Eagle Brand Magic Lemon Pie

Perfect lemon filling made without cooking. It's easy as a mix with Eagle Brand—yet has delightful real lemon flavor.

FILLING

- 1½ cups (15-oz. can) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
- ½ cup lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind or ¼ teaspoon lemon extract
- 2 egg yolks

Put Eagle Brand, lemon juice, lemon rind and egg yolks into mixing bowl; stir until thickened. Pour into a cooled pastry shell.

Top with a standard recipe for meringue, or for a deliciously different lemon pie use whipped cream or a prepared topping.

Eagle Brand fits so beautifully into so many quick, easy-to-prepare recipes that no up-to-date kitchen should be without it.

THE FAME AND FORTUNE of a Paris night spot is as fleeting as the beauty and youth of the girls who dance upon its stage. The Moulin Rouge is now a sedate tourist center, and the equally famous Bal Tabarin a ghostly shell on a forgotten side street. But like a fading cancan dancer musing over old love letters, the Bal Tabarin recently relived its gayest days. A movie company occupied the old club, closed three years ago by labor trouble, and began filming its history. Girls, of course, were the main attraction. They were pretty, handsomely half-dressed, and elegantly graceful. But, said some old-timers, they were not the same as the girls of yesterday—just shadows of the past like the Bal Tabarin itself.

Film introduces new rival of Gina, Sophia named Sylvia Lopez, a newcomer to the screen.

Lavish Parisian revues often include action on more than one level: note alcove above stage.

Backbone of any French revue, however, is its chorus line of beautifully... er... clad girls!
