

Ike Sees No Reason for Mrs. Luce To Resign as Brazil Envoy

U.S. 'Very Concerned' Over Iraq Situation, Ike Declares

Washington—(UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States is very concerned over the situation in Iraq, where Communists are trying to gain control of the government.

The President told his news conference the U.S. is doing its best to sustain and promote relations with the government of Premier Abdul Karim Kasim but that Communist efforts in that country have made the job difficult.

New Cross Currents

He said that since the July revolution in Iraq, in which the monarchy was overthrown, there have been new cross currents of antagonism in the Middle East.

Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency Tuesday described the situation in Iraq as "the most dangerous in the world." Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.), before whose Senate Foreign Relations committee Dulles appeared, agreed with that evaluation.

The President told reporters today he hopes the forthcoming East-West foreign ministers' conference at Geneva will achieve at least one small step to lay a basis for beginning negotiations on a German peace treaty.

Determination Reaffirmed

Eisenhower emphatically reaffirmed the western allies' determination to remain in Berlin despite Russian efforts to force them out. He said, however, that there were a great many approaches which might ease the situation there, give some hope of increased stability and avoid the danger of constantly recurring crises.

Stand Meaningless

He said Russia's willingness to accept a limit on the number of visits inspection teams might make to investigate possible violations of any nuclear test ban is meaningless so long as the Soviet Union continues to insist on having veto power.

There is no use talking about limitation of inspection so long as Russia insists on the right to veto general operations of the control and inspection system, he said.

Michigan Faces Payless Paydays For Lawmakers

Lansing, Mich. —(UPI)— Gov. G. Mennen Williams drafted a timetable for state fiscal collapse today after ordering payless paydays for lawmakers and judges.

The order followed an unexpected decision by state Senate Republicans Tuesday to shelve a stop-gap plan to convert the veterans trust fund to cash.

'Lasting Damage' Seen

"This will do incredible and lasting damage to the state," Williams said. "It is a disaster of the first magnitude."

Williams scheduled a cabinet meeting today to formulate "an orderly program for the suspension of essential state obligations until such time as the legislature provides money to meet them."

Williams halted processing of about 325 checks totaling more than $100,000 for the legislature, supreme and circuit courts.

Williams said the $5,100,000 payroll scheduled May 7 for 28,000 other state employees, including himself, will not be met unless emergency funds are provided.

The order came less than two hours after a GOP Senate caucus voted solidly to junk a plan to cash in the veterans trust fund.

Use Tax Eased

A new bill will be substituted. It would tack a one-cent use tax on to the trust fund plan — but May 11 is the earliest it could clear the legislature.

"It's our answer to both the immediate cash crisis and the long-range revenue problem," said Senate Majority Leader Frank D. Beadle.

The governor was bitter.

"The action of the Senate Republican caucus makes it clear that they are determined to have payless laydays and now they have their wish," Williams, six-term Democratic governor, said.

"In effect, they have decided to let the State of Michigan go down the drain."

Seattle Planning Monorail System

Seattle —(UPI)— Plans for the first monorail transportation system in the United States were completed today with the announcement by the Seattle Transit Commission that Lockheed Aircraft Corp. had been named as prime contractor to produce the system.

The airliner-type system will be used for the Century 21 Exposition, which opens here May 10, 1961, on a 74-acre site about a mile from the heart of Seattle.

Contracts between the transit commission and Lockheed will be signed following completion of financial arrangements with the Century 21 Exposition Corp., and the completion of design specifications, Commission Chairman W. W. Scruby said.

Estimated cost of the complete monorail system is $5 million, including three "air-trains," supporting structures and terminals.

Washington —(UPI)— President Eisenhower said today he saw no reason why Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce should resign as the new U.S. ambassador to Brazil.

Eisenhower conceded at a news conference that Mrs. Luce's remark about Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) Tuesday following her Senate confirmation may have been ill advised. But he thought it was only human.

Mrs. Luce remarked that her troubles with Morse "go some years back when Sen. Morse was kicked in the head by a horse." Morse had led a bitter, but futile attack, on Mrs. Luce's nomination.

Eisenhower revealed that, at his request, a special check was made in Brazil Tuesday afternoon. He said this showed that it was quite clear Mrs. Luce still would be welcome as this country's envoy in Brazil. Therefore, he said, he saw no major impairment of her usefulness.

Husband Urges Resignation

Mrs. Luce's husband, magazine publisher Henry R. Luce, had urged Tuesday night that his wife offer to resign in view of the attacks made on her in the Senate.

