

Gold Hill Group Hears Speaker; Dinner Planned

Gold Hill - "What the Woman's Society of Christian Service means to me" was the title of a talk given by Mrs. E. A. Faber, member of First Methodist church, Medford when she spoke at a meeting of the Women's Society of the Gold Hill Community Methodist church, at the church here Friday, May 8. Mrs. E. C. Hoffman, president of the group, conducted the business session.

A pledge service concluded the afternoon meeting. Mrs. Roy Eskew was in charge and assisting her were Mrs. Ferd Jones and Mrs. Ivan Smith. Officers for the ensuing year will be installed at the June 12 session.

Members of the Society were hosts for a potluck luncheon in the church dining room prior to the May 8 meeting and service. Guests included Mrs. W. C. Spencer, Mrs. Alva Williamson, Mrs. Gerald Robbins, Mrs. A. L. Schatz, Mrs. S. L. Gribble, Mrs. Ogden Kellogg, Mrs. W. S. Dickinson, Mrs. H. S. Deuel, Mrs. H. Ecker and son, Buddy, all of Gold Hill, Mrs. S. N. Seville, Fullerton, Neb., Mrs. Irvin Warren, a member of the Presbyterian church in Medford, and Mrs. E. A. Faber, both Medford.

Mrs. Lawrence Smith was chairman for the luncheon and Mrs. Ferd Jones and Mrs. Harriett Elliott were co-chairmen.

Mrs. George Dorman and Mrs. J. G. Kofahl were in charge of decorations in the dining room and sanctuary. Spring flowers decorated the tables and arrangement of yellow and blue dutch iris with yellow tapers stood in the sanctuary.

Officers of Gold Hill Community Methodist church state that District Superintendent Meredith Groves, Eugene, will attend a "loyalty dinner" Friday evening, May 22. The entire congregation of the church will be invited to dine at the church at 6:30 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m. as previously announced.

Following dinner, a program is planned by the music committee, Mrs. C. Norman Gail, Mrs. Roy Askew and Mrs. Paul Molloy.

The loyalty dinner is a church project. Plans for it were made at a recent board meeting held May 3 at the church.

Annual Luncheon Given In Redecorated Room

Women from all parts of the Rogue valley gathered at Rogue Valley Country club Monday afternoon for the annual luncheon, style show and card party of Medford Kiwanian Dames. The group numbered about 250. Interest in the event was sharpened by the fact that it was held in the main dining room which has been undergoing renovation and enlargement in recent weeks. Comment on the renovation and decor was favorable, and it is good to know that such a large group can now be seated in one room for events such as the one held Monday.

A traditional feature of the show each year is a "mystery model" who strolls about the room, wearing a mask. This year the model was Mrs. E. Ronald Rice wearing a heirloom gown of black taffeta topped with a matching hat. A prize goes to the guest who correctly identifies the model. Since the Rogue valley has a long warm season, the show featured swim, sports and play clothes, and attire for patio and garden. Dressier clothing was made of cogl cotton or other sheer material and were styled with bouffant skirts and brief bodices with short or no sleeves.

The season's favorite black and white was contrasted with cool all-white, greens and blues, and some of the warmer apricot, yellow and pink hues were shown. The increasingly popular splashy Hawaiian prints are offered for both play and patio attire. Chiffon and similar

School Faculty Guests at Tea; Woman Honored

Evans Valley - Enterprise Grange sponsored a tea Sunday for the faculty of Evans Valley school, honored were Mrs. Mariette Pilgrim, Mrs. Dorothea Matheny, Mrs. Musa Hagberry, Harold Brew, William I. McKinney and Earl I. Covey.

Former faculty members and their families were also invited to attend. A program of music was given. Mrs. Esther Frost played a violin number, accompanied by Mrs. Bates of Grants Pass and a girls' trio composed of Marydeia Frost, Gwen Ellis and Celia Damon sang. Ronald Koop played a trumpet solo and Nancy Johnson completed the program with a piano solo.

Following the program those in attendance joined to voice their "earnest appreciation of the 11 years of constructive and faithful service" of Mrs. Hagberry, who is retiring from the teaching profession this year.

Her parting gift from students, parents and friends was a money tree loaded with silver. It was presented by Eugene Rice, school principal at the time Mrs. Hagberry first joined the faculty. Mrs. Marion Scadding, who was clerk of the district at that time, presented Mrs. Hagberry with a guest book containing the names of former students and friends.

Among the guests at the tea were Mrs. Hagberry's daughter, Mrs. Helen Muller, and her daughter, Susan, Central Point, Max Barraclough, a son-in-law, and his daughter, Candace.

Mrs. Gladys Boutler, chairman of the Enterprise Home Economics club, was tea chairman. She was assisted by Harold Wilson and son, Ronald, who prepared the hall for the event, and Mrs. Dolly Olympius, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Grace Hiltson, who helped serve refreshments. Mrs. Bertha Williams and Mrs. Minnie Jensen poured.

Former Beauty Queen in Trouble

Littleton, Colo. - A Beauty queen Dixie Ann Gottfried, 20, sat in a jail cell today, only a few blocks from the scene of her happiest moment. That moment was 10 months ago when 19-year-old Dixie Ann Likes of Pueblo, Colo., a striking blonde, was crowned "Miss Colorado Jaycee of 1958" at nearby Centennial Turf club. But her life since has taken a sad turn.

Dixie Ann confessed Tuesday that she stole $131 and a supply of narcotics from a drugstore at the point of a 45-caliber pistol. She said it wasn't her first robbery.

William D. Gottfried, the man she married after winning the beauty title, is now serving an armed robbery sentence at the Illinois Prison for the Criminally Insane.
