Topical Philately Program Subject

At last Thursday's meeting of the Southern Oregon Stamp club, Mrs. Eric de Place presented an interesting program on "Topical Philately." It was well illustrated by selected pages from her collection of biology on stamps. Acquiring stamps according to the subject pictured is rapidly becoming the most popular method of collecting. The American Topical association, an organization founded about 10 years ago by topical collectors, now numbers over 5,000 members.

Plans were discussed for the club's participation in the 19th Pacific International Exhibition to be held in Portland on June 12, 14, Clyde E. Smith, Ashland, one of the members, is exhibiting his prize-winning collection of Oregon Postal History items in this show. Mr. Smith is an authority in this field and a writer for philatelic publications.

Mrs. Russell Herbert, the club's president, appointed Elmer J. Binker Jr., as the new publicity director. He replaced Mrs. de Place, who resigned because of other duties.

Two new members were accepted at this meeting, Mrs. Ralph C. Moore and Melvin W. Dixon, both of Medford. This brings the active membership to 25.

The club meets at the Girls Community Club, 229 North Bartlett street, at 7:30 p.m. on the first Monday of each month. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mineral Society To Have Display For Centennial

Thirty-nine members and 12 guests heard an informative program at last Friday's meeting of the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral society. Mrs. Florence Renaker read a humorous sketch by Rudi Korn Mann, city editor of the Ashland Tidings, describing the origin and characteristics of a "rockhound." Mr. Kornmann was present as a guest of the club.

Delmar Smith of the Crater Rock Museum also spoke on the art of sanding gem materials. This was part of a series of talks on cutting and polishing being presented by members of the club.

Plans for the society to display of Southern Oregon gem stones in the Centennial Stockade at Siskiyou summit were discussed. F. B. Otis, the club's president, selected a committee made up of Delmar Smith, Elmer Binker, John Morrow, and himself to work out the details of this project.

It was announced that the next field trip will be May 16. The club will go to the Crowfoot area for Medfordite, agate, jasper, and scapolite crystals on Saturday, May 16. All persons interested in participating should meet at the Butte Falls Junction at 9 a.m. Further information concerning this outing may be obtained by calling the secretary, Delmar Smith, NORmandy 4-1355.

Society Stresses Rose Care

Care of exhibition roses for the June Rose Show was stressed at the last meeting of the Rose society.

Rose growers were advised to spray or dust their rose bushes every week or ten days to protect them against insect pests and diseases.

All hybrid tea roses grown for exhibition purposes except single types, such as Dainty Bess, must be disbudded. Side buds should be removed as soon as possible. Evidence of late budding will be penalized as the judges see fit, the society states.

Old-fashioned roses which are to be exhibited as single specimen blooms must also be disbudded. Do not disbud singles, climbers, polyanthus, floribundas and grandifloras.

As a part of the program, members were to "come as a rose." Some dressed in costumes to represent a certain rose, others wore certain objects to indicate a rose and others chose to act out the name of a rose. Members were to guess the names of the roses as each person appeared before the group.

Mrs. Dayton Depue won the prize for guessing the names of the most roses. V. L. Quakenbush won a prize for the most original idea.

Mrs. Elle Netherland received a Spartan rose bush as a prize.

Mrs. Wallace Peabody, trophy chairman for the show, displayed the silver trophies to be awarded. The show is set for June 9.

New members welcomed into the society were Mrs. Edward C. Kelly and Mrs. Frances Rutter.

Lou Cranston and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Messal were guests at the meeting.