Eisenhower said Mrs. Luce had submitted no resignation and he had not been in direct contact with her since the Senate confirmation.

In New York, a spokesman for Mrs. Luce said she had no comment to make on the President's statement at this time.

Some senators who were pictured Tuesday night as ready to go on record against Mrs. Luce if she did not resign had cooled down today.

A reported move by some Democrats to offer a resolution expressing lack of confidence in Mrs. Luce also appeared to have been abandoned.

No Resolution in Works

Senate official sources said there was no resolution of criticism now in the works that they knew of. They said the President's news conference statement supporting Mrs. Luce increased the likelihood that any action would be dropped. To carry the fight further, it was said, might damage U. S. relations with Latin America without removing Mrs. Luce as ambassador to Brazil.

The President also took the occasion to express puzzlement over the delay in Senate confirmation of other administration appointees.

He defended Lewis W.

Morse Remark Felt Ill-Advised But Only Human

Washington —(UPI)— President Eisenhower said today he saw no reason why Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce should resign as the new U.S. ambassador to Brazil.

Eisenhower conceded at a news conference that Mrs. Luce's remark about Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) Tuesday following her Senate confirmation may have been ill advised. But he thought it was only human.

Mrs. Luce remarked that her troubles with Morse "go some years back when Sen. Morse was kicked in the head by a horse." Morse had led a bitter, but futile attack, on Mrs. Luce's nomination.

Eisenhower revealed that, at his request, a special check was made in Brazil Tuesday afternoon. He said this showed that it was quite clear Mrs. Luce still would be welcome as this country's envoy in Brazil. Therefore, he said, he saw no major impairment of her usefulness.

Husband Urges Resignation

Mrs. Luce's husband, magazine publisher Henry R. Luce, had urged Tuesday night that his wife offer to resign in view of the attacks made on her in the Senate.

Eisenhower said Mrs. Luce had submitted no resignation and he had not been in direct contact with her since the Senate confirmation.

In New York, a spokesman for Mrs. Luce said she had no comment to make on the President's statement at this time.

Some senators who were pictured Tuesday night as ready to go on record against Mrs. Luce if she did not resign had cooled down today.

A reported move by some Democrats to offer a resolution expressing lack of confidence in Mrs. Luce also appeared to have been abandoned.

No Resolution in Works

Senate official sources said there was no resolution of criticism now in the works that they knew of. They said the President's news conference statement supporting Mrs. Luce increased the likelihood that any action would be dropped. To carry the fight further, it was said, might damage U. S. relations with Latin America without removing Mrs. Luce as ambassador to Brazil.

The President also took the occasion to express puzzlement over the delay in Senate confirmation of other administration appointees.

He defended Lewis W.

10 MAIL TRIBUNE, Medford, Or. Wednesday, April 29, 1959

$480,250,000 Tentatively OK'd for Space Projects

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

4-H Club News

Lone Pine Merrymaids

The Lone Pine Merrymaids 4-H club met Saturday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Millie Edwards, on Foothill rd. There were six members present. Mrs. Edwards demonstrated a quick-mix plain cake.

The May meeting will be held on May 9 with a demonstration on cherry cobbler by Kathy Heidenreich and Judy Miller.

Patti Jones, Reporter.

Washington—(UPI)—The House Space Committee today tentatively authorized the expenditure of $480,250,000 on American space projects during the fiscal year beginning in July.

Eisenhower said Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was one of the finest public servants he had ever known and that he knew nothing but the best about Strauss' honesty, integrity and capability.

Eisenhower said sternly that while he was not criticizing or attempting to evaluate the motives of senators, he himself saw no reason for delaying the confirmation of over 1,000 nominees.

Eisenhower was asked, in view of Tuesday's uproar, whether Mrs. Luce should go on to her post in Brazil or follow the advice of her husband and resign. Before answering directly he traced her career as ambassador to Italy and said he had always known her as a dedicated, useful public servant.

Defends Morse Statement

As for her remarks about Morse being kicked in the head by a horse, he said he was sure it was not meant as any disparagement of the senator. Rather, he said, it was a perfectly human remark made when she undoubtedly, felt heated on the subject.

He suggested that she probably hoped such a remark would never get in print.

But even if ill-advised, her remarks about Morse was human, the President said, and he saw no major impairment of her usefulness in Brazil.

