

Many Top Golfers Qualify But Three Stars Drop Out In U.S. Open Preliminaries

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press International
 New York - Most of the nation's better golfers survived preliminary qualifying skirmishes for berths in the U.S. Open golf championship but among the familiar names missing today were Jimmy Demaret, long-hitting George Bayer and big Tim Bolland, who created a sensation last season by reaching the semifinals of the British Amateur.

They were the leading casualties as more than 2,000 pros and amateurs in 56 cities battled for the 403 places available in a second series of trials coming up June 1. Another 21 will qualify at Chicago today plus four more at Des Moines, Iowa, where heavy rains forced postponement of the second 18 Monday.

With 69 leading players exempt from Monday's tests, the firing ran fairly true to form. Pros Gardner Dickinson, Bill Collins and Ewing Pomeroy paced the nation with brilliant 36-hole totals of 135 and failures among the "name" players were infrequent.

But some of the glitter went out of America's biggest championship, scheduled at Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 11-13, when Demaret, Bayer and Holland failed to get their names on the qualifying rosters in their local sections.

Demaret Loses Out
 Demaret was entered at Houston and Bayer at Little Rock. Holland made a hot late run in the Long Island, N.Y., section but lost out in a three-way playoff for the final Open berth.

Horton Smith missed at Detroit, Toney Penna failed at Cincinnati, Dale Morey grabbed a shaky alternate's spot at Indianapolis and Marvin (Bud) Ward missed out at San Francisco.

Two surprises: Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco Forty-Niners led the San Francisco section with 71-76-147 and former big league pitcher Lou Kretlow of Edmond, Okla., got in with 154 at Oklahoma City.

Forty-nine of the 69 exempt from Monday's trials will have to play in the next elimination June 1. In that group are Sam Snead, Mike Souchak, Art Wall Jr., Arnold Palmer, Doug Ford, and Ken Venturi.

Another 20, including defending champ Tommy Bolt, Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff and Dow Finsterwald, automatically qualify for a berth in the Open's starting field of 150 at Winged Foot June 11.

Notre Dame Tells Of TV Broadcasts Of All Grid Games

South Bend, Ind. —(UPI)— Notre Dame University announced today it will televise on a delayed basis all of its 1959 football games over a national network.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame said the 10 games will be televised over a minimum of 115 stations from coast to coast. The telecasts will originate from WNDU-TV, university-owned station.

Transmission and network facilities will be provided by Sports Network, Inc., of New York.

Richard Bailey president of Sports Network, Inc., said that while no definite times for the telecasts have been determined, most of them probably will be carried an hour before the telecasts of the Sunday games of the professional National Football league.

Sale and distribution of these telecasts has been assigned to United Press International. The package will be produced by Newsfix, Inc., of New York, with Harry Wismer, one of the nation's leading sportscasters, handling the play-by-play. Edward (Moose) Krause, director of athletics at Notre Dame, will supply the color background.

Will See More Games
 Mims Thomason, first vice-president and general business manager of United Press International, hailed the television arrangement as one that "will enable fans to see more college football games this season than any year since the NCAA began restricting the live telecasts of college football in 1951."

"Now the fans each week will be able to see Notre Dame against one of the top teams in the country," he added, pointing out that the 1959 Irish schedule includes these opponents:

Sept. 26, North Carolina (home); Oct. 3, Purdue at Lafayette, Ind.; 10, California at Berkeley, Calif.; 17, Michigan State at Lansing, Mich.; 24, Northwestern (home); 31, Navy (home); Nov. 7, Georgia Tech (home); 14, Pitt at Pittsburgh; 21, Iowa at Iowa City; 28, Southern California (home).

Thomason also revealed that United Press International is planning other television sports programs in collaboration with Newsfix, Inc. which is a subsidiary of Bert L. Coleman Associates, Inc., of New York.

Jayvees Tip Ashland 8-3

Medford high junior varsity baseball nine defeated Ashland 8 to 3 at Ashland yesterday.

The Junior Tornado had two big, scoring innings but one of them did not count because rain halted the contest and the score reverted to the total at the end of the previous frame.

Big inning that went into the record saw five runs cross in the fifth frame. Craig Lawrence tripled, Dick Ragsdale singled and Craig Gardner hit a sacrifice fly. There were a walk, two errors, a balk and a wild pitch.

For the game Ragsdale hit three for four, Wayne Thompson two for four and Bob Quinney a triple. Bud Lowery tossing for Medford, struck out five batters and walked one. King for Ashland, whiffed two and gave two bases on balls in the six innings that counted.

