

Back Stairs: A Momentous Occasion

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
Washington - (UPI) - Back stairs at the White House: It was not until a day or two later that those who watched President Eisenhower announce the resignation of John Foster Dulles fully realized what a momentous occasion they had witnessed.

Probably never before, and certainly not as President, had Eisenhower displayed his feelings so demonstrably in public.

Reference Removed
One well-known newspaper correspondent filed his dispatch and reported in the first paragraph that the President's eyes were brimming with tears as he announced Dulles' departure from government.

This fellow's editor promptly removed the reference to tears. Simply couldn't believe it.

Then the pictures showed up. One member of Eisenhower's personal entourage at Augusta, Ga., where the President made the Dulles announcement, said that in thousands of photographs of Eisenhower, he'd never seen the Chief Executive looking as dejected as he was in the shots made of him inside his car as he drove away from his Georgia press conference.

The White House staff, particularly the personnel in the Presidential section of the executive mansion, are looking forward with real anticipation to the visit next month of Sir Winston Churchill, the former British prime minister. Sir Winston's last residence in the White House was in June of 1954. The house staff was utterly fascinated by him. A courteous "how are you this morning" sometimes brought only a grunt, but sometimes a voluble reply, replete with typical Churchillian phrases, would roll forth.

Anticipatory of Churchill's arrival here May 4, a friend of his recently brought back this story from Europe.

Not so many years ago, Sir Winston was noted for his love of brandy and scotch—and his ability to consume same without missing a beat.

Forced To Cut Down
With the advance of age—he's now 84—and recent illnesses, the doughty World War II leader of the British has had to cut down, on cigars as well as brandy.

He apparently doesn't relish the diminution of his robust reputation, however. Sir Winston has developed his own way of coping with the gossips who talk about how he's getting so old that he has to cut down.

He'll order a drink quite vociferously and even at an odd hour like 11 o'clock in the morning, accept it with great flourish, take a smackingly appreciative sip—and never touch it again.

Endurance Flight Ends at K. Falls

Klamath Falls, Ore. - (UPI) - An attempt at a light plane endurance flight ended in failure Thursday night when a pump broke and sent gasoline into the cockpit during a ground-to-air refueling operation.

The ACS Crusader, piloted by Gene Tanner and Lew Becker of Seattle, made a safe landing here at 6:15 p.m., exactly 11 days, 11 hours and 45 minutes after they began their second attempt at beating the 64-day light plane endurance record.

Ralph Williamson, head of the ground refueling crew, said both pilots were very disappointed and said they did not know when they could start again.

Damage was extensive and Williamson said it would be some time before the plane would be able to take to the air again.

He said the ground crew and pilots were trying to transfer gasoline from the wing tank to the belly tank when the pump broke and gasoline started seeping into the cockpit.

The flight was sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Manager of Sporting Goods Store Named

Vernon E. Craft, Medford, has been named manager of Century Sporting Goods, Inc., 36 South Riverside ave., Medford, according to E. E. McGrew, president of the firm.

Craft was named an All-American high school football player and all-state high school basketball player while a student at Grants Pass. He studied at the University of Washington where he was on the football team. He has a degree from Gonzaga university, Spokane.

Crash in Tunnel Blocks Route 101

Seaside - (UPI) - A car carrying four students from Reed College in Portland skidded and slammed into a wooden support inside the 1278-foot Arch Cape tunnel on the Oregon Coast highway about 14 miles south of here Thursday.

Timbers and dirt crashed to the floor of the tunnel and Highway 101 was blocked. Traffic was rerouted over State Highway 53 between Nehalem and Necanicum junction.

The four students were injured but none was reported in serious conditions. They are Frederick Anderson, 21, Victorville, Calif.; John Martine Gorfinkel, 21, San Francisco; John Page, 21, Belmont, Calif.; and Steve Piker, 25, Cincinnati.

State police said the car skidded and crashed into a timber support 542 feet from the south end of the tunnel. The impact resulted in the slide of timbers and dirt inside the tunnel.

It was not determined how soon the highway would be reopened.

Accident Victim In Fair Condition

Robert Chriss, 842 14th st., was reported still in fair condition at Rogue Valley hospital today by hospital officials. Chriss was one of two men injured at Medford Steel company last week.

Reported to be in good condition at Sacred Heart hospital is Roy VanOrtwick, 1369 Poplar dr., who was injured at the company Friday morning.

Both men were reported to be suffering from leg injuries.

New York - (UPI) - Orchestra conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos, 63, who suffered a heart attack in January, has returned to New York hospital for kidney stone and possibly prostate surgery.