He pointed out that former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had suggested her appointment. He said that after her husband's Time magazine printed a story which was blamed for violence in Bolivia, she offered to have her nomination withdrawn. Here again, the President pointed out, was a case when the government did not think this was necessary because of sentiment in Brazil indicating she would be welcome as this nation's envoy.

BUTTE FALLS New Activities Listed

By MARY JO HARRIS

Butte Falls — This year has brought many new activities into the schools and provided new interests for after-school activities, one of which is Scouting.

The Butte Falls PTA devoted one program to Scout leaders from Medford earlier this year in an effort to get the program underway. As a result, there are now Boy and Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies in Butte Falls.

Butte Falls Boy Scout Troop 45 has organized into two patrols, the Flying Eagles and the Bob White Patrol. Flying Eagles are Danny Edmondson, John Capello, John Chambers, Joe Boyd, Gary Rodgers, Steven Stratton, Eugene Simmonds and Carl Clymer. The Bob White Patrol includes Jerry Brown, Jimmy Lytle, Mike Stratton, Jim McConochie and Arthur Rambo.

The boys have been working on their tenderfoot requirements. A court of honor will be held as soon as most of the boys have passed requirements.

Two regular meetings at the grade school gym and two patrol meetings at homes have been scheduled each month. So far the patrols have held meetings at the Edmondson, Stratton, Brown and Boyd homes.

Coming events include a troop visit to Medford, court of honor and hiking trips.

Cub Pack 45 held its first pack meeting Tuesday, April 7. All parents and cubs attended. The flag ceremony included the Canadian flag as the Cub's theme was "Canada, Land of the Mounties." Color guard was Mike Lindley, Ronnie Stanton, Stephen Tygart, and B. J. Rodgers. Hosts seating parents were Tom Finch, Charles Stockton, Calvin Ott, Dennis Bray, Jesse Smith and George Sutton.

Some boys were dressed as Mounties, rode stick horses and did a drill. Mounties were Jimmy Driskell, Mike Gray, Billie Nunes, Milan Ott, Jerry Lee Price, Floyd Smith, Ray Reddell, David Boggan and David Bray.

Bobcat pins and certificates all members of Pack 45. Jimmy Burton was confined at home with the measles and will receive his at the next pack meeting.

The theme this month is "Down on the Farm" and the boys are making gardens and animals. The next pack meeting will be May 5.

Brownie Scout Troop 149 was organized in February. Fourteen girls were registered from the first, second, third and fourth grades. Brownies are Nancy Smith, Bobbie Lou Crammer, Cathy Conley, Deborah McAlister, Dale McConochie, Janna Walker, Lana Perkins, Pamela Pepple, Sherry Tygart, Janice Chambers, Sandra McConochie, Susan

Washington—(UPI)— President Eisenhower said today he saw no reason why Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce should resign as the new U.S. ambassador to Brazil.

Eisenhower conceded at a news conference that Mrs. Luce's remark about Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) Tuesday following her Senate confirmation may have been ill advised. But he thought it was only human.

Mrs. Luce remarked that her troubles with Morse "go some years back when Sen. Morse was kicked in the head by a horse." Morse had led a bitter, but futile attack, on Mrs. Luce's nomination.

Eisenhower revealed that, at his request, a special check was made in Brazil Tuesday afternoon. He said this showed that it was quite clear Mrs. Luce still would be welcome as this country's envoy in Brazil. Therefore, he said, he saw no major impairment of her usefulness.

Husband Urges Resignation

Mrs. Luce's husband, magazine publisher Henry R. Luce, had urged Tuesday night that his wife offer to resign in view of the attacks made on her in the Senate.

Eisenhower said Mrs. Luce had submitted no resignation and he had not been in direct contact with her since the Senate confirmation.

In New York, a spokesman for Mrs. Luce said she had no comment to make on the President's statement at this time.

Some senators who were pictured Tuesday night as ready to go on record against Mrs. Luce if she did not resign had cooled down today.

A reported move by some Democrats to offer a resolution expressing lack of confidence in Mrs. Luce also appeared to have been abandoned.

No Resolution in Works

Senate official sources said there was no resolution of criticism now in the works that they knew of. They said the President's news conference statement supporting Mrs. Luce increased the likelihood that any action would be dropped. To carry the fight further, it was said, might damage U. S. relations with Latin America without removing Mrs. Luce as ambassador to Brazil.

The President also took the occasion to express puzzlement over the delay in Senate confirmation of other administration appointees.

He defended Lewis W.

