

JACKSONVILLE Booster's Set Meeting

By BETTE HOSKINS
Jacksonville—Leroy Mauroni, band instructor at the Jacksonville High school, has called a Band Booster's meeting Thursday, May 21, in the music room at 8 p.m.

The IOOF and Rebekah Lodges of Jacksonville have expressed appreciation for the good turn out at their Mother's Day sour-dough hotcake breakfast Sunday. It was reported that at least 100 guests were served, including an early morning fisherman and several out of towners.

John M. Patterson of Carlsbad, Calif., former resident, is visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Patterson, for a few weeks.

H. A. Bernston, accompanied by his brother, Rich Bernston, of San Francisco, left here this week on a six weeks trip. They plan to visit a sister in New York whom they have not seen in many years, as well as other friends and relatives along the way.

Six local women returning from Seattle after attending the International Child Evangelical conference are Mrs. Lee Harter, Mrs. Fred Buehling, Mrs. O. M. Kesler, Mrs. Hyrum Bernston, Mrs. Jack McCormack and Mrs. Ford Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harter expressed appreciation to their friends for the kindness extended them after the recent death of their daughter Nancy.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Pearl Whitney were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shore of Lakeview.

Other guests visiting recently at the home of Mrs. Whitney were Mrs. Elmer Hasty and Miss Dorothy Houlihan of San Mateo, Calif. While here the group toured the valley accompanied by Mrs. Ella Russell of Medford.

Overnight guests at the home of Mrs. Alma Taylor Tuesday were her daughter, Mrs. Don Puckett, of Riddle, and Mrs. Max Kitchen of Myrtle Creek.

Mrs. Archie Bowman and Mrs. Pearl Jordan recently purchased the "Nugget," and are open for business, featuring home style cooking and baked goods.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Scheffel have moved their antique shop to the former home of Police Chief Frank Carter at Fifth and California sts. The house is the old Essie McCully residence, one of the foremost pioneer families in the early days. Mrs. Scheffel stated that the shop will reopen about May 20.

Opening at Mrs. Scheffel's old location across from the museum May 14 will be the Terminal Book and Gift shop with Americana antiques and souvenirs, being operated by Mrs. Virginia Card and Inez.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter have bought the former H. F. Branson home at 509 North Oregon st. The Bransons have moved to Central Point.

Recent guests at the home of Pearl Kitchen were her father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Kitchen, of Reno, Nev. They also visited other relatives in the area. A visitor at the home of Mrs. Kitchen was Mrs. T. M. Langberg. She was en route from Seattle to Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whiteley, former residents, have moved back from Medford and are now living on Third st.

Recent newcomers to Jacksonville are Mr. and Mrs. Dave Allen, originally from Grants Pass. The Allens have two pre-school boys, Wayne and Dale. Allen is employed at KBES-TV. They are renting a home from Alma Taylor on Huener lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rasmussen report that they hope to have their newly constructed Tri-Plex apartments ready for occupancy by mid-June. They are located at 400 North Sixth st.

Mrs. Hazel White of Sacramento, Calif., has been a guest at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White. Other guests at the Harold White home are Mr. and Mrs. Harley Sturgeon of Portland. They also are visiting other friends in the valley.

Miss Martha Wyatt was hostess at her home for a kitchen shower honoring Miss Glenda Hobbs of Medford last Tuesday. About 12 guests were present.

Due to being overly enthusiastic and sympathetic during "Be Kind to Animals Week" this humane reporter has two litters of cute kittens who will soon need good homes.

Mrs. Bernice Penick, former Medford resident, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Ida Wright a few days this week. Mrs. Penick also will visit other friends in Medford before returning to Sebastopol, Calif.

Stassen Nominated Philadelphia Mayor

Philadelphia—UPI—Harold E. Stassen, once a presidential hopeful, has won the Republican nomination for mayor.

The former governor of Minnesota and former disarmament adviser to President Eisenhower will oppose Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth in the November elections.

Stassen, backed by the GOP organization, won easily Tuesday over two rivals. Dilworth was not opposed for renomination.

Hearing Opens on Round Butte Dam

Madras—UPI—A hearing opened here today on application by the Portland General Electric company for a $71 million dam at the Round Butte site on the Deschutes river.

The hearing is being conducted by the Oregon Hydroelectric commission.

The Round Butte dam would be located eight miles southeast of here and would be 440 feet high. PGE earlier constructed the Pelton dam on the Deschutes.

Hoffa Threatens Nation-Wide Strike To Combat Union Anti-Trust Proposal

Washington—UPI—Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa has touched off new demands for tough labor legislation by threatening to combat a union anti-trust proposal with a nationwide strike.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee said the threat has confirmed the danger which he had tried to warn the nation about when the Senate was considering its labor reform bill earlier this year.

McClellan denounced the

Disc Jockey Ends Sleepless Stint

Peoria, Ill.—UPI—Disc Jockey Stan Major went to sleep early today after 210 hours without dozing.

Major, 22, crawled in the sack after claiming a new stay-awake record for disc jockeys, top exponents of the wake-a-thon fad.

Earlier he had pronounced himself in "fine shape" and told of his determination to make it to 250 hours, or even 300 hours.

But he called it quits 6½ hours after claiming a new American record of 203 hours and 25 minutes—one minute longer than rival disc jockey Jim Austin of Springfield, Ill.

Teamsters boss as a would-be dictator and Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) accused Hoffa of trying to place himself above the law.

Members of the AFL-CIO executive council also said privately that Hoffa's outburst dimmed chances of success for their campaign to get House changes in the Senate-approved reform bill.

AFL-CIO President George Meany was reported to be distressed by Hoffa's statement. Other AFL-CIO leaders called the threatened walkout a stupid gesture that would serve to rally anti-union forces in the House.

Advocating "Revolution" Many disassociated the federation from any protest strike Tuesday and implied that Hoffa was advocating "revolution."

The senators were aroused by Hoffa's speech in Brownsville, Tex., Tuesday to members of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Hoffa said a bill to apply the anti-trust law to unions would be introduced in Congress next week. Its enactment, he added, "would leave us with the solution to have one solitary strike throughout the United States to tie up all employers across the nation at one time."

The Teamsters president obviously referred to McClellan's recent statement that he was considering the introduction of a bill to place transportation unions under anti-trust statutes.

McClellan told United Press International today he has prepared a tentative draft of such a measure but has not decided when he would introduce it. However, he said, it definitely was time for Congress to consider such a step.

Live Wire Fatal To Malin Youngster

Malin, Ore.—UPI—Deanna Cacka, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cacka of Malin, was killed Tuesday afternoon when she picked up a live wire while playing with four other small children in her own back yard.

State police said the father had strung a 220-volt wire along the ground by the fence from his shop in the yard to a potato cellar a quarter of a mile away where men were cutting seed potatoes. Cacka is a prominent potato grower in the Malin area.