Contributions to Reform Noted by Neuberger in Talk

Washington - Oregon's contributions to American governmental reform blazed a "second Oregon Trail" which may be remembered longer than the original wagon route, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger told the Senate today in a speech noting Oregon's Centennial celebration.

Neuberger said the "Oregon System" - consisting of the political procedures known as the initiative, referendum and recall and including the direct election of United States Senators - represented a path marked by political pioneers with courage and persistence equal to those who crossed the plains.

The Oregon Senator traced the efforts of William S. U'Ren which resulted in the establishment of these direct government measures and caused Lincoln Steffens to describe him as "The Law-Giver."

Adopted Elsewhere

Neuberger noted that following Oregon's action, the initiative and referendum have been adopted in varying degree by 39 other states and that the recall is part of the constitution of 28 states.

He credited U'Ren with leading the fight in Oregon for direct election of Senators by creation of a plan known as "Proposition No. 1" - a pledge asked of each nominee for the Oregon Legislature in which he promised to vote for the candidate for Senator who received the highest number of the people's votes for that position. "With one State electing its Senators at the polls, the old appointment form had not a chance of surviving elsewhere," Neuberger told the Senate. "The contrast was too great. In 1913 the 17th amendment to the Federal Constitution was ratified, thus spreading from sea to shining sea William S. U'Ren's conviction that the U. S. Senate should represent the sovereign will of the people as expressed at the ballot box."

"We tend today to take for granted many of these governmental and social reforms," Neuberger declared, "but as the story of U'Ren illustrates, they were won for us with courage and perseverance not unlike that exhibited by our bravest and most brilliant generals."

Historic Decision

Neuberger also reminded the Senate of the historic 1908 United States Supreme Court decision in Muller vs. Oregon, in which the Court affirmed the progressive legislation passed by the Oregon legislature five years earlier limiting the working hours of women in factories and laundries to 10 hours a day. The case became famous, he noted, for the "Brandeis brief," a memorable defense of the legislature's action prepared by Louis D. Brandeis.

He pointed out that Oregon was one of the first states to initiate workmen's accident compensation and early recog-

Tokyo - (UPI) - Communist-leaning left-wing parties suffered major defeats Thursday in nation-wide elections of governors and prefectural legislatures.

The results were considered a victory for the government of Premier Nobusuke Kishi whose policies were attacked by his opposition as too pro-Western.

Results tabulated today showed Kishi's Liberal-Democrats and their conservative allies won the governor's races in 13 of 19 prefectures including Tokyo and Osaka.

Three each went to the independents and the left-wingers. The left-wing Socialists had pegged their election platform upon "independence from the United States" and "recognition of Communist China." Kishi favors close ties with the United States, is considered pro-Western, and has opposed recognition of Peiping.

STORM SINKS VESSELS

Seoul, Korea - (UPI) - Five persons were drowned and 38 were reported missing when a ferry and three fishing boats capsized during a storm Thursday off the Korean west coast.

nized the rights of labor unions by passing the "Little Norris - LaGuardia" Act in 1935.

"These illustrations indicate clearly that the first 100 years of my state of Oregon have not-as too many people believe-been filled only with Indian fighting and lumbering," Neuberger said. "We Oregonians are truly proud of the rich pioneer heritage of our state. But we are also proud of the heritage of reform which we have been able to share with all the United States."

World's Best Synonym for "Quality!"

In every land where automobiles are seen and appreciated, the Cadillac name has become a part of the language.

In fact, it would be safe to say that "Cadillac" is now an international synonym for "quality."

What a telling tribute this is to the motor car that bears this proud name—and that has given the Cadillac ideal such widespread recognition.

And certainly, that ideal of quality has never been more clearly evident—or more beautifully delineated—than it is in the current "car of cars."

First of all, it can be seen—in the majesty of its lines and contours . . . in the regal grace of its silhouette . . . and in the jewel-like elegance of its finish and trim.

Or it can be felt—in the brilliant response of its great new engine . . . in the incredible smoothness of its ride

. . . and in the ease with which it drives and handles.

It can even be sensed—in the superb taste of its interior appointments . . . and in the matchless character of its beautiful fabrics and leathers.

And yes, it can be heard—in the marvelous quiet of its operation . . . and its truly wonderful silence on even the roughest of byways.

In brief, the Cadillac name has never before represented excellence in such great measure—as a personal appraisal will amply demonstrate.

We suggest you visit your authorized Cadillac dealer soon—and view your favorite highway through the windshield of a 1959 Cadillac.

It will give you a new understanding of how truly fine a motor car can be.