The rain canceled out six runs in the seventh by the Tornado. These were put over by singles by Thompson and Lowery, a double by Quinney, two walks, a sacrifice and two errors.

LINESCORE:
 Medford 102 100-8 8 4
 Ashland 800 102-3 4 3
 Lowery and Barry, King and Dotter.

Salem Takes 1-0 Split

By United Press International
 Salem and Wenatchee got no place in the only action Monday night in the Northwest league. Salem took the opener of their twin bill 1-0 but Wenatchee won the second game, 3-2.

In the only other scheduled action, the Yakima-Eugene twin bill was rained out.

Salem took the opener behind three-hit pitching by Chuck Lybeck who won his fourth straight without a loss. Loser Jack Curtis allowed but four hits.

The only run came in the second with two out as Hank Bivens singled, moved up on a walk and crossed on another single.

Wenatchee got a run in the seventh frame of the nightcap to take that one. It came as Dick Wilson doubled and came in on Mike Yaremchuk's single.

Cordial Taking OTI Position

St. Helens, Ore. —(UPI)— Jim Cordial, former star end at Oregon State, was reported today to be resigning his post as football coach at St. Helens high to accept an assistant coaching position at Oregon Tech in Klamath Falls.

Cordial would fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ralph Carr.

NAMED BEST DEFENSE

New York —(UPI)— Player-coach Steve Kraftcheck of the Rochester Americans has been chosen the American Hockey league's outstanding defenseman for the 1958-59 season in a poll of the league's press, radio and TV corps.

Eugene, Ore. —(UPI)— Whitworth defeated the University of Oregon 5-2 in tennis Monday.

Giambra Takes Jones In Ring

Dallas, Tex. —(UPI)— Joey Giambra whipped Ralph (Tiger) Jones but you wouldn't know it today from looking at them.

Giambra, once a top challenger for the title held by Sugar Ray Robinson, scored a unanimous decision Monday night in the 10-round tussle with Jones, the New York middleweight trial horse.

It was the third straight victory for the good-looking Giambra, who is climbing back toward a top challenger's spot after a seven months' layoff because of an elbow injury.

Jones Virtually Unmarked

Jones was virtually unmarked today. But Giambra sported a beat of a right eye. It was swollen nearly closed. There were vivid red marks around both eyes, and Monday night when he climbed through the ropes after 30 minutes of Jones' punishing body blows, his left side looked like raw hamburger.

Jones, who holds a non-title decision over Robinson, said he thought he won, or at least he would get a draw. "I threw more punches," he said.

But referee Tom Attra scored it 99-94 for Giambra, and the two judges had it 99-93 and 99-95. The United Press International scorecard agreed with Attra.

Giambra, weighing 156, used sharp counter-attack combinations to build up an easy lead over the two pounds heavier Jones. In the fifth Joey jolted Jones with a series of lefts and rights on the button, but the New York battler survived the barrage and bored in to carry the battle back.

United Press International

WINS ATHLETIC AWARD

Chapel Hill, N.C. —(UPI)— Track star Dave Scurlock has been named winner of the University of North Carolina's highest athletic award — the Joseph F. Patterson Medal. Scurlock, a physical education senior from Greensboro, N.C., never has been defeated in the 440 or 880 during Atlantic Coast conference competition.

"I'm using it without any trouble and it doesn't hurt me a bit," said Eddie. "All I needed was rest."

Bisons Near First Place

United Press International
 A pair of neat pitching jobs by Dallas Green and Hank Mason has vaulted the Buffalo Bisons to within striking distance of first place in the International League.

Green picked up his fourth win Monday as Buffalo beat Toronto, 5-2, in the opener of a doubleheader while Mason tossed a four-hit white-washer to down the Maple Leafs, 5-0, in the nightcap. Bob Morgan's two homers, one in each game, aided the Bison attack.

The double Buffalo win, coupled with league-leading Miami's 13-8 loss to Columbus, moved the second-place Bisons to 1½ games of the Marlins.

Columbus scored six runs in the eighth inning to come from behind a one-run deficit and put the game on ice.

Basilio, Manager Star Witnesses

New York —(UPI)— Carmen Basilio and co-manager Johnny DeJohn are slated to be star witnesses Wednesday at the continuation of Sugar Ray Robinson's title hearing.

Carmen, former middleweight champion, and his copilot have accepted an invitation from the New York State Athletic commission to attend the session. It was an invitation, not an order.

Their readiness to be honored guests at Sugar Ray's trial may have been inspired by curiosity about the certified check for $225,000 that Irving B. Kahn is offering Basilio if he'll fight champion Robinson at Philadelphia on Sept. 21.

