

Move Expected To Check Violence at Kentucky Mines

Lexington, Ky. —(UP)—A federal agency plans to ask for court injunctions to stop violence that has caused two mine operators to move out of the strike-bound eastern Kentucky coal fields.

Petitions for the injunctions, citing 71 charges of illegal secondary boycotts, 87 charges of mass picketing, and threats of violence by United Mine Workers members, were to be filed in Federal Court by Jerome D. Fenton, National Labor Relations Board general counsel, against the UMW in the 53-day-old strike.

Shots From Ambush
Jack Blair, of Whitesburg, the last operator trucking coal to the Roland P. Price loading ramp at Mayking, said he had closed his operation and is leaving Letcher county.

Blair estimated 200 shots were fired from ambush at the loading ramp Wednesday. "I have been shot at, my equipment has been shot at, my trucks have bullet holes in them, my wife has been threatened, and I can't take any more," he said. He plans to move his operation to Norton, Va.

ty caused an estimated $500 damage to a coal chute. About 2,000 National Guard troops were called to the strike area April 24 by Gov. A. B. Chandler after earlier violence and two strike-connected murders.

A Perry county operator, who declined to be identified, said he sold his mining interests last week because UMW activity kept him from operating.

He said the truck mine operators cannot agree to the union demand for a $2 pay day wage increase and continue to operate, but that they might sign a modified wage demand.

The UMW also is demanding observance of the 40 cents per ton payment to the union welfare and retirement fund, and no handling of non-union coal by union miners.

House Votes To Recall Cigarette Tax Measure
Salem — (UP) — The Oregon House has passed on a motion by Rep. Clarence Barton (D-Coquille) to recall to the House the 3-cents-a-pack cigarette tax. The bill is now in the Senate.

Washington — (UP) — President Eisenhower has exempted Canadian oil from mandatory restrictions on imports of foreign petroleum products.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and individuals.

Mrs. K.M. — Nora is rude to my friend.

Nora M. — Why should I have to put up with him?

Mrs. K.M. — I am a widow in my 50s living with my youngest daughter, a girl in her mid-20s.

About a year ago I met a man who is interested in marrying me. I don't feel that I want to marry him. He doesn't have the appearance and manner I like in a man and he has many personal habits that annoy me. But Jim is pleasant, good company and very considerate of me. He is also very thoughtful of my daughter.

Here is the problem. My daughter, Nora, is rude to Jim and resents his presence in our home. She tries to run out or lock herself in her room when he comes. I want her to stay around because this will prevent his getting any wrong ideas. She would be sitting in the living room watching TV anyway.

Nora M. — I certainly do resent Jim. Who wouldn't? He makes himself right at home in our place with no consideration for us. He'll take off his jacket and loosen his tie just as though he has already moved in. Of course he always says "May I?" first, but he doesn't even see my nasty look when I say, "Make yourself perfectly at home."

It certainly makes me sick to have him hanging around. I don't give a darn if Mom goes out with him. It's her business if she wants to date characters like that, but why should I have to put up with him?

What annoys me most about Jim is what my mother calls his "thoughtfulness" of me. He brings me little gifts for special occasions. It's as though he is trying to buy my good will or something.

The Council: Mrs. K.M. is making an unfair demand on her daughter and Nora is taking it out on Jim in a cruel and unfair way.

Mrs. K.M. is, in effect, asking Nora to act as chaperone and we certainly don't blame the girl for resenting this. A woman in her 50s should be able to act as her own chaperone. If she feels unable to cope with Jim's advances she ought to get rid of him or see him only for outside dates.

It is possible that Mrs. K.M. wants Nora around more as a restraining influence on herself than for Jim and the girl senses this. It is probably disturbing to her to think of her mother as a person not completely in control of herself. At the same time it makes Nora feel "in the way" as chaperones always are. They are there to prevent an incident that is desired by their charges.

Nor do we blame Nora for objecting to having a man who doesn't really belong make himself at home in her living room. But her sarcasm is ineffective as well as nasty. It would be so much better if she would courteously come out with the truth and say, "I'd prefer that you wouldn't" when he asks if he may remove his jacket.

It seems to us that both Nora and Jim are getting a rough deal here because of Mrs. K.M.'s lack of honesty. Apparently she is attracted to this man and finds that he offers certain conveniences. She encourages him to expect more from her than she is willing to give. If she is not interested in marrying him but only in keeping his friendship, she should let him know. However, we suspect that he is a diamond in the rough, and could get over some of his boorish ways if he were treated kindly, tactfully and honestly.
