

POTPOURRI

With all the excitement of a week in New York as Oregon Mother of 1959 over and done with, Mrs. Harlan Bosworth is now in Buffalo to visit her husband's father and will return to Medford later. Mrs. B. wrote earlier to her husband and friends to say that she was heartily in accord with the committee's selection of the Honorable Jennie Lottman Barron as American Mother of 1959, and that the choice had been universally popular. Mrs. Barron, the only woman ever to occupy the bench as a superior court judge in Massachusetts, is credited with aiding hundreds of youngsters in turning to useful and law-abiding lives, and of having helped many couples to solve their marital difficulties.

Mrs. Bosworth said Mrs. Barron, who has many college and honorary degrees, had said she prizes this new honor above all others. The Oregon mother and her son, David, who was his mother's official escort in New York, wore Centennial dress for part of the festivities and one day presented Mrs. Daniel Poling, head of the American Mothers' committee, with an invitation to become an Ambassador of Good Will for the Centennial. Mrs. Poling, who now lives in New York, is a former Oregonian and her husband's relatives live in Jackson county. Mrs. B. also wrote that "the press took a fancy to me today and took several pictures of me with Mrs. Barron."

After the Mother of the Year festivities were over, and Mrs. Bosworth and David had "done" New York, the two went to Washington D.C., for a time before leaving for Buffalo. After her return to Oregon, Mrs. Bosworth goes to Portland for a United Nations meeting at which she will be honored. Mrs. Bosworth has long been active in the UN and is on the state board.

Although she could not be here to enjoy the event, Mrs. Bosworth was also honored at the annual May party given Tuesday night at St. Mark's church by members of St. Catherine's guild. The honored woman has been a member of the Episcopal church for many years and teaches Sunday school.

Mrs. L. Miles of the guild made two large portraits of Mrs. Bosworth to hang in the Guild hall and in the Parish house where guests were entertained, and they were one of the main conversation pieces of the evening.

Medford's main street, with its new tubs planted with little trees and flowers, has taken on a new attractive look this summer. It also has a new name. Some of the business men of the city, who underwent the ministrations of Mrs. O. A. Eden during the planning and planting, now refer to Main street as "The Garden of Eden."—O.S.