DeJohn announced Monday night at Pittsburgh that he and Carmen would be present Wednesday. Johnny and Carmen stopped off at Pittsburgh while en route from Syracuse, N.Y., to Weirton, W. Va., where they'll attend a fight hearing.

Before Monday's hearing was adjourned to Wednesday, Robinson's attorney, Martin Machat, asked the commission to send for Carmen and Johnny.

Machat wants them as defense witnesses, who may explain their alleged reluctance to negotiate with promoter Sam Rose of Philadelphia and his agent, Harold Salkind, for the Philadelphia fight.

Signs Solo Contract
 Robinson signed a solo contract for the bout — their third rubber title match — on May 12, and he has been offering Basilio the "biggest purse of his career" if he, too, would sign. But Carmen and co-managers DeJohn and Joe Negro have been regarding the entire Philadelphia deal as a "phony," aimed at saving what's left of the Sugar man's title.

The National Boxing Association vacated Robinson's 160-pound title on May 4 for his failure to defend in nearly 14 months. And the independent New York commission would have stripped him of the rest of his crown last Friday, "the deadline," were it not for Robinson's shouted guarantees of a fabulous purse for Carmen.

Accordingly, the commission — instead of vacating Ray's title Friday — granted him this week's hearing in which he must prove he has gone all out to make the Philadelphia match.

New York —(UPI)— The most widely-traveled player in major league history was James T. McGuire, who played for 12 different clubs between 1884 and 1912.

Willie Mays clubbed the seventh homer of the campaign in the fourth inning with nobody aboard to pull the Giants even, 1-1, after Johnny Logan's single had tallied Frank Torre in the Braves' half.

The Milwaukee moved ahead to stay with another run in the fifth on Wes Covington's single and picked up two more in the sixth to ice things.

The Giants staged some fireworks in the seventh which produced one more run with Andre Rodgers' single driving it across. Then the rally conked out with two aboard as Leon Wagner bounced into a double play.

Both Spahn and Jones said brisk winds that lashed the field affected their curves. Spahn claimed he couldn't tell which way a ball would go. Jones said that it caused some of his sharp breakers to hang.

Thoreau Guides Winter Olympics

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
 San Francisco—The guiding genius behind the 1960 Olympic Winter games is H. D. Thoreau—strangely enough a man fashioned in the mold of his famous ancestor philosopher, Henry David Thoreau.

Thoreau (modern version) is listed as assistant executive director of the organizing committee for the Squaw Valley event. On his shoulders rest the responsibilities of making the show click.

Since getting out of college after World War II, he has been sports publicity director at Southern California; executive assistant to the commissioner of the Pacific Coast conference with the National Collegiate Athletic Association in New York—and for the past three years with the Olympic games.

He is internationally recognized as an authority on track and field; has done nationwide announcing on radio and TV, and has written articles on the chances of the United States in the summer Olympic games for such big magazines as the Saturday Evening Post.

His mind is a complete file of facts and figures—on the 1960 Winter Olympic games, on track and field, college football, baseball, boxing, or possibly tiddlywinks.

When he was flagged by his own crew, it was the handwriting on the wall for the handsome California who had won the Memorial Day classic nine years ago.

Since then, he has lost the heart to duel with younger men on the championship circuit, including the speedway race.

Too Fast for Him
 "This has gotten to be too fast for me," he said as he announced his retirement from big-time competition. "Oh, I think I could get out there and force in four quick laps—but believe me it would be forcing. And that's not the way to drive a race car."

Parsons pushed his No. 45 roadster to the starting apron during last Saturday's time trials. When he was too slow, his crew gave him the yellow flag, the signal to get off the course.

That was the tipoff for Parsons. He talked it over with his crew and some close friends, then announced, he would restrict his future racing to the midjet, stock and sprint cars.

LONGDEN RIDES WINNER
 Chicago —(UPI)— Johnny Longden won his first stakes meeting at the Washington park track since 1945 when he booted Fightin' Indian home in the opening day feature of the Balmoral meeting in record-tying time. Fightin' Indian was clocked in 1:09 for six furlongs, equaling a mark set by Sun David in 1952.

The wins boosted Portland from seventh to sixth place. Kutyna allowed only three singles in the afternoon game before 4859 fans. In the night game Houtteman duplicated the performance before 3312 fans.

It was the second win of the year for Kutyna; the first or Houtteman.

Portland got its only run in the first game when Jack Littrell singled, went to third on a single by Jim Westlake and scored when Kutyna hit into a double play.

The Beavers got two runs in the first inning of the second game and then proceeded to run up its margin as Vancouver made six errors.

Portland moves to Seattle tonight for the start of a three-game series.
