

Margaret Back From Vacation

London—UPI—Princess Margaret returned to London today after a nine-day vacation in Italy and France that set off rumors of a new romance. Smiling and radiant, she stepped off an airliner from Paris today without a word about the headlines that linked her name to that of Prince Henry of Hesse, a surrealist painter, who was her constant companion in Rome.

Buckingham Palace circles speculated that she might have a reunion with him next June when she goes to Portugal. The prince is a nephew of ex-King Umberto of Italy who lives in exile in Portugal.

Apparently recovered from Sunday's attack of flu, the pretty princess was seen off at Paris by British Ambassador Sir Gladwyn Jebb and other officials. Queen Mother Elizabeth, the princess' traveling companion, remained in the French capital to visit the Paris International Flower show.

The princess was confined to her room in Paris after she returned from church with Queen Mother Elizabeth Sunday. She caught cold after an exhausting six-day visit to Rome and a more somber visit to Paris.

Try and Stop Me

FROM WARSAW comes the story of the day a shipment of 100,000 pairs of leather shoes arrived from Moscow. Ingentious Poles cheered because they considered the shoes a gift from Russia, but the more knowing ones suspected there was a catch somewhere—and how right they were. On the heels of the shipment came a wire from the Kremlin: "Repair these shoes and return them to Moscow at once!"

William Steif met a tourist and his wife emerging from a Japanese tea house. "I'm glad you got a look at this place," said Steif. "Did you act really Japan-easy and sit on the floor?" "Not this time," admitted the tourist, with a trace of disappointment in his voice. "We didn't have an advance reservation—so we had to sit at a table."

New Math Program Urged by College Entrance Board

New York—(Science Service)—An improved secondary-school mathematics program that should be studied by all students capable of future college work is outlined in a 63-page report by the Commission of Mathematics of the College Entrance Examination Board here, entitled "Program for College Preparatory Mathematics."

Significant Terms

"College entrance requirements should be restated in broad and significant terms designed to encourage schools to introduce curricula and courses oriented toward the development of mathematical power, insight and understanding, rather than toward coverage of formalized material."

As many as possible of the college-capable must be urged to study challenging mathematics for four years in high school, the report said. None of them should study mathematics for less than three years, and the most gifted should accelerate their studies in mathematics so as to undertake the Advanced Placement Program.

Among the major proposals outlined by the Commission were:

1. Strong preparation in concepts for skills for college math at the level of calculus and analytic geometry.
2. Understanding of the nature and role of deductive reasoning—in algebra as well as in geometry.
3. Appreciation of mathematical structure or patterns.
4. Judicious use of unifying ideas—sets, variable, functions and relations.
5. Treatment of inequalities along with equations.
6. Incorporating some coordinate geometry, solid geometry and space perception with plane geometry.
7. Introduction in grade 11 of fundamental trigonometry, centered on coordinates, vectors and complex numbers.
8. Emphasis in grade 12 on elementary functions (polynomial, exponential, circular).
9. Recommendation of additional alternative units for grade 12; either introductory probability with statistical applications or an introduction to modern algebra.

Sawdust Cave-in Hurts 4 Persons

Vancouver, Wash.—UPI—Four persons were in St. Joseph's hospital here with injuries after a huge sawdust pile at an abandoned sawmill near Skamania caved in on them Sunday.

The four were John Kuhnke, Vancouver, David Schenz, 42, also of Vancouver and his two step-children, James Robert Portal, 12, and Gloria Diane Portal, 10.

Attendants at the hospital said the four were apparently getting sawdust for use at home when the pile fell on them.

Kuhnke and the young boy were completely buried and the girl was buried up to her shoulders.

Two other men getting sawdust, Robert Wittenberg, Seattle and Frank Duncan of Portland, rescued them.

Kuhnke suffered a possible hip fracture and a broken leg and the girl suffered a severe head cut when a piece of wood hit her, attendants said.

Khrushchev Back At Moscow Stand

London—UPI—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev turned up back in Moscow today after a month's absence that set off rumors he was ill.

Without any fanfare, Radio Moscow broadcast a single sentence report that Khrushchev "today received in the Kremlin the leader of the Greek Progressive party, Spyros Markezinis, and had a talk with him."

This was the long-awaited signal that Khrushchev, who disappeared from the Soviet capital a month ago on a highly unusual spring vacation to the Crimea, was back in Moscow and operating again.

Neither his departure nor his return had been reported as such by Soviet officials.

Plane With 101 Limps in Safety

Gander, Nfld.—UPI—A chartered airliner carrying 101 persons, including Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, limped into this Atlantic airline way-station on three engines early today.

The plane landed without incident while fire trucks and emergency equipment lined the runway. There were no injuries.

The No. 4 engine of the four-engine Super Constellation chartered from the Irish Airline Aer Linte started sputtering over the Atlantic while the big plane was near Gander on a flight from Shannon, Ireland.

The pilot immediately "feathered" its propeller, cut its power, and radioed Gander authorities that he would make an emergency landing here.

The cardinal was returning aboard the plane with 63 mentally and physically retarded children who had accompanied him on a pilgrimage to Lourdes, France. Most of them were a sleep when the engine trouble developed and did not know anything was wrong.

Crash on Klamath River Kills Man

Yreka, Calif.—UPI—A one-car accident on the Klamath river highway early today claimed the life of Carl Lynn Nelson, 24, Everett, Wash.

California state patrolmen said Nelson was drowned when his car plunged over a bank about 25 miles northwest of here.

Nelson was a lumber worker.
