

Vacation Pay Measure Beaten

Salem - (AP) - The Senate Wednesday defeated a measure which would have provided for payment for unused vacation time for a group of former state officials.

However, Sen. Alice Corbett (D-Portland), said she possibly would ask for reconsideration of the vote today.

The bill called for distribution of $10,640 in accumulated vacation pay to 17 former state officials who were members of the administrations of ex-Govs. Robert Holmes and Elmo Smith.

Sen. Ben Musa (D-The Dalles), led the opposition, saying that these men, when they accepted political jobs, knew what they were confronted with. He added if they did not take their vacations when due they should lose them just as they would in federal service.

Sen. Ward Cook (D-Portland), said if members of the Senate wanted these officials to let state business go hang and go on vacations they have earned they should vote against the bill. "They have earned these vacations and did not take them because they were dedicated to the duties assigned them," he said.

Grange News...

Enterprise Grange
The Enterprise Grange met recently with Robert King, master, presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore have completed obligations for the third and fourth degrees.

The Home Economics chairman, Gladys Boulter, reported eight members. They meet the first Wednesday of each month at the home of different members. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dick Olymplus, May 5. Activities of the club have included a clean-up day at the Grange hall, and a breakfast for the public.

New events will include a tea for teachers of Evans Valley school at the Grange hall Sunday, May 2, from 2 to 4 p.m. A short program has been planned.

The dairy chairman reported that the price of beef stock was up so the price on cull dairy cows had gotten a little boost.

Fire insurance agent, Chester Jensen, reported a raise in the fire insurance rates, although there had been no change in auto insurance rates. He reported that new car insurance policies were now required to carry an "uninsured insurance" clause that would protect the policy holder if he should have an accident with an uninsured car.

The Grange improvement program has been making a gradual progress. The Boy Scouts have helped by raking and cleaning the yard and burning the debris.

Members of the Grange have completed some of the jobs outlined. Bob Sloman has completed work on the sewage system to meet the requirements for the drainage disposal from the kitchen. Al Boulter has completed the serving table and it is now installed in the dining room and in use. Joe Wilson has donated enough lumber for the building of new steps for the Grange hall. King will do the carpenter work.

Art Moorman and Chester Jensen have donated galvanized pipe to erect standards for the net and back stop on the tennis court under construction as the Grange's major community project.

The Grange voted to purchase the net and the wire for the back stops. The court, although it is built on school property, primarily for the use of the school children, will be open for the use of the community.

Plans were made for a meeting on the court next Sunday to put on the final touches, which include pouring cement and setting the standards and pouring tar to fill the expansion gaps and final surfacing. Dedication ceremonies will take place at the annual picnic held at the close of the school year.

Many members have returned to the community after time away for illness or vacation. Mr. Orvis has returned from a trip to visit his daughter in Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. George Barry have returned from a winter vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Northrup have returned from California.

Mrs. Esther Sund is in San Francisco under treatment for injuries received in an auto accident some months ago.

Refreshments were served by Br. and Mrs. Tex Stothard and Mrs. Enid Stone.

A cubic foot of coal can generate enough electricity to operate a home refrigerator about two months.