Grand Jury Study Of Death Proposed

Portland—(UPI)—A coroner's jury recommended Tuesday that the Multnomah county grand jury investigate the death of a 16-year-old boy at Jantzen beach park here April 10.

Gary Seekins, Orchard, Wash., was killed when he pitched from the front seat of the Big Dipper ride and was crushed as the train passed over him.

The coroner's jury heard from about 40 witnesses, some testifying that a safety bar installed on the Big Dipper was not functioning properly.

District Attorney Charles Raymond said that if the grand jury should issue an indictment "it is presumed the charge would be involuntary manslaughter."

The park is operated by the Hayden Island Amusement Co.

Airports Lacking Room for Runways

Portland—(UPI)—A New York port official said Tuesday that "we have gone about as far as we can go in extension of runways."

The comment came from Austin Tobin of the Port of New York at the annual convention of Airport Operators' Council here.

Tobin said it was not only economically impractical, but physically impossible to extend runways in many cities. "At New York International we could go to 14,000 or 15,000 feet by building out into the bay. But the cost would be frightful," he said.

Airport operators say their official policy is that airplanes must be restricted to fit the runways.

Spokesmen for aircraft manufacturers disagreed. Don Buck, of Boeing Airplane Company, Seattle, said such a policy would block further progress.

Endurance Fliers Delayed at Klamath

Klamath Falls—(UPI)—Pilots Gene Tanner and Lew Becker of Seattle were delayed by ceiling zero weather early today in their takeoff to try to break the 64-day endurance record for light planes.

They hoped to take off about noon and head for Nevada. They were forced to land because of engine trouble last week after more than 11 full days in the air. Their flight is supporting the drive for cancer funds.

Bill Removes Limit Of Jurors on Panel

Salem—(UPI)—The limit of appointment of 40 jurors on a single panel is removed in House bill 653 passed by the Senate and sent the governor Tuesday.

Under the bill, the numbers of jurors drawn on a panel can be determined by the judge.

BIG DIFFERENCE

SO MUCH THE SAME IN PRICE...SO DIFFERENT ON THE ROAD...THAT'S PLYMOUTH!

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE AND PERFORMANCE

Only Plymouth of the top-selling low-price cars offers you Torston-Aire, the famous ride that combines limousine smoothness with sport-car stability... at no extra cost! And Plymouth offers you the low-extra-cost New Golden Commando 395... biggest V-8 in the low-price field.

| BIG DIFFERENCE IN FEATURES | PLYMOUTH | | PLYMOUTH | |
|----------------------------|----------|-----|-------------------------------|-----|
| | CAR | CAR | CAR | CAR |
| | "C" | "F" | "C" | "F" |
| Torsion-bar suspension | ✓ | ✓ | OPTIONAL EQUIPMENT | |
| Total-Contact Brakes | ✓ | ✓ | Swivel Seats | ✓ |
| Electric windshield wipers | ✓ | ✓ | Rear Sport Deck styling | ✓ |
| Most driver headroom | ✓ | ✓ | Push-Button transmission | ✓ |
| Most driver legroom | ✓ | ✓ | Push-Button heating | ✓ |
| Greatest trunk capacity | ✓ | ✓ | Mirror-Matic rear-view mirror | ✓ |
| Long-life baked enamel | ✓ | ✓ | Biggest engine | ✓ |

Compare '59 Plymouth with the other two top-selling low-price cars. Here's what you'll find!

And Plymouth's "Two-Mile Try-Out" proves the difference

Drive a Plymouth! Prove to yourself that it gives you the Big Difference. And be sure to ask a Plymouth salesman for price comparisons of Plymouth and the other low-price cars. You'll be glad to discover you don't have to pay for Plymouth's Big Difference!

LIVE BETTER BY FAR WITH A PLYMOUTH CAR

and telephone service. Administration supporters retorted Benson never had done so.

NOW! YOUR CHOICE

IN TV PICTURE TUBES... ALL-NEW OR FACTORY REBUILT!

21" SILVERAMA $45.50

21" MONOGRAM $33.00

*Other sizes priced in proportion.

BOTH WARRANTED FOR ONE FULL YEAR BY RCA

FIT VIRTUALLY EVERY MAKE AND MODEL TV SET.

When your TV picture tube needs replacing, call...

SP 3-6241

TROWBRIDGE & FLYNN

214 West Main

Garden Sawdust

McGinty Fuel Co.

Ph. SP 3-6297