By RUTH RAUSCH Cave Junction - Bill Burch, Scoutmaster of Troops 85 and 123, assisted by Jim Holten, Don Gibbs, Bill Box and George Yarbrough, accompanied 36 boys from the two troops to attend the Scoutennial in Medford last Saturday night. Troop 123 took part in the general parade.

Russians Develop Heated Wallpaper

Moscow (UPI)-Soviet scientists say they have developed a wallpaper that can heat a house. The wallpaper, already in use at the Institute of Chemical Technology in Moscow where it was developed, is composed of three layers of rubber-like synthetic material. The middle layer is a conductor and when current is passed through it can heat the fabric to 104 degrees, according to the Industrial Economic Gazette. The Gazette said the covering also may eventually be used to heat railway cars, automobiles and planes.

Fluoridation of Coquille Water Cuts Tooth Decay

(Reprinted from the Coos Bay World.) Coquille - Fluoridation of Coquille's drinking water has achieved a dramatic decline in tooth decay of children here since it was adopted nearly five years ago, it was indicated this week at the City Council meeting in a report from the state board of health.

Dr. David W. Witter, head of the board's dental division, cited data showing that decay has been reduced by about 20 per cent at the six-year-old level.

The optimum effect - two-thirds less decay - takes about 10 years to achieve, he said. But the dentist added that desired results are becoming apparent faster than expected, often after two years of fluoridation.

The dentist's report was based on a survey of Coquille elementary children made in January.

of the Rev. and Mrs. Gene Denning, will marry Miss Marilyn Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Walker, of Long Beach, Calif., on June 20.

The bride-elect will graduate next month from the Long Beach City college.

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Sacramento are guests at the home of the doctor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Smith of the West Side road this week. On Sunday, the family will attend the graduation of Dr. Smith's oldest son, Arthur, from Milo Academy.

"The survey shows that something happened that makes Coquille children different from, say, Bandon children or the average child living in a community having a fluoride-deficient water supply," he declared. (Five Coos county communities add fluorides to their drinking supply - Coos Bay, North Bend, Charleston, Empire, and Coquille.) Dr. Witter made these statements: - Compared to children in fluoride-deficient areas, Coquille's children have less tooth decay, have more of their total dental problems cared for. - An average of three teeth have been saved so far at the 16-year-old level. - By the time six-year-olds are 16, they will show about a 50 per cent decline in decayed, missing, and filled teeth.

- Fluoridation apparently helps adults, too. - No harmful effects have been observed from proper fluoridation. A Coquille dentist in the audience said he has observed a marked decline in tooth decay since introduction of fluorides in Coquille. The city engineer said the cost of fluoridation was about eight cents per capita a year, lower than most cities.

Mitchell Raps Hoffa's Threat

Los Angeles (UPI)-Secretary of Labor James T. Mitchell said Wednesday that teamster President James R. Hoffa's threat of a nationwide strike "is one of the most arrogant and brazen statements I've ever heard."

Mitchell commented at a press conference on Hoffa's threat to combat a union anti-trust proposal with the strike.

"In effect, Hoffa is threatening the Congress of the United States - that if Congress doesn't do what he wants he will call a nationwide strike," Mitchell said.

"I think George Meany's approach is the correct one," Mitchell said. "Mr. Meany says that if Congress passes legislation which the AFL-CIO does not agree with, then the AFL-CIO will try through legal means to correct the legislation.

Hoffa's method is the method of a revolutionary."
