Contractors and locals of the Astoria and Portland Pile Drivers Union was postponed at the request of the union.

Federal mediator George Walker said the sessions may be resumed Monday.

The locals have rejected a three-year package offer from the employers, although carpenters in Oregon and Southwest Washington have accepted it.
